USINESS continues as dull as previously noted,

TEAS .- Greens have had some enquiry, but holders are indisposed to meet the views of buyers, and in some cases have withdrawn their lots from market, looking for a higher range of prices. Japans have received fair attention, but no lots of any consequence have been placed. Other grades are quiet, but unchanged.

COPPER -Nothing doing

SUGARS .- Raw Sugars have been very quiet, and in the absence of transactions, quotations are to some extent nominal Bolders, however, are not auxious to press sales, except at current rates. Refined sugars are unchanged, and are also in light request.

Molasses.- Several lots of really good have been offering, but transactions so far have been small. Holders are somewhat firmer in their views, expecting to realize somewhat better figures during the coming month Syrups are without change, and have not much demand.

FISH.-Herrings have received only fair attention during the past week, sales having been small. Holders, however, do not evince any intention of reducing their figures, anticipating higher figures after the commencement of the Lenten scason. Really good Codfish is scarce, and held in lew hands for full figures.

FRUIT-Of all kinds have bad only a very limited enquiry, and quotations remain as before.

HIOE-Has been very little asked for, and quotations are nominal. Pockets, however, are scarce, and in good demand.

SPICES-Are unnitered, with very little doing.

MONTREAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Akın & Kirkpatrick. 1 rawford, Januse. Dawes Brothers & Co.

Hobson, Thomas, & Co. Mitchell, Robb. Raphael, Thomas W.

LOUR.—Notwithstanding heavy receipts for the season, holders have been firm and former rates are maintained. The amount of business, however, has been very restricted, there being no speculative enquiry, and the consumptive demand as hitherte en a limited scale. Transactions in the higher grades have been of a jurely retail character. Strong Supers have ranged from $5 to $5.05 with exceptional sales of the more favourable brands at $5.10, ordinary ranging down to $4.871, at which one or more parcels have been recently placed. No. 2 is in full supply with an irregular demand at $4.40 to $4.50. Fine still commands $4.20 to $4.25 Lower grades are practically nominal. No change to note in Bags both supply and demand are moderate and former rates rule.

OATMEAL. -Practically nothing doing, nominal at $6 to $6.10.

WHEAT.-The little arriving is mostly on millers account, a few cars Upper Canada Spring sold in the course of the week at $1.17, buyers now unwilling to exceed $1.16. In other descriptions nothing doing.

PEASE.—There have been only a few cars recently offered, and the local demand having fallen off, they have been placed with shippers at about 90c. per 60 lbs.

BARLEY.-Some small parcels have changed hands at $1.20 and upwards, according to quality.

OATS .- None but trifling sales reported, nominal value 45c. to 47c.

Conn.-New is freely offered in car loads at 80c, but only taken to a very limited extent.

Pork.-Small sales of Mess continue to be made at about $27-the business done is however of the most trifling character.

Hogs.-But few offering, and to supply market wants very extreme rates are given. We quote $9 25 to $9.75 for medium to choice.

LARD.-No arrivals of consequence, and stock being in first hands, holders are firm at 16c to 164c.

BUTTER.-Arrivals have been unusually heavy for the season, and though holders continue firm, little beyond supplies for City retail changes hands. Large shipments have gone forward to Liverpool, where from late advices, the stock appears to be very heavy for the advanced stage of the season, and as holders will naturally be interested in quitting their stocks before coming in competition with new, much forcing will probably be necessary, with large concessions from late extreme rates.

ASUES .- Pots continue in fair demand, first commanding $5.55 to $5.60, and seconds about $4.70. Pearls are depressed, latest sales have been at $5.40 to 85.45.

EMIGBATION.

E M I G B A T I O N.

We are glad to see from the English papers that the grant attention is being paid in England to the subject of emigration to Canada. A fow persons of position and influence have be un to interest themselves in the matter, and arrangements are making for the stipment of a large number of people in the approaching the process and arrangements are making for the stipment of a large number of people in the approaching to mandratice to both countries. The population of treat Brita n is becoming too crowded; in "and award our land. While, therefore, efforts are being made in the former country to promote a system of emigration, the Government and people of the latter must give overy reasonable oncouragement for the realization of the projected object. If a suitable policy be adoleted in reference to our mineral, and other lands there is little doubt they will seen be taken up by the people who will make them fortile and profitable; and just in proportion as the people of Great Britain find they can without difficuty obtain suitable locations and romunerative employment in Canada, they will feen an except the covening, as an argument against renowing a reciprocy in the first of the stream of the covening, as an argument against renowing a reciprocy in the first of the stream of the covening, as an argument against renowing a reciprocy treaty with Canada, that emigrants were stall to rush through our towns and villages, and seek their home in the Western States in preference to remaining here. The statement is not strictly true. A large number of emigrants have settled down in Canada durin the last year; a large number will in all probability find a home amongst us during this year; and with the oncouragement given by Government there is little doubt that the number will gradually increa o. We hope, however, the peop o who make up their minds to work hard when they are been. The only canditions of success in this, and, indeed, in every other country, and the connerty will be not difficult when the WE are glad to see from the English papers that great attention is being paid in England to the
