Wm. Johnston, Esq., M. P. for Belfast, the Orange Champion ; Nemo me impune lacessit.
Ballykilbeg and No Surrender.
Robt. Maxwell, and the Protestant Workingmen's Defence Association.

David Robinson, and the Men of Sandy Row.

Chas. H. Ward, the Protestant Cock.

Erin Go Bragh ; British Connection, Liberty, Truth and Right.

Very many houses were illuminated also in honor of the occasion, notably, the British American Hot-tel, Ashton's, Gerald's, Griffin's, Smyth's, Robb's, &c., the residences of Dr. Yates and Rev. Mr.
Rogers and stores of Messrs. R.
White and G. Brown. As the procession passed Mr. A. Summerville's, Princess street, a fire balloon was sent up, and was speeded on its journey to the clouds with a voluntary cheer. When the procession halted at the City Hall a great rush was made for entrance, and soon the hall was filled to its utmost capacity. On the platform were seated, in addition to the gentlemen named, as movers and seconders, Mr. Ald. William Robinson, County Master, Major W. P.
Phillips, Mr. Thos. Makins, County
Director of Ceremonies, Messrs.
Ald Livingston, Isaac Simpson, G.
Campbell, of Storrington, and Dr.
O. Yates.

Mr. William Robinson was voted to the chair, and stated the pride he felt at taking part in this great meeting, to do honor to one of the greatest champions of Protestantism. This meeting was the first of the kind, but he trusted not the last one. He bore testimony to the loyalty of the Orangemen of Canada, but spoke regretfully of some of the leaders and representatives in Parliament. He, however, made a pleasing contrast between the happy state of Canada and the discontent in Ireland. The meeting demonstrated fully the hearty feeling of the Kingston Orangemen.

Mr. James Johnson, in moving the first resolution, spoke at considerable length. He spoke as a Belfast Orangeman, and was rejoiced to see such a hearty feeling in Canada. He related the incidents connected with Mr. William Johnston's trial and imprisonment, and the prosecution of his election canvass. The election of Mr.
Johnston he considered one of the most important successess of the Protestant cause and an emphatic condemnation of the Party Procession Act. He had known Mr.
Johnston in public and private, and knew him to be steadfast to his Orange principles. Before concluding he bore testimony to the gratification which the news of the stand taken by the Kingston Orangemen in 1860 caused in Belfast, and he felt that the news of this demonstration would also be gratefully received at home.

John Flanigan, Esq., Past Grand Master of Central Canada, seconded the resolution, and felt that it expressed the sentiment of every good Protestant. He expressed regret we had not more men like
