COULD ONE DOLLAR

be better spent for your little ones than in treating them to a copy of Mrs. Traill's delightful

GOT AND CRADLE STORIES

As a preface the venerable author writes: "One summer eve as I sat dozing in the warm sunshine on the veranda, at Minnewawa, I dreamed that a wee bird came and whi-pered, 'The children love to listen to your stories about birds and bees and flowers and squirrels, but you are very old, and your voice will cease to be heard among the little ones.' Then I dreamed that I said, 'Wee birdie, I will write the stories down and make a book that the far-away children may read it and learn to know and love their Heavenly Father and the wild creatures that he cares for so wisely and so well.'"
