PROROGATION.

The Bishop then congratulated the Members of the Synod on the termination of their labours. Outside of the precincts of this Synod, it had been prophesied that discussions would likely take place which would leave an unfavorable impression on the minds of Members of the Church generally. He was happy to find that those and sadder forebodings had not been realized; and that, although certain discussions had taken place which had called forth a good deal of earnestness in speech, nevertheless, no unfavourable impression had been left on the minds of any of them, and some good as well might arise from those discussions. He thanked them for the patience with which they had discharged their several duties, and expressed great satisfaction at the results of the same.

The Minutes of the Synod were then read and adopted, and the Synod closed with the Benediction pronounced by his Lordship.

A. J. BROUGHALL, M.A.

Honorary Clerical Secretary.

J. GEORGE HODGINS, LL.D.

Honorary Lay Secretary.
