CANADIAN MONTHLY

AND NATIONAL REVIEW.

A feeling has long provailed that the intellectual life of the Canadian nation ought to have some or-gan in the form of a good periodical. Attempts have been made to give it such an organ, but hith-orto they have not been successful.

In some measures they may have been proma-ture, but it is believed that their failure has been madely due to the want of a sulficiently strong and well-organized staff of writers, and of a fund suffi-cient to guarantee to contributors the fair remu-neration, without which, as multiplied experience proves, a periodical cannot be successfully carried on.

These requisites have now been effectually secured.

cured.

The literary aid and materials requisite for the support of a first-class magazine will be sought, without restriction, from all quarters—Canadian, Firttish, and Foreign. But it is intended that the Magazine shall have a specially Canadian character, such as, it is hoped, will entite Canadian patrictism in its support.

Politics will be treated with the aim of infusing as much as possible of the historical and philosophical spirit into the popular discussion of political questions.

Ideligious questions, if they form the subject of any papers, will be treated with a similar aim.

Mr. Gordwin Smith has consented both to contribute regularly, and to assist in conducting the magazine.

Intending subscribers will please send us their names.

However parties may honeoforth rise or fail, is as clear that the fundamental principles which have hitherto honorably distinguished the Republicans are honeoforth to be regarded as practically accepted by the whole country. The right of overy man to his own limbs and sinewate equality of all citizons before the law—the inability of a State to enslave any pertion of its people—the duty of the Union to guarantes to every citizen the full enjoyment of his liberty until he forfeits it by crime—such are the brand and first foundations of our national edifice; and paisied be the fand which shall seek to displace them!
