

Requesters

The following summary description of requesters does not necessarily describe the persons to whom the released documents are destined. The identity of the latter must be inferred from information provided with the access to information request. The breakdown is as follows:

Media	196
Academic	8
Business (including professional requesters)	59
Organizations (including Members of Parliament)	107
Public	126

Requests from members of the media increased by 87% and from the public by 26%, whereas those from businesses dropped by close to 50% and those from organizations (including Members of Parliament) and academics remained static.
