

Mr. Manly: Mr. Speaker, I informed the Chairman of the Standing Committee a week ago that I intended to raise this at some point in the near future.

Mr. Lewis: Mr. Speaker, if that is my hon. colleague's definition of "near future" and "notice", it may come back to haunt him some day. We will utilize that definition. I had thought better of my hon. colleague. He purports to be interested in the plight of the poor and underdeveloped nations, yet has the audacity to raise this issue for debate without any notice to anyone else in the House that he would raise it on this particular day. If my hon. colleague wants an informed debate, why does he not inform people about the debate? It is a mockery of the work of that committee and my hon. colleague's friends from all Parties on that committee and the efforts they put into that report that he does not have the honour and courtesy to notify them that he is prepared to bring it forward for debate today. If my hon. colleague wants to enter into debate, he should give notice.

Under those circumstances, Mr. Speaker, I move, seconded by my hon. colleague, the Minister of Public Works (Mr. McInnes):

That the House do now proceed to orders of the day.

Mr. Heap: Mr. Speaker, on a point of order.

Mr. Lewis: There is a motion on the floor, my friend.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: I will hear the Hon. Member in a second on the point of order.

Is it the pleasure of the House to adopt the motion?

Some Hon. Members: Agreed.

Some Hon. Members: No.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: All those in favour of the motion will please say yea.

Some Hon. Members: Yea.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: All those opposed will please say nay.

Some Hon. Members: Nay.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: In my opinion the yeas have it.

And more than five Members having risen:

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Call in the Members.

The House divided on the motion (Mr. Lewis) which was agreed to on the following division:
