

illusions. Modern spiritualism and similar beliefs. Contention of Robert Dale Owen. Mr. Langs' rejoinders. The theory of J. N. Yung-Stilling, as to visions, etc. Brief summary of Stilling's Pneumatology. The views of Thompson Jay Hudson. The duality of the mind. The subjective mind and its wonderful powers. The objective mind, a function of the brain. The subjective mind, an entity. Governed by suggestions and incapable of inductive reasoning. Mental therapeutics. Spectral illusions. Communication of Dr. Dewar, of Stirling. A vision and an explanation. Remarkable spiritual experience of Duncan Cameron. A wonderful coincidence related by Rev. Wm. Kettlewell. The story of an apparition, by Wm. Jay Groo, ex-judge of New York city. A personal experience, by the same author. A remarkable account of an apparition from the journal of the Rev. John Wesley. The apparition of a person still living. A young lady who can cause a semblance of herself to appear in one room while she is bound in another. A vision of distant objects. An apparition preceding the death of the Duke of Buckingham. A remarkable vision in Montreal. A Greek vision of the world. Visions of St. Theresa, Luther, Zwinglius, Swedenborg, and others. Dr. Buckley's inductions. An apparition attested by two witnesses, reported by J. M. Savage.

CHAPTER VIII.

PRESENTIMENTS AND PREMONITIONS.

Presentiments and premonitions very common experiences. The secret origin of these mental impressions. Unconscious cerebration. Telepathy and clairvoyance. "The interpretation of automatism," by Professor William R. Newbold. A child's presentiment of approaching death. Daniel McTavish while in good health foretells his early decease. An analysis of typical presentiments, by Dr. J. M. Buckley. Presentiments concerning the hour of death. The dissipated Lord Lyttleton. Presentiments on the eve of battle. Soldiers and sailors proverbially superstitious. The possibilities of chance in fulfilling presentiments. Case of Joseph C. Baldwin. Presentiments sometimes fulfilled but generally unfulfilled. Clairvoyant before death—an interesting incident by the Rev. J. W. Garland. Saved by a presentiment. Dr. Moliere's story.

CHAPTER IX.

MIND READING.

Mind reading and telepathy. The Society for Psychical Research. Mind reading and muscle reading. The nature of the experiments undertaken. The methods adopted by the Society. Actions performed without contact with the person willing. The celebrated Creery family and their power of guessing. Some singularly successful experiments with one of the children. Professor Balfour Stewart's experiments. Thoughts and impressions made in minds far apart without means of communication. Conclusions of the committee. Mr. Blackburn's experiments. Drawings by the committee and descriptions of them by the subject. Original drawings and reproductions. Experiments by Edmund Gurney, M.A., late fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; F. W. H. Myers, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; F. Podmore, M.A.; and Professor Barrett. The original drawings and the reproductions. The discernment of spirits. A thief caught in his own snare. An erring minister restored. Supernatural guidance. Principal Austin's experience with a mind reader.

CHAPTER X.

HYPNOTISM.

Definitions and explanations. Historical retrospect. Reality of the phenomena now admitted. Special interest taken in the subject by the scientific world. Disgraceful exhibitions of professional mesmerizers. Dangers arising from the indiscriminate exercise of the hypnotic power. Legislation

he'd in
...ans
the subject
remedial laying on hypnotising
as an edu
Dangers of

Two
His proph
heap of c Eddy, and Christian S
Anatomy,
importance
worse":
clairvoyanc
Apparent s

Intro
Religio Ph
conscious wonderful
The somn
Clairvoyan
demon of
"Not now
value of th
them?"

Phen
explored.
"He is n
visitor on
Nelson F
Claudius
the Zulus
excluded hundred reported