

he but have lived up to his privileges, but alas he acted like a servant and not a son. And his wayward brother who had come home sick of sin and the world, was enjoying more of the father's fellowship and riches in a few minutes than his elder brother had enjoyed all his life.

I have seen this history repeated. Many drunkards and hardened sinners have turned from their evil ways, have come to Jesus with contrition, compassion and full purpose of heart, and in a few weeks have been enjoying more of the power and
