

found him punctual, painstaking, willing and accurate. All my questions were promptly and satisfactorily answered. His manner was genial, and as far as I am aware, those who studied under him were well satisfied.

FROM MR. E. F. DUNN.

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 27th, 1883.

My son James was a pupil with Rev. Mr. Brenton for five terms, in the years 1878, 1879 and 1880. He was seventeen years of age, and had attended the best public and private schools in this city. While with Mr. Brenton, he made progress most satisfactory to me. He always spoke of Mr. Brenton as being most interested in his advancement. The hours of study were strictly observed, good discipline was the rule, and James spoke of all the boys manifesting a warm interest in their studies, due to the clear and interesting manner in which they were presented. Mrs. Brenton also evidently exerted herself to make the pupils' stay at Falmouth pleasant and home-like.

SEPTEMBER 19th, 1885.

MY DEAR MOTHER:—I like the school very much and I am very happy. I am not at all homesick. We have lots of games. I am learning reading, spelling, writing, grammar, and geography. I am in the lower department. Mr. Brenton examines our classes every fortnight, on Saturday morning. I cannot tell you yet whether I am learning fast as I have been here so short a time. I must say we have good meals here, better than I have had at any school before.

Most affectionately,

JAMES M. PALMER.
