Axminster and Oriental Rugs in the January Sale

In Colorings and Designs Appropriate as Business Environment

"Called on the Carpet!" The significance of the expression probably supplies the best estimate of the importance of the said floor covering in the matter of office furnishing. The respect with which the same carpet is regarded should be justified by a dignity of patterning, a superiority of substance, and a forcefulness of good coloring. The rug in the business man's office demands careful choosing.

Selection may be made with profit, practical and artistic, by taking advantage of the present sale of Rugs on the Third Floor. In the display will be found Carpets admirably adapted to office use. The Afghan Rug, in old mahogany color, with tracing of b lue and black, is peculiarly well fitted for this purpose. Prices for the same

From your standpoint as prospective purchaser, the Carpet Sale has its special advantages. First, the stocks are unusually full, and the assortment large in every grade; there are more figures and color arrangements than ordinarily are found in sale stocks. This is true of everything from Tapestries and Linoleums to Axminsters and Oriental Rugs. Your taste will be satisfied.

Second, we have made really surprising prices everywhere, sweeping reductions on regular stock goods, extremely good special prices on sale stocks. Third, we have planned everything for your convenience and comfort in choosing and viewing the wonderful display of both rugs and carpets; more space is provided the salesman, and help in the sewing-room are recruited in full force and already hard at work. Make your visit early, as some of the stocks are short, and you will get best choice now.

Axminster and Wilton Carpets, are taken from regular stocks, giving a selection that is exceptionally good. There are green ground oriental, tan Persians for hall and stair, self green, fawn chintz, self green centre with chintz border and self browns with band border, almost all have border to match. Some have stairs also. They offer a splendid January Sale price, per yard 1.18

Want the Bright Lights.
On the suggestion of Ald. McBride, no concrete pillars will be erected on Palmerston-boulevard or St. George-treet until legislation has been secured that will permit of the new street lighting system being carried on as a local improvement. The property owners on these and other thorofares are very arrious to have cluster lights invery anxious to have cluster lights installed rather than lanterns and are willing to pay a portion of the expense. In the meantime the city engineer will prepare a report on the whole scheme, showing the comparative cost of the two systems. The "cluster" poles cost $32 and the concrete poles about $3.

Large interim Appropriations.

The city engineer was voted $50,200 towards the maintenance of the water-Works department and $87,800 for the Works department as an approximate sum to carry them on for the three months' interim until the estimates have been appropriated.

Property Commissioner Harris was granted $113,750 as the approximate cost of running the street cleaning department for the same period.

A bylaw was recommended aiming at the reduction of the crown on all classes of roadways.

The city engineer was instructed to confer with the Robert Simpson Company with the idea of securing the privilege of the public to use the James street extension, across which the company has erected gates.

The several notices of motion were referred to the proper officials for report or sent on to the council.

The street commissioner was asked to consider the advisability of gathering garbage, ashes and cleaning the classes of roadways.
