Good Sale of Horses At the Repository

The Repository held a big sale yesterday, which was largely attended. There were many special features. W. D. Beardmore sold out his stable, which included a fine pair—Derby King and Derby Prince. All his broughams, victorias, etc., were disposed of. Messrs. J. & T. Lloyd Jones of Burford sold a consignment of Welsh and Hackney bred ponies. Mr. Thomas McNerney of the Stanley Livery sold out his complete stable of horses and conveyances. A few extra fine standard breds were offered and sold. Malda, a b.m. by Royal Rhysdick was disposed of. One of the Repository shippers sent down a load of good carriage and saddle horses and they were all sold. The Repository management had a very busy day of it. Auctioneer Chas. A. Burns opened the sale and handled it in splendid style. Auctioneers Watson and Brothers also deserve creditable mention, as they worked hard and their efforts bore good fruit. John Shepard, Barrie, got a blk.g. for $2.50; H. S. Conn, Ottawa, bought a fart load; J. L. Cowan, Galt, got a blk. m.; C. Kehor, Ryckman's Corners, bought a ch.m. for $150; W. J. Gilks, Allandale, got a byk.m. for $15; A. White, Oakville, got a g.m.; G. A. Schleuter, Preston, bought a br.m. for $70; J. McBride, Lansing, purchased a bm., for $125; H. Munns, Georgetown, bought a b.g. for $67.50; E. R. Tate, Lakefield, Ont., got a b.m. for $172.50; Geo. Catherwood, Uxbridge, bought a br.m.; A. C. Bender, Berlin, bought 3 horses; F. W. Brown, Winona, got a b.m. for $60; W. Atherton, Elinton, got a b.m. for $142.50; D. N. Glass, Richmond Hill, got a blk.m. for $220; F. R. Haynes purchased a br.m. for $115; Robert Newell, liveryman, purchased 3 horses; A. Northern Navigation Lake Vessels Fitted With Wireless. All Steamers Will Carry the Marconi Apparatus This Season.

Advice has been received by the Grand Trunk Railway, that all steamers of the Northern Navigation Co., which is their connecting line between Sarnia and Port Arthur, are being equipped with the Marconi wireless. The entire installation is of the most approved and up-to-date pattern, and when complete the Northern Navigation Co.'s fleet of vessels will be as well equipped in this respect as any of the modern ocean liners.

R. DAVIES WINS TWO AT PIMLICO

Plate Glass Lands the Handicap and First Sight the Two-year-old Race—Lexington Results.

BALTIMORE, May 7.—It was mudlarks' day more decidedly than ever, and there was considerable scratching of early entries. As usual, whenever R. Davies has an entry in the two-year-old division, a large following immediately put down their money, as was exemplified when First Sight came to the post and won after a grueling drive. Plate Glass, a recent acquisition, also won for Mr. Davies. Summary:

THAT FOOT PAIN Broken down arch causes cramps and pains in the foot, heel and ankle. Sufferers imagine Gout and Rheumatism when the arch of the foot is to blame. This arch is composed of jointed bones. When they get out of place the bones chafe in their sockets, causing intense pains so often mistaken for Gout and Rheumatism. Scholl's "Foot-Easers" give instant relief. You can walk all day without cramp or pain. Calluses, corns and bunions soon disappear. Scholl's "Foot-Easers" make walking a pleasure instead of a torture. Sold by all druggists and shoe dealers. Try them today. The Scholl Mfg. Co., Ltd. 472 King Street, W., Toronto.

FAST TIME BY KING'S PLATER

R. Davies' Gold Bud Covers the Distance at Woodbine in 2.16 2-5—Best Trial Performance of the Year.

A correspondent writes to me personally and wants to know why I don't say this and that about the Ontario Jockey Club, and why I had something hard to say about the Dufferin track and "spare"—that's the way he puts it—the Woodbine. When there has been anything that could be substantiated about the Woodbine, I have not hesitated to say so, if it has come to my knowledge. On the other hand, while the O. J. C. has been successful, it appears to me that it has been so, if not unselfishly, at least by legitimate means. There are a lot of foolish notions that the only sportsmen are to be found among the leisure class of England—that the Duke of Portland, the late Duke of Westminster, the late Duke of Devonshire, Lord Rosebery, the Earl of Derby, and the remainder of the aristocracy of England, have no eye to the main chance. While the late King Edward was by no means an extra successful racehorse-owner, even if he did win three Derbies and a Grand National, it is worthy of note that he only advanced one thousand pounds to Lord Marcus Beresford to manage his stable, and never had to put up another cent. It is also a matter of fact that the Duke of Portland has cleared thirty thousand pounds in one year from his stud over all expenses. It is also a fact that, while Edmond Blanc gave $185,500 for Flying Fox, in a few years, from the fees and offspring of that famous horse, he had far more than cleared his investment.

Why did these things happen? Management. And it is management that has placed the O. J. C. where it is. No one can deny that the club has stood boldly in the forefront against all the warfare that has been waged in Canada against racing. So far it has upheld the people's liberties, and, if racing in this country stands on any plane at all, it is the O. J. C. that has placed it there. Why, then, should I or anybody else, in mere wantonness, break a lance with or run a tilt against the club? It is, possibly, not all that could be desired, but at least it has proved better than the rest. If my correspondent has specific charges to make or specific improvements to suggest, nothing will please me better than to ventilate them; but in malice aforethought it is not my proposition to use these columns.

At the Woodbine Yesterday

Altho the track at Woodbine yesterday morning was heavy, Robt. Davies' King's Plater, Gold Bud, traveled the entire distance, 1¼ miles, in 2.16 2-5, not only the best time made yet, but the best performance in the circumstances. The mile was a wee bit slower than that of Heresy and his emaculated companion on Sunday, but the mare accomplished all that was asked of her in commanding style. She had a score of pounds to carry more than she will have in the plate, and, as weight goes for anything, and the timing was correct, then she stamped herself as a mare of exceptional class. But readers must not by any means run away with the idea, because I say this, that the race is all over but the shouting. In a few days some candidate or other will, according to the clockers, be rounding the track and the extra quarter in under 2.12.

Next to Gold Bud's delivery was the work of the aged plater, Phyllis, who made the circuit in 2.46 1-5, and looked like going on. She must not be overlooked, even if she is of an age that in the average racehorse is regarded as sere and yellow. Eclipse never started until he was five years old, and spent the remainder of his racing career in making a holy show of all his rivals. So might it be with Phyllis, but it won't. Other of the horses in town for the race were excised, but none of them did anything worthy of special note, or anything that was more than reporting progress.
