CRUELTY CASES OF LAST YEAR

As to the ill-treatment of horses, the small boy teamsters are the cause of almost all of the cases referred to in the tabulated statement. They deal with owing the horses, and they deal with the fact that often their acts are noticed quite a distance away, too far to attract their attention. They do not know where there is no name or number on the wagon or sled, it is hard to get their attention. If they are not caught when they are informed, would compel owners of such vehicles to be numbered, and would help the owners of the horses. Speaking on this matter, the following was said: "It could be forced upon some grocers and butchers in some way an easier way than on the teamsters. It is a new contrivance. Surely it is a sacrifice to an unreasonable practice which keeps the horses from doing their best work on the last day of the week and makes them suffer for a long time on some hard hours at night. You can often hear late Saturday night or early Sunday morning the sound of horses going along at a high speed. Too often these drivers are thoughtless and irresponsible and do not care for the welfare of the horses. The care of tired animals in the middle of the night is a very hard thing to have to have your work finished, and helped by the temptation of empty pockets. But it is not right."

It Becomes Beautifully Soft, Wavy
Abundant and Glossy
At Once

Save Your Hair! All Dandruff
Goes and Hair Stops
Coming Out

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable ble softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides being a-lyfing the hair, ondanderine. Danderine drives every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunlight are to vegetation. It is a tonic to the hair, invigorates and strengthens them. Its excelling, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long strong and beautiful.

If you have a pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

It will keep your hair looking so charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for influenza, the La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet" Clinic, Dr. James Bell of New York City writes: "he is convinced that the most important factor in the treatment of influenza is the administration is both unnecessary and injurious."

When called to a case of influenza, the physician is usually seen too late to do much, except, perhaps, to soothe the patient. In the present, as the chill which occasionally washes in the disease, has practically passed, the patient is usually seen too late to do much, except, perhaps, to soothe the patient.

orels be opened freely with salts, or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain in the joints, and other symptoms, a tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for colds, influenza, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs.

if they were the most careful of men their Saturday hours could be shortened with advantage to themselves and their horse and with no disadvantage to the community. I have enlarged on this subject in the hope of inducing in some way bringing before the public a remedy for what might be called an act of cruelty to the horse. I have seen many boys and merchants who are kept at their work so late Saturday nights, and I have seen many who would not only take this matter into consideration and make it a point to order their Saturday supplies early in the day, but who have been so much less cruelly misused. Ladies please think this matter over seriously and see if you cannot do something to relieve the poor horse of such suffering.

A few years ago we had printed on the post office a notice to the effect as follows:—"To the Lady of the House—Please order all your supplies for the day early in the morning, for it is hard and fast driving that kills me. I know you have not thought of this before, but you should be more considerate."

Appealingly Horse,
Another source of trouble that we have had to deal with is that of the class of horses used in collecting the mails from the boxes throughout the city. Some of the horses have complaints have come from all parts of the city as to how the poor horses (especially at night) were treated in this matter we have reported the facts to the postmaster here, written the postmaster general at Ottawa and have submitted the matter to the government. I am sure but cannot say that all our desires have been accomplished. In the letter to the postmaster general we strongly urged that the horses should be or should be used, as I feel that the work is too much for the horses owing to the distance they have to go, and that some allowance should be made for the time that the present contract expires at the end of this year and do hope that when a new contract is made that the horses will have an easier and more pleasant work.

The tabulated statement will show a large number of cases of over-driving which has come to my notice or been reported to me. Some of the cases have been brought to court through the prompt action of County Police Officers Saunders, who, when he finds reasonable grounds for believing that a driver is over-driving the offenders has not hesitated effect he at once places, and has caused the arrest and locks them up for the night, and they are in the morning brought before Magistrate Adams of Brookville, or Magistrate Conlon of Fairview, and in every case taken before these gentlemen we have secured the conviction of the parties accused have been called upon to pay a fine and costs, and all the way from $2.00 to $60.00. Our best thanks are due to Officer Saunders for the good work he is doing to suppress this dangerous habit of over-driving. A poor horse which has been carried on too much at nights on the Loch Lomond road.

Report come to us from different places in the province of acts of cruelty and oppression as far as they are investigated. The distance or loss of time, and the difficulty in getting persons to appear as witnesses make the work hard and expensive, and is not at all fruitful. No doubt the existing law has had some good effect, but the work ought not to be left to us here to do. Lovers of animals, haters of cruelty in the larger settlements of the province should take up the work, for themselves, their very existence depends on it, and they will not often seek the courts, would be beneficial.

Speaking generally of our work it may be said to be fairly good, and if we do not solve all the difficult problems which confront us we manage to do something to improve the condition of the animals given us by the ladies and gentlemen who do much work for us for the pure love of doing good.

In conclusion, I wish to thank all who in any way assisted me in my work as the chief of police and his officers. I have always found ever ready and willing to render me all the assistance they can, and in many instances have reported cases to me, and in case they could not reach me have acted for me for which I wish to express my best thanks.

To our president, W. Walker Frink and our solicitor, J. King Kelly, K.C., I wish especially to express my very best advice which they have so freely given me in my work.

Mr. Frink is ever on the alert for acts of cruelty in his travels around the city and has dealt with many cases coming under his notice.

Mr. Kelly is always ready and willing with his valuable legal advice when called upon and in almost all the cases taken to court he has been there with me to conduct our cases and which often takes very much of his time.

Respectfully submitted,

Secretary and agent.

Frederick Branch.

In making my third annual report of the business of the Frederick Branch of your society, I find that the year has not been a very successful one. For many years we have had another successful year; that interest in our work has been well maintained; that the membership has increased for various reasons, more especially on account of the many demands resulting from the war; that the financial support of our financial standing continues satisfactory; that the work of the branch is efficient and to start the new year with a substantial balance.

But we have been active in pushing the aims of the society, and still its organization there is a noticeable absence of activity to aid in the work of the society. I have pushed against offenders, especially the owners of bad and decrepit horses,
