UNVEILING IN ST. LUKE'S CHURCH TOMORROW. Features of particular interest in connection with the Easter morning service in St. Luke's church tomorrow are the unveiling of a brass memorial tablet and the dedication of a brass alms basin. Both are for deceased church wardens. The tablet is the gift of the family of the late W. H. Smith who died on Good Friday, 1900. It is placed in the north aisle in the vestry bay and is of fine workmanship. The alms dish is the gift of George A. Hayward, son of the late Henry Hayward. He speaks very highly of the west, but says that the people down this way should get out and boom their country, as the people in the west hear little or nothing about it. Mr. Johnston is a strong believer in reciprocity and thinks that the agreement will result very favorably for Canada. He will spend a few days in Halifax and will likely be here for a few days when returning. He was formerly mayor of Halifax.

SHOULD DO MORE BOOMING HERE. J. A. Johnston, formerly of Halifax, but now of Calgary, passed through the city today on his way to his old home for a short visit. Mr. Johnston is the western manager for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, with headquarters in Calgary. He speaks very highly of the west, but says that the people down this way should get out and boom their country, as the people in the west hear little or nothing about it. Mr. Johnston is a strong believer in reciprocity and thinks that the agreement will result very favorably for Canada. He will spend a few days in Halifax and will likely be here for a few days when returning. He was formerly mayor of Halifax.

FORMER RESIDENT URGES COMMISSION. Rev. R. G. Fulton, formerly of this city, passed through the city yesterday on his way from Woodstock, going east. He said he had been watching the progress of the movement for commission government in St. John with a great deal of interest, and he hoped it would carry at the elections to be held on Tuesday next. He said he still felt a strong interest in the welfare of his native city and he thought that St. John had been too long in a suit and that the citizens should vote for a more progressive and businesslike administration.

POLICE COURT TODAY. Joseph Dixon was this morning remanded in the police court after having pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, but not guilty to one of interfering with the police by attempting to draw a knife on Policeman Hamm. The latter and Policeman Smith were taking him to the north end lock-up when, it is said, he drew a jack-knife from his pocket and tried to stab the officer. Joseph McArthur was remanded on drunkenness charge, and John Donnelly on charge of wandering about Union street without giving a satisfactory account of himself. Joseph Fleming was ordered back to the steamer Lake Erie, from which he had absented himself without leave.

C. P. R. WILL START WORK IN FEW DAYS

Here Are the Plans of the Railway Company for Newly Acquired Property in the North End—A 25 Foot Roadway

Within a few days workmen will commence tearing down the old buildings in Mill street to make room for the new terminals to be erected by the C. P. R. and the appearance of that section of the city will undergo a marked change. The plans of the railway company provide for the erection of large warehouses and the laying of a number of freight tracks and the improvements should place the railway company in a much better position for handling their business here. One of the first things to be taken up in connection with the work will be the filling in of a large portion of the property and for this there will be required about 100,000 yards of material. The building along the eastern side of Mill street will be removed and a new roadway built, twenty-five feet wide, running parallel with the present street. One building situated at about the centre of the block, may not be taken down this year as the lease does not expire until next year, and the two buildings on the corner of Main and Mill street will not be interfered with, as they have not been purchased by the company. Room for 130 Cars. The plans show that there will be room for 130 cars on the new sidings. A warehouse, 40 by 400 feet, will be built now, and will probably be extended 110 feet in length next year. It is found that the business requires it. This warehouse will be principally for handling inward freight and possibly an outward freight shed will be erected later if required. There will be eight delivery tracks for cart freight and two tracks running to the freight shed. These tracks will run to within twenty-five feet of Mill street. There will also be a track running to the cold storage building from the westward, in place of the I. C. R. track, which will be removed. The mill on the Liberty property will be removed, but little change will be noticeable in Main street. It is expected to have all the work completed within four or five months, as it will be rushed as quickly as possible. The tracks will be between Mill street and the ends of the tracks will be a roadway for teams going to and from the cars and there will be a slight incline leading from the Mill street end to the roadways between the tracks so that teams will be on a proper level for handling freight easily. While the majority of the buildings will not be vacated until May 1, the company will probably commence the work of filling in before that time, but it is likely that a large number of men will be employed there very soon.
