CONSTABLE IS IN DOG CASE IN COURT

Robert Crawford's Animal Said to Have Bitten Little Boy—Defends Matter.

"I'm not much in favor of a theory that a dog should be allowed his first bite," was Magistrate Henderson's pungent comment during the hearing of a case in court this morning against Robert Crawford, provincial constable, charged with allowing a ferocious, un-muzzled dog to run at large.

The officers of the North End surveying party, led by Constable Crawford, were charged with allowing the dog to run at large. The dog bit a five-year-old boy, Wilson, in Paradise row last Friday. The magistrate's remark came after Crawford had given two juveniles and Police Constable McBride.

Police Constable McBride, who made the report, was the target for Mr. Crawford's criticism as he testified. PROPOSED IN COMMITTEE AT FREDERICTON

Finally Hon. Dr. Foster, after stating that he did not wish to oppose any industry which would be beneficial to the province, suggested that the bill should make specific declaration as to the height of the dam. He further argued that the bill should provide for the safe passage of the salmon should be provided at the new dam as those at the Plaster Rock dam and that the plans of the new dam should be open to investigation by the representatives of the various fish and game protective associations as well as the engineers of the two governments.

Mr. L. Dougherty, representing the Fraser companies, said that the Fraser would agree to all these suggestions.

To Private Hearing Premier Veniot, who despite his arduous duties, finds time to attend the more important committee meetings, told the committee this morning that the Hartland Fish and Game Protective Association had made a protest against the bill. The Premier questioned Mr. Bruce and incidentally pointed out that some streams during low water, logs often blocked the passage of salmon. He said that in streams where the flow of water had been regulated by dams salmon often found it easier to make their ascent to the spawning grounds.

The bill was referred to private hearing. The committee had been in session almost two hours.
