

MARCH hath 31 Days.

1830

Ah, if for me thou dost forsake
 Some other maid, and rudely break
 Her worshipp'd image from its base
 To give to me the ruin'd place ;—
 Then, fare thee well—I'd rather make
 My bowen upon some icy lake
 When thawing suns begin to shine,
 Than trust to love so false as thine.

Prejudice.—As the pretty fish, which is fabled to possess the property of arresting the progress of the largest vessel to which it clings, even so may a single prejudice, unnoticed or displeased, more than the adverse blast, or the dead calm, delay the bark of Knowledge in the vast seas of time.

A new and valuable styptic, which will stop bleeding even of the largest blood vessels.—Take of brandy or common spirit, 2 ounces, Castile soap, 2 drachms, pearlsh, 1 drachm—scrape the soap fine, and dissolve it in brandy, then add the pearlsh—mix it well together, and keep it close in a phial ; when you apply it let it be warmed, and dip pledges of lint in it, and the blood will immediately congeal.

Taxing Bachelors.—The Senate of Ohio have passed a resolution to tax old Bachelors, for the support of schools. The maxim used to be, that "those who dance must pay the fiddler" but the Solons and Lycurguses of Ohio have reversed the maxim, and ordained that those who will not dance shall pay the fiddler ! It is exceedingly marvellous, that those who are enjoying the extreme felicity of wedlock should employ so many and such inveterate modes of persecuting that peaceable, patient, good-natured race of men called old bachelors.
