from a tree and were killed on the spot. It was not, however, till the breaking up of the spectacle, about half past ten o'clock, that the main catastrophe ensued. The crowd, anxious to disperse, rushed to the gates. At first the exit was easy and regular, but soon as the mass from behind pressed impatiently on, the jam became terrific—alarm seized upon the crowd—men, women, and children uttering frightful cries, were trampled under foot—and for more than a quarter of an hour, especially at the gate of the Military School, this horrible scene was continued, and the crowd finally got out only by passing over the bodies of the dead and wounded.

Twenty four persons, twelve men and twelve women were killed on the spot; two women were carried to their homes and expired almost immediately, and there are more than one hundred and fifty wounded of whom forty were very seriously. It is feared that in addition to this list, others at the lower end of the enclosure and in passing out at the bridge of Jena, may have been precipitated into the Seine, as there had been many inquiries for persons missing, who are neither among the wounded nor the dead.

The worst part, as to the character, remains yet to be told. We translate literally:

"In the midst of this scene of desolation there were men who seemed to take a ferocious delight in augmenting the tumult; they snatched the jewels and ornaments from the women, tore off their clothes, and perpetrated the grossest insults upon them. Women were seen lying on the earth bleeding and senseless, upon whom these wretches were still wreaking their enormities."

THE STAR

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1837.

The Northern Circuit Court was opened in this town on Monday last, by the Hon. Judge LILLY.

Died

Yesterday, ANN, wife of ALFRED MAYNE, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, leaving a disconsolate husband and ten children to lament her irreparable loss. Few women are removed from the stage of life more universally regretted. Her charity was extended to all. Her name will be long cherished with sincere affection by the numerous circle who knew and esteemed her worth. Her funeral will take place on Friday next, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the friends and acquaintances of the family are requested to attend.
