Numerous Bills Pass Through the Final Stages and Others Advanced.

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY.

Wednesday, Jan. 16. The speaker took the chair at two o'clock. Prayers by Ven. Archdeacon Scriven.

Mr. Hume moved that the evidence taken before Mr. Justice Crease as commissioner under the royal commission on charges preferred against Captain N. Fitzstubs be laid before the house.

The motion was adopted. Mr. Sword moved for a return of any correspondence between the treasury department and the Canadian Pacific railway company in regard to their assessment under the act of 1894; also any correspondence on the same subject with any local assessors or others.

Motion agreed to. Hon. Col. Baker introduced a bill to amend the graveyard act and amending acts. Read a first time.

Hon. Col. Baker introduced a bill to authorize the granting of a license to prospect for gold over certain lands in Cariboo district, with a contingent lease for a portion of the said land. Read a first time.

The Burrard Inlet Railway and Ferry act was on motion of Mr. Cotton read a second time.

Mr. Rogers moved the second reading of the Victoria Hydraulic Mining company's bill, the object of which is to consolidate a number of claims in Cariboo. Read a second time.

The house went into committee. Mr. Adams in the chair, on the North Vancouver Electric company's bill. Reported complete without amendments and finally passed.

The house went into committee on the Columbia & Kootenay Railway & Navigation company's bill. Reported complete without amendments.

Mr. Cotton moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Vancouver city charter. The first amendment proposed to have the term of the charter for one year instead of two years. Other clauses dealt with assessment, the assessment roll, court of revision and equalization and questions of collection of taxes and the sale of property for taxes.

There was one entirely new clause which provides for salary for aldermen not to exceed $400. Various other amendments were proposed in the bill.

Mr. Hunter thought this kind of legislation should be stopped. If it did not they would have in contemplation of which it would be hard to extricate themselves. There should be one municipal bill to apply to all the cities of the province.

The debate was adjourned, the speaker wishing to correct some irregularities in connection with the introduction of the bill.

Later in the afternoon the bill was read a second time.

The house went into committee on the Nanaimo water works company's bill. Mr. Forster moved his amendment, which declares that the privileges granted by the bill shall be subject to the rights of the crown.

Various amendments to the amendment were proposed, and after setting badly tangled up the house passed an amendment practically the same as Mr. Forster's.

The bill was reported complete with amendments. Mr. Kelle asked for a further adjournment of the debate on the Red Mountain railway bill. The promoters of the bill had created the impression before the railway committee that the road could not be built along Trail creek. He expected information from the district which will show that the road can be so built.

Mr. Hume moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Eberts objected to the adjournment. All the information in the world would not make the company change the route of the road. The opponents of the bill wanted the company to build a road running at right angles to the route they had chosen.

The debate was adjourned. Mr. Kennedy moved the second reading of the New Westminster City amendment bill, the most prominent amendment being one doing away with the ward system.

The speaker said there was the same objection to this bill as there was to the Vancouver bill, the required notices of the amendments not being given. The rules required that the notice should be advertised for six weeks. This had not been done, it only having been advertised for five days. He would not rule.

The social evil matter will very likely force itself to the fore shortly. A woman who owns a house recently ordered that she live at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church announces that she is going to reopen the place herself and that she has secured a tenant for another place she owns. The police say that it is forbidden ground and announce that there will be trouble if the plan is carried out. Paul Jones, the globe-trotting newspaper man, who arrived here yesterday on the Empress of Japan, left last night for the Sound and will spend a few days in Seattle. The name is an assumed one, and the bearer of it is a graduate from Harvard with the class of '89, and a member of a prominent Massachusetts family. The task that he has undertaken is one that fakirs and admirers of the "cheap sensation" usually attempt, and it will seem strange that a man of the ability of Mr. Jones should be found trying. He does not at all mind being looked upon as a curio or freak, and readily tells his story. He religiously refused to take a cigar with a gentleman because the contract says he shall not accept anything for which he does not make some return.

The mail service between Victoria and the Sound can be improved. This is the opinion of many merchants in the city. There is no fault to find with the service of the City of Kingston, but since she does not run every day of the week Victoria incoming mail is necessarily detained longer than it need be in Seattle and Tacoma. The City of Kingston runs over in Tacoma on Mondays, and does not leave till Tuesday morning at 8, arriving in Victoria at about four in the afternoon. Mail for Victoria from Sound points, posted Sunday morning, does not reach here till Tuesday night, and it is not delivered till the following (Wednesday) morning. On this off day of the Kingston, the Roselle leaves Sound points at 11:30 at night and reaches Victoria at 7 on Tuesday morning. This delayed mail could then be delivered in all parts of the city early Tuesday morning. A movement is being made to get the postal authorities to give Victoria the benefit of this additional mail service.

In a letter to Chief of Police Sheppard Sergeant Forbes, who came here after Frederick Bollman, says: "I arrived in Sydney all right with Bollman, and he was confined on the 12th inst. in company with Day, to 15 months in jail, hard labor, for conspiracy to defraud, the charges of stealing against them being withdrawn. By the looks of things the firm was about ruined. Although I do not think that $2000 would cover their loss of money and goods. Bollman was very low spirited some days on the voyage. The night before he left Sydney he got married to a girl 17 years old, a sister of the prisoner Day. No doubt there is where a great deal of the money went. When at Honolulu I brought the bookkeeper of the hotel on board the Arava and asked him in the presence of Bollman, Detective Larsen and Sergeant Patterson what amount of money Bollman deposited in the safe. The bookkeeper replied that it was about $157. He drew some while there and on the day of his departure for Victoria drew $125. The bookkeeper said that it was about $197 and not $157 as he stated to me on the first occasion and as he reported to the San Francisco police."

A LIGHT SENTENCE.

Frederick Bollman and His Accomplice Given 18 Months Apiece.

At the Metropolitan quarter sessions, before His Honor District Court Judge Fitzharding and a jury, the trial of Charles Arthur Day and Frederick Bollman was continued yesterday, the indictment charging them with having on the first of July combined, conspired, confederated and agreed together to cheat and defraud Otto Hennicks and Walter De Haas, says the Sydney Herald of December 13th. Mr. Merewether appeared for the crown; Mr. R. D. Meagher appeared for Day, and Mr. Teece, instructed by Messrs. Crick and Meagher, appeared for Bollman.

Mr. Meagher, in addressing the jury, said that his client, Day, was in total ignorance of the felonious intentions of Bollman, and his transactions were of a perfectly bona fide nature.

His honor having summed up the jury retired and brought in a verdict of guilty, recommending the prisoners to mercy on account of their previous good character. His honor passed sentence of 18 months' hard labor on both the prisoners.

ALASKAN JUSTICE.

Unfortunate Prisoner Lies in Jail for 13 Months Awaiting Trial.

Last week we called attention to the injustice of keeping people in prison so long without giving them a hearing, says the Sitka Alaskan. We intended to say "the man has been kept in prison 13 months," but the types made it three months; and so many people have called attention to the error that we republish the fact that for 13 months a man has been and still is in prison waiting to be tried by the district court. For more than a year no funds were on hand to pay the expenses of a court session and of course none could be held. This state of affairs is nothing less than criminal negligence on the part of the government. To get the real facts in the case we went to the commissioner's court, and when we alluded to the matter, asking Judge Rogers if he thought this was right, with all the emphasis he could command he exclaimed: "No, sir, this is infamous!" Turning to his records he found that on November 1st, 1893, Edward Evans was before the court charged by John Haalan, under section 554 of the Oregon code, of "robbery of the person." He was found guilty and held to answer, being admitted to bail in the sum of $800.

On the examination the evidence disclosed that Evans had an accomplice in the robbery, H. G. Prescott, who was arrested on Nov. 7 on the same charge, and at his trial on Nov. 10, pleaded guilty and was held to answer to the district court in the sum of $300 bail. Being unable to secure that bail he was committed to jail where he still remains, although over thirteen months have elapsed since his commitment. Evans is out of the territory but the unfortunate Prescott still suffers. It is no wonder, therefore, that we voice the sentiments of the people when in the name of justice we call upon the government in the preceding article to "Do Something."
