JAMES T. SHERMAN.

It is apparent that James T. Sherman has decided not to die, but will continue in the running as Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency. Public opinion as expressed in the American press appears to be that it was tion, but the New York delegation. The Vice-Presidency was thrown to available among their own clique. In line with this the New York Sun observes that Sherman's nomination is chiefly important as pointing out to Mr. Taft the supreme Evidently Democratic and Independent journals do not look upon Mr. Sherman as a political wonder, nor indeed does he find favor with all of the Republican press. The Sun, continuing, explains that Mr. Sherman has long and profitably been connected with those elements of indecency and corruption which have brought the party in New York state to its present deplorable condition. Mr. Sherman, according to the Post, is the man who went to B. H. Harriman to solicit money for the Republican campaign for few years of the Dopartment of the Post, is the man who went to B. H. MONTREAL, June 26—In fifteen feet of water and not twenty feet from the shore, two youths were this evening drowned opposite Maissonneuve. The victims were Albert Trudeau, of 928 st. Catherines street, and Paul Drolet of 58 Letourneau avenue, both seventeen years old. With a third youth they had been playing in an old boat, which suddenly upset. Trudeau lost life trying to save Drolet, who could not swim. The third youth reached shore in safety.
