DEATHS

THOMAS B. HOLANDER.

The death occurred last week of Thomas B. Holander, one of the oldest residents of the province at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John C. West, Bridge. The deceased had attained the advanced age of ninety years and was well and familiarly known. He came to this country about fifty years ago and took up farming. He had occupied the position of Pine Ridge for twenty-five years. Much regret will be felt in various sections of the province at the old gentleman's death. He leaves five children, twenty-four grandchildren and nineteen great-grandchildren to mourn their loss.

JAMES L. ROBINSON.

Miss Mary E. Robinson, of Union street, has received word of the sudden death of her brother, James L. Robinson, in Roxbury, Mass., on May 21. Mr. Robinson was at one time quite prominent here, and in the sixties he was councillor for Kings ward. He was a son of the late James Robinson, of the firm of J. and T. Robinson, who were in the West Indian trade here. He was in the feed business in this city, but moved to the States more than twenty-five years ago. He is survived by his sister, Miss Mary E., and one brother, who also lives in Union street, and a wife, two sons and two daughters in Roxbury. Mr. Robinson was about seventy-five years old.

FIRE ON SCHOONER

CAUSED BY RATS

JAMESTOWN, R. I., May 27.—Rats gnawing matches probably caused the fire which burned the after part of the schooner Aetna and damaged part of her cargo yesterday. This is the huller of Captain Chipman, of the Aetna, and is apparently borne out by several circumstances.

When the cargo of lumber was being stowed at Georgetown, S. C., one of the hands dropped a dozen matches in the aft part of the schooner. The fire started in this place. When the Jamestown firemen threw a hawser to the schooner yesterday, five rodents quickly crawled over the rope to shore. It is known that a number of rats invaded the schooner while she was lying at anchor at Georgetown. The Aetna today was resting easily on the bottom near the West Ferry here. She is not leaking. The after part is badly damaged and it is feared that a portion of the cargo of cypress logs may be unmarketable. The tug Solitor, which yesterday aided in controlling the fire, is to pump the Aetna out tomorrow. Following this the owners will come here and decide upon repairs.

A MORE PRACTICAL VERSION.
"I hear that you are to retire and live at your ease in the country?"
"Quite the contrary; I'm going to start a chicken farm."

CHURCH AND CASINO.

Sunday as it is kept on the Continent is very hard to recognize as the one day of rest in seven. It is a festival and people spend it in going from one place to another in search of amusement. In the large cities like Paris it is a day set apart for important horse-races and football matches. In fact, for all kinds of sport. All the shops and theatres are kept open throughout the day, and the streets are thronged from early morning till late at night with pleasure-seekers, and this is true of every city in France.

La Rochelle, the famous old seaport of Poitou, observes, though quite a small place, the typical Continental Sunday. The first people to be on the streets were the peasants from the surrounding country, who drove in with their produce for the market. By eight o'clock the streets were bustling and animated; buying and selling was going on busily both in the open air market and in the shops. Everywhere seemed to be in high spirits and on good terms with everybody else, and there was much joking and laughter as goods exchanged owners. About noon, when the day was at its hottest, everyone went indoors to rest and get the mid-day meal, and the streets were almost deserted. Early in the afternoon the first people to be on the promenade and the "place" seeking amusement. Bands played on the "Mall," a promenade by the sea, and in the Casino gardens.

The Casino is a large, low white building, made of wood, finished on the outside with stucco, and it is surrounded by a beautiful garden. The Casino stands on a cliff overlooking the sea, and the splash of the waves comes to the crowded rooms through the main windows with a refreshing sound, while cool breezes from the sea relieve the oppressive atmosphere of the place. Facing the sea is a long room with a good-sized stage at one end; and the side of the room opposite the stage opens on a large veranda. This room is used for concerts and plays; and it runs the whole length of the building. Coming out of this room one enters a hall, at the end of which is the main door of the Casino. Several doors open off this hall. The ticket office is a small room at the end of the hall. The right leads into a huge ball-room where a dance is held every Sunday evening at nine o'clock.

The Casino admits to this dance, which is generally very crowded. The ladies wear their hats and street dresses, and the men their ordinary Sunday clothes with gorgeous ties and waistcoats. On Monday evenings a "ball aux enfants" is always held here. On the other side of the hall are refreshment and cloak-rooms, and most important of all, a large room where all day long the grounds and buildings are crowded with all sorts and conditions of people. Beautifully dressed French women chattering gaily with their devoted escorts; anxious-looking men who spend the whole time in the gaming-rooms; energetic matrons dragging plain, dull daughters in their

ATTEMPT TO WRECK EXPRESS TRAIN NEAR EDMUNSTON

Sheriffs and Sleuths Scour Borderland for Two N. B. Men.

VAN BUREN, Me., May 27.—Sheriffs and detectives on both sides of the Maine-New Brunswick border are searching tonight for two alleged desperadoes who escaped today from the county jail in Edmundston, N. B., where they were being held for attempted trainwrecking and dynamiting. It is believed that the two men are in the neighborhood of Fort Kent, Maine, tonight. The men are Ubaldo Michas and Paul Michas, brothers of Baker Lake, N. B.

According to New Brunswick officers, the two men are charged with attempting to dynamite the station at Clair on the Temiscouata railroad, opposite Fort Kent, and with attempting to wreck the night express from Edmundston at that point. Traced by detectives and lodged in jail, they managed to make their escape today. President Grundy of the Temiscouata railroad, who was here late today to consult the counsel for the prisoners, Peter O. Keenan, relative to the issuance of extradition papers, said he believed the fugitives would be captured before morning.

HARTLAND, N. B., May 26.—For at least a week there has been a good deal of damage in the vicinity. Burns have been caused in some localities and houses have been in serious danger. The cause is wood and timber reserves.

THE MAKING OF A FAN

Never in her puff-and-powder, attar-of-roses existence had she seen a base ball contest. She had an idea that they played the game in the tops of painted Indians and that usually it ended in flight, if not in a revolution. Therefore she amused herself with bridge and pink teas and coquetry, allowing her ardent admirer Mr. "Patsy" O'Donnell, to twist, magically-curved, swishing balls at the rate of 10,000 a year, with no one to look on save bankers, clubmen, street sweepers and the twenty thousand or so other gods and goddesses of the grand stand and bleachers.

It was not that she didn't like Mr. O'Donnell. But his occupation—well, she hardly regarded it as the thing to slide on your face and wallow in the dust with men whose only ability was to slap and grab at a dirty ball. So that she wouldn't say "Yes" to "Patsy" O'Donnell, though the big pitcher pleaded.

It happened, however, that the paramount race that season was the closest on record. Thus it was that on the day of the final game she reluctantly consented, in company with J. Percival Drane, clipped out in her motor car to Sheridan park.

When she took her seat behind the wire netting she was surprised to note the evident respectability of the crowd. The crowd yelled "There's O'Donnell! There's O'Donnell!" and she felt a little thrill of progressive pride.

The blue-and-gray "Crescents" took the field and their fond hope, Mr. "Patsy" O'Donnell, wound around his ten thousand-dollar-arm and whizzed the sphere at the tenacious batsman.

Three innings the game went. O'Donnell of the "Crescents" was in winning form; his side had won two runs. It looked bad for the "Crescents." And then something happened. "Patsy" O'Donnell, coming from the box looked into the grand stand and saw Miss Doris Ramsey hanging greedily upon the words of J. Percival Drane. She was in reality asking enthusiastic questions about the achievements of the now notorious O'Donnell, but that the great pitcher could not know. Therefore, in the fourth inning, sick at heart, he let down, and the alert "Crescents" slammed the ball against the dollar-watch at the edge of the big enclosure, scoring four runs in the fifth and sixth they continued; and then the tone of the fickle crowd changed.

"Take him out! O'Donnell's blown up!" the faithful bawled; and Miss Ramsey inquired of J. Percival Drane what it meant.

"O'Donnell's given down," explained Drane.

"Oh, dear!" murmured Miss Ramsey. Then she studied a bit.

"Take him out! Take the Charley horse out!" roared the crowd.

"Oh, dear me!" repeated Doris Ramsey. Then she wrote rapidly:

"Dear Patsy: Brace up and win. I'm a fan now—I believe that's what they call it. After you've won the game come around and we'll reconsider that little matrimonial deal."

It was the most extraordinary thing. In the seventh, eighth and ninth, just nine men struck twenty-seven times at the elusive curves of "Patsy" O'Donnell, ten thousand-dollar beauty and accepted lover.

The juniors of the Y. M. C. A. have completed arrangements for the holding of a series of outings during the summer months. The opening outing will take place on Saturday, when the boys will go to the Sandy Point road. Games will be played and supper served on the green. An enjoyable time is anticipated.
