

EPISCOPALIAN CONCLAVE.

One of the Most Important Gatherings Of the Church Ever Held—Representatives From Four Continents Will Be In Attendance.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—What is considered by the leading bishops and lay deputies as the most important convocation of Episcopalians ever held in this country will be formally opened in this city tomorrow afternoon, when the triennial general convention will assemble in Emmanuel church. Before the opening session a service will be held in Trinity church, at which the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury and prelates from four continents will be present. It is expected that nearly 100 bishops will be in the solemn procession which precedes the service. The preacher will be Rt. Rev. Wm. Crowell, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Albany, N. Y.

About two-thirds of the bishops and deputies had reached the city tonight, and many more are expected on the early morning trains. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the first occupant of the chair of St. Augustine to attend a convention of the Episcopal church in this country, arrived from New York on a special train which reached the city from New York at 2:50 this afternoon. Dr. Davidson was accompanied by Mrs. Davidson, J. Pierpont Morgan, who is a deputy from New York; Rev. Hyla Holden, and Rev. J. Ellison, vicar of Windsor, chaplain to the prime minister. Miss Morgan was also with the party.

The special train stopped at the Back Bay station, where the archbishop was greeted by Bishop William Lawrence of the Massachusetts diocese, and Richard H. Dana of Cambridge, chairman of the executive committee having in charge the general arrangements for the convention. The archbishop's party was driven to the Commonwealth avenue residence of the bishop, whose guest Dr. Davidson will be during his stay.

Tonight Amory Lawrence of this city tendered a banquet to the English primates at the Tullieres. Plates were laid for over forty persons. Bishop Lawrence and other leading churchmen of the diocese were among the guests.

At the business headquarters of the convention in Copple Hall today hundreds of visitors registered their names and were assigned quarters at hotels or private houses. During the afternoon the deputies from this diocese assembled in Emmanuel church, as provided for by the canon, and participated in the drawing of seats for all the delegates. It has not been definitely settled who will be elected chairman of the house of deputies.

A number of matters of the first importance are to be voted upon, including the question of changing the name of the church, that of altering the divorce canon to prevent the remarriage of any person whose partner is still living; a proposition to group the dioceses into provinces with a primate at the head of each proposed district; the question of adopting the English canon of electing bishops suffragan to assist in large dioceses and in dioceses where the negro problem is uppermost, and the general plan of meeting conditions in the insular possessions. Several new bishops are to be chosen by the convention.

Today Bishop Leighton Coleman of Delaware presided over a conference of diocesan Sunday school lessons committees in Grand Central hall, and at the Church of the Advent, Boston.

Right Rev. Reginald H. Miller, bishop coadjutor of Fond Du Lac, Wis., conducted a quiet day for the Brotherhood of the Way and the Cross, an organization of clergymen.

The Guild of St. Barnabas for nurses, a national body affiliated with the church, held a convention at St. Paul's parish house, Bishop Conant Whitehead of Pittsburgh, chaplain general of the order, presided.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and bishops from many parts of the world attended the opening session of the general triennial convention of the Episcopal church here today. The English primate was last in a long procession of dignitaries which passed up the broad aisle of Trinity church, where the opening service was held in the presence of an immense congregation. He recited one of the prayers in the office of Holy Communion and read the Gospel. The celebrant was the Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri, presiding bishop; the gospeller was Right Rev. James Carmichael, Bishop Coadjutor of Montreal, and the preacher, Bishop Doane of Albany, N. Y.

Bishop Doane welcomed the Archbishop of Canterbury, and then devoted a large part of his sermon to the divisions in Christendom.

Bishop Doane's address referred to the barriers which separated the Anglican church—a church both Catholic and Protestant—from the other denominations, and considered how the barriers might be eliminated in some degree. He thought an attempt should be made to find the starting point of disagreement, and thus to be in a position to reach a better understanding with the Church of Rome and the various Protestant bodies. Bishop Doane added that the recognition of papal supremacy was impossible, but thought that the church might readily recognize the primacy of the Bishop of Rome on account of the antiquity of the Roman See.

His sermon was a plea for the broadening of the church's sphere.

of Washington, D. C., was selected chairman over Rev. Charles H. Hutchins of Concord, the candidate of most of the High Churchmen present.

Bishop Wm. Lawrence of Massachusetts was chosen chairman of the house of bishops by unanimous vote.

The business session of the house of bishops in the chapel of Emmanuel church, and that of the house of deputies in the church itself, were called to order at 3:30 o'clock. In the house of deputies Rev. Charles L. Hutchins of Concord, Mass., for 21 years its secretary, called the deputies to order.

Several candidates for chairman were nominated, including Rev. Dr. Hutchins and Rev. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, D. C., and the house of bishops supported Mr. McKim, and he was elected on the second ballot by a vote of 201 to 160. Rev. Dr. Hutchins was the candidate of the high churchmen. He was re-elected secretary, but decided that after such a long service in that office he would decline.

Rev. Dr. Henry Ansley of Philadelphia, assistant secretary since 1877, was then elected to the position, with Rev. Edgar Worthington of Cleveland, Ohio, Carroll M. David of Missouri, William C. Prout of Albany and Rev. J. G. Glass of Alabama assistant secretaries. Tomorrow the Archbishop of Canterbury will be received and a greeting will be forwarded to the international peace congress.

In the house of bishops, Bishop Wm. Lawrence of Massachusetts, was elected chairman, whose duty it is to aid the presiding bishop, Dr. Tuttle of Missouri. Rev. Dr. Samuel Hart of Middletown, Conn., was re-elected secretary, and Rev. Geo. F. Nelson of New York, the big lumberman, was elected to the position of assistant secretary.

The bishops of Albany and Massachusetts presented the Archbishop of Canterbury to the other bishops. The English primate briefly addressed the house, announcing that he would give his message to the church when he addressed the house of deputies tomorrow.

The following message was received by the house of bishops from the English church congress:

"The Liverpool church congress sends brotherly greetings to the Episcopal Church in America."

Right Rev. I. L. Nicholson, bishop of Milwaukee, has returned to this city for the purpose of officiating at the funeral of Postmaster General Payne at All Saints Cathedral on Sunday.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 4.—It was a great disappointment to the conservatives when the word was received that Messrs. Clarke and Casgrain found it necessary to cancel their meeting here this evening. The meeting had been advertised all over the country, and while every pains was taken to notify those outside of the cancellation of the meeting, it was impossible that all could be reached.

The active workers of the party are preparing for the contest, and all work is being systematized. The general expectation is that Mr. Hale will accept the nomination which was certainly tendered him. At present he is on his way home from British Columbia, where he went for the purpose of accompanying home his wife and family. He is expected in Woodstock on Friday. A convention of the party is called for Monday afternoon, when a candidate will be chosen. In the meantime it is taken for granted that Mr. Hale will accept. Conventions have been opened in the office formerly occupied by Stephen B. Appleby on Queen street. Reports from all parts of the country are favorable.

POLITICAL NEWS FROM ALL QUARTERS.

Conservatives Making Splendid Showing in All Constituencies—Many Candidates in Montreal—Some Lively Rows.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—It is raining candidates in the St. Lawrence division of Montreal. Candidates already in the field are: Campbell Lane, K. C. (conservative); R. Bickerdike, member (liberal); G. W. Papen (ind. lib.); E. Halley (ind.), and to these must now be added A. Blumenthal, who is going to run as labor candidate with, as he claims, the solid Jewish vote behind him. There is a large vote in this division. It is not likely all will go to the polls, but probably more than one will.

In St. Ann's ex-Mayor Cochran, who a liberal has expressed a willingness to run as an independent if assured of the conservative support. Cochran hates Gallery, the late member, bitterly, and would be much pleased to defeat him. He is a strong man.

In Richmond and Wolfe, Mr. O'Bready has been chosen by the conservatives.

In Two Mountains J. C. Ethier is again the liberal candidate.

KINGSTON, Oct. 4.—Hon. Wm. Hart has finally consented to be a liberal candidate in Kingston, but the situation is complicated from the liberal point of view by the determination of A. C. J. Graham to run as an independent liberal. Graham says he was knifed by the liberals when he was for the mayoralty, and intends showing that two can play at the same game.

BATISCAN, Oct. 4.—J. A. Rousseau has been chosen the liberal candidate in Champlain county.

QUEBEC, Oct. 4.—The conservatives are determined to make a better showing in Quebec district. Hon. L. P. Pelletier declares he can carry eight seats in Quebec district. He is certainly getting fine candidates in the field. In Charlevoix he has Rudolph Forget, a wealthy Montreal broker, who owns much property in the country, where he is a great favorite. W. E. Price, the big lumberman, will be a candidate in Rimouski. Price's lumber mills are in the county and he employs between two and three thousand men. In Quebec West the conservative candidate is Wm. MacPherson, president of Molson's Bank. A leading business man of the ancient capital. In Chateaugay another big lumberman, Col. Scott, is the candidate of the party. Other candidates as strong are to be nominated. There is a good deal of discussion among the liberals over the plentitude of candidates.

was received at the department of the local government on Saturday of the new ice breaker Montcalm, built for the lower St. Lawrence. The builders were Fleming and Ferguson, Paisley, Quebec. The boat will reach Quebec within a fortnight.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—A lively row has developed in local liberal circles over the selection of candidates for the house of commons. Speaker Belcourt will undoubtedly be named of the conservatives, and his friends of ex-Alderman Robert Stewart, who was Belcourt's running mate four years ago, were expecting to see him chosen again. The situation has been complicated, however, by the announcement tonight in the Free Press that the liberal candidate, Hon. E. H. Bronson has been chosen to run with Belcourt in place of Mr. Stewart, and that when the convention meets on Friday night it will be for the purpose of registering these two names.

Naturally Stewart's friends are furious over the occurrence. Stewart says he is in the fight to stay.

Hon. Peter White, veteran of one hundred fights, was in the city today. He says that work of organization in London Renfrew is being well advanced. It seems almost certain that on the night of Nov. 3rd Mr. White will be once more M. P. for the city.

A prominent liberal of Hull is authority for the statement that Charles Devlin, M. P. for Galway, will resign his seat if he has not already done so and be the nominee of the liberal convention in Wright county. It is stated Mr. Devlin has been offered a cabinet rank and is likely to become secretary of state in succession to Hon. R. W. French.

P. E. I. LIBERALS.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 4.—After months of waiting for the announcement of the general elections, it might be expected that the ministerial party at least would be thoroughly organized and ready for the fray. But at last the bugle-note has sounded, only to find the liberal party in Prince Edward Island wholly unprepared. Not for many years has there been a greater lack of organization, and mainly because of the policy of the ministry in delaying appointments. For instance, in Queens county the governorship was kept dangling for months. Mr. McKinnon, who was appointed in short order, was looked upon as the leader in the race, but it was well known that he had two or three dangerous rivals. While laboring under the uncertainty of the appointment it was folly for Mr. McKinnon or his friends to make any canvass for votes. It was equal folly for any new man to get his forces in motion in short order. The McKinnon's seat was concerned the whole political machinery was powerless to move until the governorship was settled.

But this was not the worst. Under the new redistribution, Charlottetown and Queens county sends two members to the commons. Horace Hazard, M. P., was expected to contest the riding in certain. His friends were working as best they could in his behalf. But to their chagrin Mr. Hazard quietly announced on Saturday last that he was retiring from political life. Little excitement was given except that his private business and his personal health necessitated the retirement.

And so, after much persistence on his part to enter politics, Mr. Hazard in session sat at Ottawa utterly certain that L. E. Frowe will be one of the candidates. It is also understood that a deal is likely to be made by which A. B. Warburton will resign the judgeship of Kings county and contest his old riding of the local government in conjunction with Mr. Frowe. Both are popular men. Besides Mr. Warburton's resignation would afford an opening of either of two lawyers who have been seeking political elevation. We refer to J. James Palmer and Stanislaus Blanchard. Thus the situation in Queens is extremely precarious and a close and exciting contest may be expected.

In Prince county only one member will be elected under the new bill. Edward Hackett, conservative M. P., will enter local politics. A. A. Lafuray, M. P., will be the conservative standard bearer, and Mr. Richards, for about 30 years a member of the local legislature, will wear the liberal colors. Mr. Richards is ably supported by Senator Yeo, the Prince county veteran in liberal politics. The Yeo-Richards combination, though still strong, has lost much of its former prestige. He has to meet one of the strongest young men to be certain on the opposition benches during last term. For liberals and conservatives admit Mr. Lafuray's ability.

Then as to Kings county. Here are two strong men arrayed one against the other. Mr. Hughes, the liberal M. P., defeated Mr. McDonald at the last election, but he has against him this time a man of greater strength in the person of John McLean of Souris. Both have been in the field for many months and both are untrammelled by their efforts. There is little dissension in the ranks of either party, and the result will be purely a matter of speculation and the field is well counted.

Viewing the political situation then without prejudice it may be concluded that the election of three if not four conservatives in this province is quite within the range of probability.

THE FARMER'S HORSE.

U.S. Secretary Wilson Claims Draft Horse Most Profitable to Farmer.

Secretary Wilson, of the United States Department of Agriculture, who is intensely alive to the interests of the farmer of his country, has recently had some things to say about the breeding of horses that applies with a good deal of force to conditions in this country. In his opinion the draft horse is about the most profitable horse that the farmer can breed. He says:

"The draft colt can be bred with less risk and liability to accident than those of the lighter classes. This is partially due to the fact that the draft-bred colt is usually a quieter animal than those of the lighter classes, and thus less liable to injure itself through spirited exercise or playfulness. Furthermore, small bunches and blemishes which detract so seriously from the value of the harness or the saddle horse are not considered to be so objectionable in the draft horse; and another consideration, his education can be completed on the farm; thus the farmer who breeds him can secure his real market value. In the case of the coach or the saddle horse, the middleman who educates him usually reaps a much greater profit than the man who placed him. This is not true of the draft horse."

"A draft horse without good feet is worthless on any market, hence good feet are the very first essential of a draft horse; or, in fact, any class of horse. The hoofs should be large, round and wide at the heel. They should have width, but not be deep or shallow. The horse should be of good quality, as indicated by its denseness. The wall must be strong and not inclined to be flat. The legs should be well set under the body and possess plenty of substance, as indicated by the quality and amount of bone and the development of the muscles on the forearms and gaskins. The body should be deep, wide and strongly coupled, indicated by shortness of back and the muscling of the loin. Good action is essential, as indicated by the length of stride, quickness of step and straight-away movements."

FOR ROUGH HAULING.

A Handy Substitute That Saves the Regular Wagon Box.

For handling manure, earth, stone, etc., a good farmer does not like to use the regular box of his farm wagon on, and he may for some kinds of rough and dirty work replace the box with rough boards laid loosely between the standards in the old way. This method has some disadvantages, however, as the bottom boards are apt to work out of place and the side boards to fall down at the least protection. An Ohio Farmer writer therefore suggests that it is best to go to a little more trouble and arrange the boards as illustrated in Fig. 1. This method has some disadvantages, however, as the bottom boards are apt to work out of place and the side boards to fall down at the least Another way to overcome the main disadvantages of loose boards on the bottom is to have a solid board and fold up when not in use. Or the hinges may be put on the outside, having back of hinges next to the boards. The side boards will then turn out instead of in when needed and will just turn in far enough to stand erect when on the wagon bed.

Farm Fish Culture.

Many persons have ponds or available streams that could be profitably utilized if the owners but knew how. One of the best ways to do this is to have a pond or stream that is an old saying that may justly claim a literal signification. In some parts of Europe ponds and lakes are renting at the best land price per equal area as the best land adjoining them. This is for the fish they are made to yield. Truly has one of America's greatest living scientists, Professor A. Forbes, state zoologist of Illinois, said in one of his recent reports. "In regard to fish culture we stand to-day at a point to be compared with the American Indian's knowledge of agriculture at the time of the discovery of America by Columbus." However, we can live up to the best light and knowledge we have and by so doing hope to obtain more.

Old Walls Kill Chickens.

Dr. Edward Moore of Albany, N. Y., member of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons of England and expert for The Country Gentleman, states that he is fully satisfied that many thousands of chickens die as the result of having taken into their crops whole oats or oats with the hull on. The fiber of the whole oats lacerates the crop of the fowl and the passage-way from the crop to the gizzard and causes inflammation from which the fowls die. The doctor states that he has seen a large number of dead chickens that were affected in this way and he is fully assured that whole oats are injurious to poultry. Now that we can buy hulled oats at about the same price as whole oats, the feeding value, considered, it will be much better to make use of the hulled oats.

MADAWASKA AND VICTORIA Liberal Conservatives Keen for the Fight.

People Indignant and Disgusted at the Way They Were Treated Last General Election.

ANDOVER, N. B., Oct. 4.—The liberal conservatives of the electoral district of Victoria, which includes the counties of Madawaska and Victoria, have called a nominating convention to meet at Grand Falls on Monday, the 10th instant. The conservatives here are keen for a fight. A strong candidate will doubtless be placed in the field, a good fight made, and their candidate will have a splendid chance of being elected on the 3rd prox.

Hon. John Costigan is likely to be the liberal candidate. He will probably place himself in the field, as there is great doubt as to whether or not he can secure nomination from a representative convention of that party. If any convention is held by the liberals it will be a machine made one.

The representations which Mr. Costigan made to his former conservative friends at the time of the last election to the effect that he was still a conservative at heart; that he had only left the party because he could not agree with Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Geo. B. Foster, and that he would again be with the conservatives when they had chosen a new leader, have been falsified by the parliamentary result of the last four years, with the result that many of those who were then disposed to accept his word and give him their support are now justly incensed at what they consider wilful deception on his part, and they are now found among his opponents.

On the other hand many of the staunchest liberals, the old guard, are utterly opposed to the opportunistic advent of Mr. Costigan. His advent brings to the party.

The "machine" is doubtless with Mr. Costigan; but the electors of this constituency have a fashion of thinking their own thoughts and polling their votes on the basis of more than one occasion upon the bare laid plans of the machine politicians. There is very strong evidence of a similar independence on the part of the electors of this constituency at the present time. Everybody was indignant and disgusted when at the last general election the electors of the constituency were deprived of their franchise by the deal which caused the retirement, after nomination of T. M. Richards. It is not forgotten that one of the emissaries who came here to consummate the deal declared that it was cheaper to buy the candidate than the constituency. An exchange of "The wasteful should feed the land" is an old saying that may justly claim a literal signification. In some parts of Europe ponds and lakes are renting at the best land price per equal area as the best land adjoining them. This is for the fish they are made to yield. Truly has one of America's greatest living scientists, Professor A. Forbes, state zoologist of Illinois, said in one of his recent reports.
