

MONCTON

Moncton, May 27.—Several affairs were given the last week in honor of Miss Grace Williams. On Thursday evening Miss Emma Price gave a variety show for Miss Williams. In the centre of the drawing room was a large old-fashioned well covered with green and surrounded by small spruce trees. The gifts were tied in yellow and white tissue paper and attached to yellow ribbons which hung over the sides of the well. There were about thirty guests including Miss Williams: Miss Grace Harris, Mrs. Herbert Burns, Vancouver; Mrs. F. R. Sumner, Miss Jennie Ripper, Miss E. A. Harris, Miss Winifred Gilman, Mrs. Charles Pawcett, Sackville; Miss Edith Pittfield, Miss Jones, Miss Frances Peters, Miss Agnes Peters, Mrs. J. M. Cooke, Miss Webster, Shediac. Tea was served during the evening, at which Miss Frances Taylor, Miss Beattie Williams and Miss Jennie Price served informally.

Mrs. L. C. Harris entertained on Saturday at 1:30 o'clock, at luncheon in honor of Miss Williams. The drawing room decorations were pink and white tulips, and small tables were set for fourteen guests. The place cards were hand painted in purple and blue. The table favors were given in the shape of white baskets with decorations of orange blossoms and bride's roses, filled with sweets. After the luncheon an hour was spent in playing Rummikub. The guests were: Miss Williams, Mrs. Herbert Burns, Vancouver; Miss Beattie Williams, Miss Hazel Taylor, Miss Frances Taylor, Miss Helen Harris, Mrs. Hopkirk, Miss Hallie Cowie, Mrs. F. R. Sumner, Miss Emma Price, Miss Grace Harris, Miss Jennie Ripper, Miss Gertrude Pittfield, Miss Dorothy Borden.

Miss Helen Harris was hostess at a delightful bridge party on Monday afternoon. The drawing room decorations were in lavender and pink. The table was covered with a white cloth and set with a white tablecloth. The guests were: Miss Williams, Mrs. Herbert Burns, Vancouver; Miss Beattie Williams, Miss Hazel Taylor, Miss Frances Taylor, Miss Helen Harris, Mrs. Hopkirk, Miss Hallie Cowie, Mrs. F. R. Sumner, Miss Emma Price, Miss Grace Harris, Miss Jennie Ripper, Miss Gertrude Pittfield, Miss Dorothy Borden.

Among those who attended the reception given on Saturday at the residence of King and Queen on the occasion of their visit to St. John nine years ago was Mrs. Geo. H. Pick, of Moncton, who wore a gown of black and velvet with point lace collar and cuffs and fur trimmings. Mrs. Pick was also honored by Her Royal Highness' acceptance of a venetian point lace handkerchief, which was made by the Moncton lady. Afterwards the design was destroyed, so that there is only one of its kind in the world. This handkerchief was presented to her Majesty Queen Victoria, who died before it was completed. Two years were required to make it, and the actual labor expended upon it would amount to four months, counting Sundays, and working ten hours daily.

The design is appropriate for a Canadian gift to Royalty, there being a maple leaf for every place captured by the Canadian Soldiers in South Africa during the Boer War. On the first corner is the emblem of Royalty, Crown and V. R.; on the second corner a lion rampant for Imperialism; on the third the Union Jack for Royalty; and on the fourth the beaver, a typifying Canadian industry, with a scroll in the beaver's mouth bearing the words "In Memoriam." The handkerchief contained 4,000 yards thread, Nos. 1500 and 1,000, and was valued at over $1,000. It was picked in a silver case, designed by Mrs. Pick and made by Mr. W. E. Boyness, of Moncton, so that the case as well as the handkerchief, was purely a Moncton production. The case was also in the design of a maple leaf, and as a memorial of the four New Brunswick boys killed at Paardeberg, their names were engraved on the inside of the case. Mrs. Pick is the wife of J. L. Colonel Pick, who retains his title, Col. Pick was a Captain in the Artillery at the time the late King Edward, as Prince of Wales, made his Canadian tour, and fired the Royal Salute at St. John, after which he marched 25 miles through the woods to Fredericton to fire a salute on the arrival of the royal party there.

Other Moncton people who met the present King and Queen at St. John were: Mrs. E. B. Chandler, wearing a handsome gown of white brocade with rows of velvet, chiffon ruffles, Mrs. George McSweeney, black satin, with ruffles of chiffon and deep lace collar, Mrs. C. W. Robinson black satin, with chiffon and pearl trimmings, Mrs. C. M. Murray, black silk with chiffon trimmings.

A large picnic concert party drove to Hillsboro, on the day of the 24th, for the purpose of giving a concert in the evening in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. The big Lady of the Lake took about thirty. Mr. Fulton McDougall took a party in his automobile, and there were several other private carriages and cars in the party making a party of over forty altogether.

In the afternoon the entire party visited the old wells of Albert county, arriving at Hillsboro for supper. The trip to the wells by the Y. M. C. A. boys, under the able direction of Messrs. Lloyd Wood and Parkison, Mr. Elias Casson gave violin selections and Miss Blanche O'Brien and Mr. Harry Gorbett solos. Miss Laura Wright acted as accompanist. Those, in addition to the above names who were of the party, were: Messrs. W. P. Case, Mr. O'Brien, William Bedford, Fraser McNairn, A. Bourque, Charles Henry, V. Barnst, Albert Wilnot, Henry Cameron, Carl Bars, Thomas F. A civic memorial service for the late King was held in the Episcopal church here on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The Assumption band playing the Dead March in Saul, marched to the church followed by the mayor and members of the Town Council. The church was neatly draped, and a choir formed of members of the Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian churches led the singing.

Rev. James McKenzie, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read the lessons and Rev. Gilbert Earle, of the Methodist church, delivered an excellent panegyric. At the close of the service the congregation sang the hymn "The King of Kings" while the organ played the Dead March in Saul.

At the evening service in the Methodist church on Sunday the pastor, Rev. G. Earle, made special reference to the loss sustained by the church through the death of the late King. Adam Tall, and spoke very feelingly of the keen interest which he displayed in all that pertained to its welfare, and of the liberal support he had given to its finances throughout his long life, during which time he was seldom absent from its services. The choir rendered appropriate music.

The pupils of the Central school gathered in the Assembly Hall on Monday afternoon and rendered a programme in keeping with Empire Day. SACKVILLE

Sackville, May 26.—The attendance at the Mount Allison closing exercises will probably be larger this year than ever before. The musical festival at Fawcett hall is bringing large numbers of people from Amherst, Moncton and St. John, for each of which places special sections in the hall have been reserved. Special railroad rates have been offered. So many will be coming from St. John that it was determined to get a special car to bring them up, but it was afterwards seen to be impossible inasmuch as they will be coming at different times. Among those to be here or are here already from the forestry city are: Miss Armstrong, visiting Mrs. A. E. Jubien; Misses Bullock, at Mrs. Frank Black's; Misses Lilian Anderson and Faith Hayward, Miss Wilson, Miss Ellen Smith and Mrs. Horace Black; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Scott, Miss Edith Scott, at Mrs. Josiah Woods.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church had their annual meeting a week ago Tuesday. The work of the last year was shown to be satisfactory and giving much encouragement for the following year.
