Awful Disclosures at Trial of Conspirators in Indianapolis

MET AND PLOTTED WHOLESALE MURDER

District Attorney Regales Jury With Pages from the Career of the Mc- Namaras and Ortie McManigal.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—Pages from the careers of the McNamaras and Ortie E. McManigal, as leaders of the firing squad of dynamiters with conversations in which they were said to have plotted to send McManigal to Panama, were read by District Attorney Charles W. Miller before the jury at the trial of the accused dynamiters today.

The incident in reference to Panama Mr. Miller said, occurred just before the arrest of the Los Angeles dynamiters, when they were becoming desperate in their efforts to secure explosives without betraying their identity.

John J. called James B. McNamara, his brother, and McManigal to the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, said Mr. Miller, "John J. said to McManigal, 'We can't get any more dynamite here without stealing it. Now you go to Panama and see what you can do down there. The McClintock-Marshall Construction Co. has a lot of dynamite stored down there, you could easily get hold of it and blow up the locks, make 'em quit and take notice and take their minds off the Los Angeles affair.' McManigal refused to go at that time. Soon after they all were arrested."

The contractor mentioned was one of those who had declared for the open shop in the U. S.

Another development was that toward Clark of Cincinnati, former president of the local iron workers union who changed his plea from not guilty to guilty, and was locked up pending sentence.

Among other events implicating the present defendants as charged by Mr. Miller before the jury were the following:

Albert Brown then business agent of a local union at Kansas City, Mo., James B. McNamara and a citizen whose name was not divulged, in August, 1910, had a conference about blowing up a $1,500,000 bridge being constructed by an employer of non-union labor across the Missouri River at Kansas City. Previously, McNamara and William J. McCain, also a business agent at Kansas City, had been working at headquarters in Indianapolis.

Jan. B. offered to employ the "citizens" in this matter, saying: "There's lots of money in it. We are going to Los Angeles and blow the whole town to atoms. We'll make money by us and if we ever get in trouble we have the best lawyers that money can buy."

The citizens did not go the best. On August 23 McManigal had three days in Kansas City, placed 12 quarts of nitro-glycerine, divided in three four-quart paint cans beneath the understructure of the bridge. The explosion did not occur until the next day and after McManigal had repacked the weak batteries on the bomb timers which were recovered by the government.

TURKEY AND BALKANS CONTINUE PREPARATIONS, BUT NO FIGHTING YET

Next Move on War Map Lies With Great Powers —Reported That Pope May Also Intervene— Tension is Slightly Relaxing.

London, Oct. 7.—Another day has passed without an outbreak of hostilities between Turkey and the Balkan States. But preparations for war continue on all sides.

The next move lies with the great powers, and it is reported that the pope also intends to intervene in favor of peace. Opinion in the Balkan capitals and Constantinople, however, is rather skeptical on the success of the powers in preventing war.

The Russian Foreign Minister Sergius Sazonov, on leaving Paris today remarked: "I am a little more hopeful than I was. I can hardly put more optimism into my words."

Spilling for Fight.

Paris, Oct. 7.—The tension in the Balkan situation, it is thought tonight at the foreign office and among diplomats, shows a slight slackening. It is a hard fact, however, that the danger from martial enthusiasm remains, and it is realized that the crisis will percolate as long as a million troops, spoiling for a fight, continue under arms. Over optimism, therefore, is discouraged, but it is pointed out that Russia and Austria when really united, can go far in the Balkan states. There appears to be solid ground for the belief that the governments of both Turkey and the Balkan coalition, though not necessarily their peoples, are still amenable to pressure from the European powers.

Bringing in Captive Steamers.

London, Oct. 7.—Lloyd's despatch from Constantinople says that the Greek steamer Arcton has been taken from the Dardanelles by the Turkish authorities. It is reported that all the others are following.

Bulgaria an Obstacle.

Official France has noted these signs of concession as hopeful. The government thinks that with some extension and an adequate guarantee that the powers themselves will take in hand the accomplishment, these reforms ought to satisfy even Bulgaria. It is believed that Serbia.

Pacific Telegrams.

Vienna, Oct. 7.—A Vienna newspaper announces that an exchange of telegrams has occurred between the emperors of Austria and Russia tendering to the maintenance of peace.

GAIL'S WILSON CITY MAY TAKE STEPS THE ENEMY OF TRADE UNIONS

Mayor Frink Suggests Plan to Relieve Scarcity and High Prices

Commissioners Favor Idea of Starting Municipal Coal Yard, but Took No Definite Action at Yesterday's Meeting -- Coal Dealers Say They Would Welcome Investigation of Trade Con- ditions.

The high prices of coal and the difficulty experienced by citizens in getting their orders filled, was discussed by the city council yesterday, and the commissioners expressed themselves in favor of the idea of starting a municipal coal yard, though they took no action in the matter. They also expressed the view that the coal business would bear investigation, as the shortage in the supply alleged to be due to the strike in the United States last spring should not be a sufficient reason for the high prices being asked for Scotch coal.

A "Burning" Question.

At the meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon the mayor said there was a "burning" question before the people of the city—that of getting coal. He did not know that the matter came within the province of the council, but, as chairman of the Appeals Committee the difficulties of the poor were brought to his attention in an acute manner, and he felt impelled to call attention to the conditions of the coal market. He was informed that people with plenty of money to pay for it, could not get coal. If that were so, what would be the plight of the poor people, who could not lay in a stock of coal, but had to buy it by the peck or bag. As chairman of the Appeals Committee he had to listen to some woeful tales. He knew some of those who came to the Appeals Committee, and he had to listen to some woeful tales. He knew some of those who came to the Appeals Committee, and he had to listen to some woeful tales.

PRINCE PIGNATELLI MUST WAIT ANOTHER DAY TO LEARN IF HE IS TO BE ADMITTED TO UNITED STATES.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Prince Pignatelli d'Aragon, son of the Spanish pretender, faced the prospect of waiting 24 hours longer to learn if he is to be admitted to the United States or deported as an undesirable alien. From the arrival of news from France concerning his alleged extradition from Paris and attempt to kill himself, the prince remained in the seclusion of his chambers at 2115th Street.

CANADA'S SPIRIT IS THE MAIN THING SAYS WALTER LONG

Amount Contributed to Defence is Not So Paramount an Issue as Dominion's Willing- ness to Help.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—Hon. Walter Long, Secretary for Ireland, addressed the Canadian Club here this afternoon on Home Rule for Ireland from an Imperial point of view. Mr. Long said the provincial legislatures of Canada did not offer a suitable prototype for the legislative division of the United Kingdom. He thought the Home Rule bill would prove a delusion to the Irish people, and that progress made in Ireland during the past twenty years was an argument against it.

On the question of a naval contribution by Canada, Mr. Long said that it was not so much a question of how much was given as the intention to assist in the defence of the Empire which counted.

BOSTON LEADS IN THE BETTING ODDS

New York Money However is Not So Plenti- ful.

New York, Oct. 7.—Like two armies on the eve of a battle the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox slept on their arms tonight dreaming of victory tomorrow. They are ready for, the big engagement that means for them fame and money. It will be the ninth meeting of the pennant-winning teams of the National and American baseball leagues under the present dual organization system, and the winner will break a tie that exists between the two leagues.

Giants Work Out.

The Giants had their final workout at the Polo grounds this afternoon, their opponents being the New York Americans, the tall ends of the 1912 American league race, who won the game 4 to 2. Russell Ford, star pitcher of the Americans, served up his puzzling benders to the National leaguers. The Giants did not put their full strength in the field, neither Matthews, Marquard nor Fearson going on the pitching mound. After the fourth inning few of the regulars were left, and the game was won by Herzog remained on the field.
