

The Late Lord Roberts' last inspection. "Little Bobs," as he was affectionately known, whose sudden death on the evening of November 14, came as a shock, is seen in this photo, which was made November 4, at Salisbury Plains, during his inspection of the Canadian troops there.

British convalescent camp in the north of France, where wounded soldiers are regaining health and strength before returning to the firing line.

German artillery becoming bogged in a flooded area in Belgium.

Fighting King of Belgium and French President Poincaré reviewing Allies at Furnes. In the rear seat of car the King is at left of the President.

An exciting incident in the town of Senlis, France. After being in occupation of Senlis for three days, burning the town and shooting the wounded, the Germans were suddenly surprised by a dash of French, who whirled into the town in taxicabs, and after a fierce fight drove out the enemy.

A German tank stuck in a muddy road. Broken glass is spread upon the road that the tires may be run over, and the components of the cars held up under the enemy's fire.