THE GATEWAY

DADDY DAVE CHIPS IN and buys a Campus Canada, the new National Campus Magazine published by NFCUS. magazine went on sale last week in the NFCUS office and is priced at 35 cents.

American Writer Not Sure Of Self Or Reader

by Beverley Gietz

unsure of himself. He is unsure of his work.'

Philosophical Society on the was ever after in defiance." writer and his audience-or,

Fiedler, who teaches at Montana ence. ing or attempting to seduce an and the audience. audience which is conducting a treason trial." Mutual bafflement is the

Does the writer write for himself? No, Dr. Fiedler decided. He writes more often to find what this self is. The true writer is one who writes for others, particularly for other writers, both living and dead.

The situation of American writers and having found himself guilty of being innocent of the great public, condemns himself to death." The American writer has little sense of community with his living fellows, he continued, mentioning Hawthorne, Poe, Powers, and Morris. Writers at a conference resemble "animals at a zoo with nothing in common but the crowds that feed them the peanuts."

Neither do they have a sense of community with writers of the past, or a common literary tradition. Fiedler labeled as "fond and mis-guided" the belief that Americans share the literary tradition of Great always one of adaptation rather than creation, said Dr. Fiedler. We have never invented an American literary anguage. Each writer must create is own; for example, Hemingwayse. Faulkner-ese

With no continuous tradition on which to base his writing, each writer must make the same mistakes in order to discover the same truths

Richardson's novels much of their "The American writer is unsure of his audience. He is man-woman struggle."

"The American writer is unsignificance, when adopted to "class-less America," reduces simply to man-woman struggle.

Fiedler attributed American taste in literature to irresponsible adapt-Dr. Leslie Fiedler, himself ations. This unique situation, where both writer and critic of "the debasing and degradation of literature preceded literature itself" both writer and critic of the debasing and degradation of renown, was addressing last literature preceded literature itself," conditioned audiences to accept and Thursday's meeting of the demand "the kind of book against Humanities Association and which serious American literature

Such a reading public means frusmore exactly, the American tration for the writer. He is afraid writer and the American of becoming a panderer to it, yet at the same time cannot help being tempted and intrigued by its exist-The problem becomes inescapable when the writer realizes State University, pictured as typical escapable when the writer realizes the "sentimental, erotic author woo- he cannot please both the true critic > Melville and Mailer had the public, then lost it—a considerable indignity. Hemingway, as his work deteriorated, gained popularity—the ultimate indignity.

> Suicides of writers such as Heminway illustrate the plight of the American writer, concluded Fiedler. He turns himself into his own judge,

SUB Expansion

ARCHITECTS SELECTED

Berretti has been selected as architects to design a major addition to the Students' Union Building.

Richards and Berretti, of Edmonton, were chosen from among 40 Alberta architectural interest in the project in response to a letter sent out last recommended to be commissioned December by the SUB Expan- as architects for the new building. sion Committee.

subcommittee chaired by Leigh Haysom was created to make as thorough a study as possible of the relative merits of the interested firms.

FIELD NARROWED

The field was narrowed to ten firms after a preliminary survey of references. These ten were then interviewed by the SUB Expansion Committee. Further study was given to

The firm of Richards and each of these firms by the selection subcommittee. This consisted in visiting offices of all firms under consideration, in visiting buildings they had designed, in consulting with client references, and requesting answers to a series of questions.

Finally the firms were rated according to their qualifications under each of several categories. On the firms which had indicated their basis of these and other factors the

At a meeting last week the SUB Expansion Committee approved the Because of the enormous number of factors to be considered, a special day afternoon the committee approved the Haysom subcommittee report. Sunday afternoon the committee presentday afternoon the committee presented its recommendation to Council, and a unanimous vote confirmed Richards and Berretti's name.

As the person responsible for the ultimate design of what is to become the "community centre" of the campus, architect Richards will have to give form to all the varied facilities to be included in the new SUB.

Probably the most important single facility being considered for inclusion in the new building, according to committee members, is a 600 seat theatre. This would be a full-scale theatre capable of holding such diversified functions as mixed chorus, debates, large meetings and drama festivals.

The new addition is scheduled for occupancy by the students in the fall of 1965. Reason for the expansion project is crowding of the present building and present use of the building by the average student. The Association of College Unions uses a figure of 10 square feet per student as a recommended size for the Stu-dents' Union Building. At the Uni-versity of Alberta there are less than 5 square feet per student. The result is that the student is neglected as all the available space is turned over to office and storage.

Even present lounges double as meeting rooms and offices for many campus organizations.

Students' Union clubs have offices spread all over the campus, and thus neither have contact with Students' Council, or with other students on

A bigger SUB should bring these people together, says the committee.

Judith Rendle arts 4, won $50 first prize in the annual MacEachran Essay contest, it was announced last Thursday at the meeting of the Humanities Association and Philo-sophical Society. Ray Archer, also arts 4, placed second, while Bentley Le Baron, arts 3, and Mike Horrocks tied for third prize.

The MacEachran Essay Contest, sponsored by the Philosophical Socety, is open to all undergraduate students. This year a record number of 28 students competed.

TALKATIVE TOMMY DOUGLAS talks provocative to grad students. Mr. Douglas spoke in Con Hall last Monday on grad students. Mr. Douglas spoke in Con Hall last Monday on his only visit to Edmonton during the present Federal Election Rendle's prize-winning essay next Campaign. photo by Jens Tabur issue.

Evans And McTavish

f A Debaters In Finals

resent the Western University Debating League in national finals sponsored by NFCUS.

according to Dr. Fiedler?

"It is part satire, part parody, part protest, part imitation. It is essentially late literature, imitative, dull, and worst of all—genteel."

The debating team consists of Chris Evans, law 3, and Doug McTavish, comm 3. The finals finals will be held March 9 in Ottawa.

Other debating team consists of Chris Evans, law 3, and Doug McTavish, comm 3. The finals but one was not sent. The last time that Alberta sent a team was about six years ago.

Ordinarily each debating team consists of Chris Evans, law 3, and Doug McTavish, comm 3. The finals finals will be held March 9 in Ottawa.

Other debating team consists of Chris Evans, law 3, and Doug McTavish, comm 3. The finals finals will be held March 9 in Ottawa.

enteel."
The American writer's problem is The American writer's problem is Inter-University Debating League (Ontario and English-speaking Quebec), the Quebec Debating League, and the Maritime Intervarsity Debating League.

> The topic is "Resolved that the space race is beneficial to humanity.' Normally debates are bi-lingual, but this year this might not be the case because the Quebec League is not any distinct genre or sub-genre of literature, according to Fiedler. The class structure of Europe that gives

This means that only three teams will be debating. Lots will be drawn and one team will receive a bye in the semi-finals. The other two teams Coach of the U of A team, Alex McCalla, was a McGoun debater in 1958-59 and 1959-60. He was also Students' Council president in 1960-61.

Two U of A debaters will rep-  $_{\mid}$  will debate in the semi-finals and the winner will meet the third team. The cup up for competition is the coach to the national finals. This year Students' Council allotted a maximum of \$650 to send two extra debaters and the coach to Ottawa. The two alternates are John Burns, arts 3, and Bill Guest, arts 2.

MacDonald Laurier Cup.

The Western representative is the winner of the McGoun Cup. In 1959

The costs for two debaters are paid by the National Federation of Canadian University Students Debating League. The Coca-Cola Company will pay the rest of the costs.

DILIGENT DEBATERS Chris Evans, law 3 and Doug Mc-Tavish, comm 3 (the center pair), are to represent the Western University Debating League in the NFCUS sponsored national finals. Alternatives are John Burns, arts 3 (right), and Bill Guest, arts 2 (left).