

Our ambiguity

In a front-page story in the Gateway March 24, SU finance vp Eileen Gillese is quoted as saying interest income, which because of mismanagement of finances was non-existent two years ago, will rise to $24,000 next year. Ms. Gillese, in fact, never used the phrase "mis-management of finances" but instead told the Gateway reporter that interest income was non-existent two years ago because SU reserves had been depleted so severely by the construction and management of HUB, which had driven the SU to the brink of bankruptcy.

Graduate Studies in Economic Policy Carleton University Ottawa, Ontario

The Department of Economics invites applications from qualified students for admission to its graduate programs.

PH.D. PROGRAM

The Ph.D. Program focuses on the application of economic analysis to Canadian policy issues. Policy areas of specialization include

- Industrial Organization
- Money and Trade
- Public Finance
- Urban and Regional Economics

M.A. PROGRAM

The M.A. Program is designed for a thorough analysis of economic theory, quantitative methods and practical application in most fields of economics.

THE DEPARTMENT

Many faculty members with policy analysis experience, active workshops in policy areas of specialization, and the University's proximity to government departments make Carleton an ideal place for graduate studies in Canadian economic policy.

FINANCIAL AID

Very attractive fellowships and assistantships are available to qualified candidates.

TWO-TIER TUITION from page one

MP Marcel Lambert spoke in favor of the resolution.

Ironically, it was the U of C PCYF that moved a resolution at last year's annual meeting recommending a two-tier tuition scheme, which was easily carried at that time. U of C PCYF members have since commented they have more information on the situation which has caused them to change their minds on the issue.

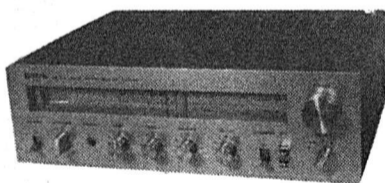

Many have also stated publicly the U of C PCYF wishes to dispell any possible notion that it was responsible for the initiation of the government move to institute differential fees for foreign students.

The U of A PCYF also has resolution on the agenda which was not discussed since it expressed the same opposition to the fee increase outlined in Calgary resolution.
