My dear Frank:

I thank you most heartily for the congratulations which you have sent. What would I not give could they be shared in by old Bert at this time. I assure you that his presence has been very real to me through this struggle, and I feel at the moment of writing a consciousness of his protecting care. I fully appreciate the good words of your letter. From no one could they have been more welcome.

With every good wish, believe me always,

Very sincerely yours,
