DIOCESE OF HAMILTON.

GENERAL THANKSGIVING FOR THE SAFE RE-TURN HOME AND RECOVERY OF THE BISHOP AFTER A PROLONGED AND SEVERE ILLESS The following circular from His Lordship was read at Mass on Sunday last, in all the churches and caaptis of the Diocese;

churches and chapels of the Diocese of Hamilton:

Very Reverend and Reverend Fathers:

Tharks be to God, to the powerful interces sion of the Bleesed Virgin, and to the fervent prayers that have been offered for me, after an absence of nearly five months at St. Joseph a Hoepital, Guelph, twhere I gratefully acknowledge having received the best of careon the part of physicians and attendants in the consolution has been efforded me of returning home in restored health in time to participate in the celebration of the great fusitival of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception, the Patroness of our Cathedral and of our Diocese. For this signal favor and blessing I now earnestly invite and request all my good priests, all the religious or munuities, and all the faithful of the Diocese to unite with me in prayer and solemn thanksgiving to Almighty God. It was indeed a master of deep regret to me that the suddenness and severity of my illness prevented me from asking, before undergoing two serious surgiesi operations, public prayers in all the Churches. For unately, however, such an appeal was not necessary, as I am assured that my many friends, not only smoon, n y own priests and people, but also among emment dignitaries of the Church, and even the Holy Father himself, in their great charity and kindness without any merit of mine, were good enough to make special remembrance of me in their plous prayers. To the efficacy of these carnest and constant prayers if feel that under God I am indebted for my recovery. My most fervent thanks are therefore, offered, first to Our Holy Father the Popy, who in addience granted on the 20th day of November less, was graciously pleased to rend a special blessing to the Bishop of Hamilton, tegether with his prayers for a speedy recovery. And secondly to their Emin ences Cardinal Mery del Val and Cardinal Gotti, both of whom were kind enough to send messages of sympathy and kind regarde. My serious illness at the hospital. Finally, I most hank the mobile supplies in non-their forces, for To the Reverend clergy of the Diocese of Hamiton: Very Reverend and Reverend Fathers:

J. P. Holden.

Chancellor.

This circular is to be read at Mass in all the Churches of the Diocese on the 2nd Sunday of Advent. By order of the Bishop Hamilton, Feast of Immaculate Conception, 1905.

A PROTESTANT EDITOR'S CRITICISM OF A BIGOT.

Even down by the sea they have a few mix isters whose religion consists thie fly in giving expression to their hatred of "Popery" and in making a display of their narrow mind-dness in their dealings with their Cathelic neighbors. What has given rise to this controversy was the fact that some time ago, in the Normal school, a picture of the Blessed Virgin was hurg up as a work of art; but this was not done at the request of any Catholic. We pub-lish below a letter from the Rev. Clarence MacKinnon, a clergyman who has taken a prominent part in the controversy, and the re ply of the editor of the Eastern Chronicle of New Glasgow, also a Presbyterian. LETTER FROM REV. CLARENCE MACKINNON complete educational palley, as anyone may see by a reference to the femous Syllabus of Pepe Pius IX. That a movement in ints direction in Neva Scotia was being agrated I can substantate. If needful, by an affidavit from a prominent citiz n, that would prove embatrassing to some educational authorities.

Editor Eastern Chronicle :

(3) That their inducace in the present Normal School was on the increase. This has been amphatically declared more than once by Mr. McLod in his letters and he is prepared, when called upon to state his evidence in detail, and will not be open to the objection that he is not the man on the spot. Prin. Soloac is shrewed enough not to challer ge a controversy with him.

has, and with the man on the spit. Yrin. Solong is shrewd enough not to challer go a controversy with him.

(i) About that picture. This was a mere incidental reference, as you lustly remark, a mere question of two-did dum and two-did dee. But now the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong has admitted that he had not the Irin. Solong had not correspondent. Teacher "has instituted the Irin. Solong he will have not be picture of the Virgin (on the grounds of pit!) I have not him else to contend for. One may or may not so to it the trend of events. Many do.

The public were drubtless surprised to find that the state ment of these commonplace facts should throw the Principal of the Norman School into literary hysterics, in which he declares that forever I have lost all claim to confidence in my native province. Dombless he imagined that by raising a dust he would become in the issue. It is an old device that has rarely succeeded. The dust settles only too soon, and the facts remain all the more distinct for the attention that has been called to them. Permit me, further, to add that the assertion that I received my information from Mr. Method and the still more ungenerous irsennation that it was communicated to me by the exprincipal of the Normal School, are both entirely false.

And now, Mr. Eddior, I cannot close without tion that it was communicated to me by the ex principal of the Normal School, are both entirely false.

And now, Mr Editor, I cannot close without a connadrum for the editorial sanctum. If I were to claim that the Presbyterian Church was the only true Church, that it was infallible; that it should have Separate schools and be State endowed; that all other so called Churches were hereited and their members (if saved) only saved on admission of their ignormance—surely a hard condition for editors; I should then be free from biggery and intolerance; for our Catholic friends make these claims for themselves, and I am wairing patiently to read your editorial condemna ion. But when I admit that Pres byterianism is not the whole Caurch, nor infallible; when I acknowledge Roman Catholicism to be also an expression of the Christian faith, and admire many of its examples of piety and therefore claim that there should be no discrimination, but in a fee country we should have equal rights for all and favors for none I am open to suepicion as a narrow minded bigst, who cannot understand. Weys a high that much for its ministe a we would be in great glee; but we do claim that there are many great and good men among them. We do not sedmit that we are sell do not condemn anything we may believe wrong about the religion of pretensions of our "Catholic friende," unless we find such imperilling the peace and good government of the Dominion. Their religion is for themselves, and to the meelves and their church, and to their four) God (hey must stand or fall. What we may have to do with them is in their practices and behavior as fellow countrymen and in and as such we have no reason to condemn.]

Were we writing as a Presbyterian we could not admit "Roman Catholiciem to be also an expression of the Christian faith, "even though we "admire many of its examples of piety," but as an editor of a country newspaper we deal with all men so citz ne and condemn or commend according to their conduct, and in the cosmopolitan storic we freely and fully admit that their "examples of piety are the fruits of their religion. We are sure that Mr. Mackinnon would not ask us as editor of a non-sectarian newspaper to believe that men, or women who are worthily called "examples of piety," could have become such under the teaching of a religion that is only another name for "bigotry and involvance"

On the questions of fact in Mr. Mackinnon's letter we should have nothing to write. I may be admitted that in Halifax Separate schools have confuned since the according to their children in the faith and doctrible people do! The burden is laid on them of ducating their children in the faith and doctrible people do! The harden is also not men fit of the children without getting away from their Chord that while years as the schools are the schools they won't that such shools are the schools they won't their schools are the schools they won't that such support of Public schools, the same as Presby terians. Methodiste, Beptiefs and Episcopa lians do, and pay is without a murmur; is she way from their Chord and the children in the control of the condi

RAISE WHAT'S WANTED.

Few really intelligent and progressive farmers are heard complaining. The wise may is the who keep bineed over on the atert to produce that commodity for which there is a good, a rong quick masket.

There are several ways in which the cash returns from the far may be largely tecreased without the sacrifice of much time, money or work. For instance, the raising of poultry has come to be a great profit-making business on some farms.

City hotels, tourants, clube, cales dining cars and price kilchens are consuming more and more ery day, to say nothing of the lone and tous pured to fill the export demand. Dealers a never get enough to supply the wants of cir custom re, and thousands and thousands are could be sold at good prices if they were bred.

their customs rs. and thousands and shousands more quid be sold at good prices if they were offered.

A few farmers have been wise enough to see what was going on and to prepare to profit by these conditions. Breilers are wanted and good cash prices are being paid for every chick large enough to be made if you for the table.

Then why not produce them?

Several difficulties arise. Hens as hatchers are failures. They set when they take the notion and seldom when you want them to. They are careless mothers, almost always leading their chicks into danger and losing many. To make any progress or profit in the raising of chicks you must have a good Incubator and Brooder, and this initial expenditure may prevent those are not prepared to instal such a machine.
