A RATHER good story is told of the late Bishop of St. Asaph. His lordship once delivered a short address to a village school on the subject of besetting sins. "We all," he said, "have our besetting sins, myself like the rest. What do you suppose is mine?" Noticing the astonished look on the faces of his youthful hearers at the notion of a bishop having a besetting sin, the right rev. prelate went on to say: "Do not be afraid to answer." At length one little fellow was courageous enough to hold up his hand by way of showing his willingness to respond to the episcopal questioner. "Well, my boy," said the Bishop, "What do you say is my besetting sin?" "Please, sir," stammered the lad, "drunkenness!" "No," rejoined his lordship, in the meekest of tones, "not drunkenness, but vanity." The Bishop's comment showed at all events that if he was vain he was also not destitute of humility.
