Referring to the tragic sufferings of the Armenians and of the need of immediate help to save thousands of men, women and children from dreadful death by starvation, Mr. Morgenthau said it is difficult for him to dissert the subject, which appeals so strongly to his sympathies, because this resignation as ambassador has not been definitely accepted; but speaking in a guarded way he made the following statement:

She Makes a Go-a-Visiting Nightgown for Cicily.

If ever there was a natural born "wheedler" it is Cicily. She could coax the secret from the Sphinx if she set her heart upon knowins it. After her last visit here, mother decided that the family was giving her extravagint ideas by gratifying every wish. So mother suggested that it would be good discipline for Cicily to be denied something she particularly wanted, every now and then. Dad and I both agreed with her and prepared ourselves to say "No" the next time we were called upon to grant a favor.

This afternoon mother came to their sewing room where I was doing come mending and handed me a letter come which I made.

MORE MONEY NEEDED, Further financial assistance is im-peratively needed within the next 30 days, in order that the people may be rehabilitated and enabled to sow their crops and provide a harvest in the autumn. It is estimated that $5,000,000 in all will be required to relieve the suffering of the Armenians, Nestor-ians and native Christians in Turkey, Persia, Syria and Palestine. The committee received a cablegram from its representatives in Constantinople under date of May 4. The message was transmitted through diplomatic sources and gives reliable details of the funds needed in the Aleppo region of Turkey and other sections. The cablegram indicates that so inadequate are the available funds in certain centers that people are forced to eat grass and are dying by hundreds. The minimum estimate of money required for one section of Turkey alone is $52,800 per month. Charles R. Crane, 70 Fifth Avenue, is Treasurer of the American Commit-

I cut the sections wider than the original pattern, for I wanted the skirt to be fuller than that of the usual hightrobe. I French-seamed the sections together by hand, and feather-stitched the deep hem in place. About the top of the skirt I ran three rows of shirring and then firmly stitched it to the bodice. Taking a band of the Val. insertion, I arranged it to form a girdle. When this had been sewn to the crepe de chine, I cut the material from beneath it. The raw edges I neatly turned back and whipstitched them so that they would not fray.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young stirl of 11, and am in love with a young man of 18. Although I have known him over three years, I have only kept company with him for about 12 months. Careful students of music in By Special Wire to the Courier will. Careful students of music in the large cities of America and Europe recommend the educational value of listening to and studying him in his masterly interpretation of the grandest works of the old and new masters. He is acknowledged by the most competent critics to be the best example of musical expression and phrasing. The head of one of the largest schools of music in this country has said that Signor Creatore does more to make people love music and realize its possibilities than any similiar musician of our time. There is imperative need of this inspiration and these glimpses of art in its higher realm which his genius affords, and it is sincerely hoped that he will be greeted on his appearance here Monday, May 29th, afternoon rid. night, by a large and representative audience, and the advance sale ir dicates that such will be the case.
