

Beautiful 1918 Maxwell Now On Exhibition

Without altering the world champion motor, the famous perfected clutch and transmission or the mighty axles, the Maxwell builders have produced a new wonder car, far superior in construction and in appearance to anything yet turned out by the Maxwell factories—we have this new and beautiful car—come and see it.

The car is larger and roomier, for one thing—the wheelbase has been increased six inches. It is also a stronger and more rigid machine for the road. The frame is now six inches, instead of three inches deep. And the body rests directly on this powerful frame, instead of on brackets extending from the chassis, as in the past. Do you know what that means? It means this: The firmness with which the wheels grip the road and the steadiness of the car at high speed give you a sense of security such as you have been able to enjoy before only in cars equipped with a battery of shock absorbers.

This New Car is 50 Pounds Lighter

There's a marvel of engineering for you, friends! The car is made bigger and stronger—and yet actually lighter. This means greater ease and comfort on the road. More than that—it means greater economy.

And the Maxwell before was the most economical 5-passenger car in the world. Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension—mark this wonderful Maxwell of 1918. They mean greater comfort—greater economy, by lessening wear and tear on the car.

Maxwell Now Has the Style of the Costliest Cars

The new Maxwell is a car of great beauty. It has a sloped windshield and rakish lines never before produced in any car costing less than $2000. Its good looks now equal its proved mechanical efficiency. The new upholstery is richer and gives a new comfort. Inside and out the new 1918 Maxwell is a perfected car. We're proud to sell it. You'll be proud to own one.

K. A corporal asked me where I got it and asked me to get him one if I did not think it to dangerous. I went and got one for him and was returning when I heard a noise below ground and looking saw the entrance to a dugout or tunnel. I went to the mouth of the tunnel, keeping from view, called down a threat and a Hun that could talk some English came to the foot of the stairs. He called up: "Meroy! Don't blow us up and we will all be your prisoners!" I asked "How many are you?" "I and sixteen." It now seemed to me I was in a fix, for they would be very tame indeed if they did not do something to me if they all got out on top and found me alone 100 yards from our line. As I had the trumps I made up my mind to keep them and play bluff, so when he said if they would come up I said, "No; tell all the others to get back in the dugout and stay there until they are called up. Tell them that there is a bomb waiting for the first man that shows his head before he is called; then you come up and see my officers." This was done. He came up and looked around and said "Where are the men?" I said, "Never mind; quick march!" pointing the way with my bayonet. But he turned and made as if to call to the others below, but a threat and movement with the bayonet changed his mind and he stopped with his mouth open and went the way I pointed. I delivered him to the officer and he sent two men with me and then another came, so I had three. We soon got back and called but they would not come out. I asked for one of the men to go down with me but could not get a volunteer to go so I went down and brought up a lieutenant and fifteen men and took them back to our officers. That night we got dug in. Now I will close with love and best wishes. Your loving son,

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Stomach, Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a still barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Why Army is Like A Circus

Ottawa, Oct. —An army in the field has been compared with a circus travelling about the country. The comparison is a rough and ready one but, according to military officers back from the front, it suffices to show certain essential features of the fighting force.

One is that a large number of men are needed to look after the transportation and care of equipment, to cook the meals and put up the tents, etc., while the number of actual performers is comparatively few. Many more work outside the ring than in it.

The army has many disadvantages, however, from which the circus does not suffer. It has to build its own railroads, as a rule, run them and keep them in repair, while it must also bring in with it nearly all the food and other supplies that it needs. It must be braced up also for a constantly increasing burden of casualties, requiring special care and comfort, and in modern war the big guns consume vast quantities of shells daily which must be replaced immediately.

Ever noticed the number of men who are engaged to keep the circus in running order? If you have, you may be able better to understand why an army needs thousands of men behind the lines. A-7.
