Berlin, Feb. 12.—In the senior O. H. Agame here last night the home team defeated Galt by 12 to 1. Berlin could have scored twice as many had they extended themselves, and Galt's low score was a charity, which came with only a half minute of play left. About 125 people saw the game. Teams:

Brantford, Feb. 12.—Before more than 2,000 people, including a noisy delegation of about one hundred from Toronto, the professional team of that city beat Brantford here last night by 11 to 8 in what was readily conceded to be the finest exhibition of hockey ever seen in the Telephone City. The Toronto victory puts President Miln's aggregation in front of Brantford by a goodly margin, and Torontos look very much like the Ontario Pro. League champions. The Torontos were more at home on the big Brantford rink than on the Mutnal rontos were more at home on the big Brantford rink than on the Mutual street sheet, and won a victory which they richly deserved. Captain Rowley Young and his corps played more hockey and better hockey than Brantford, and were plainly the better team.

TOMMY BURNS WILL FIGHT ROCHE NEXT

All the cable reports are uniform in making the Burns-Palmer fight a most one-sided affair. Each time that Palmer went down Burns wore a look as though he hoped the Englishman would save himself further punishment by staying there. Palmer came up for the fourth round weary of limb and with battered features. He had but one good left eye to watch the light-footed Burns. The latter did not lose a second. He evidently thought it time to end matters. A blow of no particular force to the side of the head sent Palmer reeling across the ring, and he fell on his face. He stayed down until nine had been counted, and then arose, covering himself as usual.

Burns was as cool as an icicle. He walked around Palmer for a moment and then feinted with his left and sent in a crashing blow over the heart. With an audible groan Palmer collapsed to the floor. Dimly he heard the numbers counted and got up from the habit more than anything else. Burns slipped over a left hook and Palmer went down again. Gamely he got to the floor birth more than anything else. Burns slipped over a left hook and Palmer went down again. Gamely he got to the floor down again.
