

Crowded to the Doors Saturday

A great demonstration of the proof of that extraordinary Overcoat and Suit value-giving and that better quality of clothing and lesser quantity of price that prevail here was our crowded store on Saturday. The Overcoat trade started off with a big whirl of selling. That superior fitting of our garments talk stronger than any newspaper advertising. We're sweeping the last vestige of old-time merchant tailor prejudice away like a mist on June morning with the superb fitting C. N. & R. brand fine Overcoats and Suits. The brightest brains of the cutters and the best trained artists among the coat builders on the continent are assembled in their large, well-lighted tailor shops turning out men's and young men's clothes that are as much ahead, in comparison with the average merchant tailor's work as the handsome touring car is of the democrat wagon. Throw your prejudice to the winds and compare. It's money in your pocket. Whether your requirements call for a $5 or a $25 outfit.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Well, the Pirates and Tigers are tie for the world's series, and to-morrow's game in Detroit will settle the championship. Whichever wins the series has proved to be the most interesting and desperately fought of any recent years. The baseball itself has been spectacular, but the majority of the spectators were interested in the great pair of players, Wagner and Cobb, the best in either league, and they have not been unrewarded.

Mr. Miles Townsend, formerly a school master at Highfield, has been playing great cricket in England this summer. He has scored over 1,900, with an average of 60 runs. Mr. Townsend played with the Hamilton Club during May and June of last year.

Cut out and save the predictions of the fight experts on the Ketchel-Johnson fight; they'll make funny reading next week.

The Hamilton Bowling & Athletic Association has a block of seats for the Pittsburgh-Detroit game on Saturday. Any person wishing same can secure them at the club.

That cocking main has been tipped off to the police. Fight has been postponed until night of the Tiger-Ottawa game. Double attraction should draw a big crowd of dead game sports to town.

Mooney Gibson's work is shown in vivid contrast to the catching department of the Tigers. Stange caught well one game, but both he and Schmidt are much behind the form of the London boy.

THE FRIENDS' PROGRESS.
While waiting for the cavalcade to re-

Just before he went in to face Pittsburgh in the second game of the world's series "Wild Bill" Donovan, the Detroit pitcher, confided to his old team-mate, Herman Schaefer, now with Washington, that he felt confident of standing the National League champions upon their heads. As Detroit won, thanks to the magnificent pitching of Donovan, he can be said to have made good.

Montreal seniors and intermediates went through a fast work-out at the grounds yesterday morning in final preparation for the match with Ottawa on Saturday. McNamara was the only absentee from the senior list. Tommy Stinson and George Duckett were at the grounds, but did not take part in the practice. They are both in good form and Chaucer Elliott decided to give them a chance to rest up. Belknap, an old McGill player, took McNamara's place.

Eddie Phillips, who will play outside wing for the Ottawa team to-morrow, was on the all-Canadian team which toured England.

In order to keep up in front, the Rough Riders must beat Montreal in the latter city on Saturday. It will be a big order for Ottawa.

The Varsity-McGill game to-morrow will almost decide the intercollegiate championship.

SPORTING NEWS

THE TIGER LINE-UP FOR SATURDAY'S GAME.

Advance Sale of Reserved Seats Has Been Large—Frank Harvey Will Play on Half Line and George Smith Will be Full Back.

The Tigers held their final practice yesterday in preparation for the game here to-morrow with the Argonauts. The whole team was out and after a couple of hours hard work the team for to-morrow's game was selected. Art Turner will be given another chance at outside wing, and all the players expect him to make good. He has been working hard for the past week, and is sure to put up a much better game than he did in Ottawa. Tony Loftus has a bad knee and will not be able to play on the other end. In his place, either Glassford or Vickley will be put on. Either of these intermediates can make good. Harvey will be tried out on the half line as "Dutch" Burton has been sick and will not be able to play to-morrow. Jack Gray will not be used until his back becomes real strong, and Brammer will fill his place on the wing line. Bethune will fill in in the scrimmage. "Kid" Smith's leg is still a trifle shaky, and George Smith will hold down the full back position. The line up will be:
Full-back—George Smith.
Half-backs—Moore, Simpson and Harvey.
Quarter—George Awrey.
Scrimmage—Bethune, Pfeiffer and Craig.
Wings—Turner, Isbester, Barron, Brammer, Wigle and Glassford or Vickley.

The Argonaut line up has not been given out yet, and as usual the Toronto bunch will not know who will compose their team until the last minute.

The Tigers should win this game easily, but as the Argos have been strengthening up they will put up a much stronger game against the yellow and black than they did against the Winged Wheel team last Saturday. Two or three of the old men will be on the team and the back division has been given lots of practice at catching punts under difficulties. The advance sale of tickets promises a big attendance, and about five thousand persons are expected at the game.

The weather smacks much more of football than it did last Saturday in Ottawa, and a much faster game should be played in consequence. The frost has not entered the ground yet and running conditions should be just about right. Little if any money will be wagered on the result.

The Intermediates do no play to-morrow and will watch the big game from the sidelines.

Rain and cool weather prevented the final practice of the Ottawa football team, which was to have been held yesterday in preparation for Saturday's big game against the M. A. A. four-teen at Montreal. When the players turned out at Varsity oval rain commenced to fall, so Coach Clancy called the work-out off and the players contented themselves with a brisk run and rub-down. They are all in the pink of condition. Bert Stronach was not at Montreal, as reported, but turned out and did a fast mile, beating the other players home in the stretch by over 25 yards. Stronach states that he feels fit for the game of his life on the Montreal field. Stronach seems to feel keenly the allegations that he roughed it in last Saturday's match. He states that he tackled hard every time, but that he did not commit a foul.

Clancy expects one of the hardest games of the season at Montreal. He thinks that the Montreal team will be right in the running this season, and believes that they may beat both the Ottawa and Tiger teams on their own field.

in the scrimmage, and will be played there if McNamara is unable to get into the game. He is still under the doctor's care, but it was reported to-day that his leg was in better shape. One change was made on the senior line, Pat Reiffenstein playing in the left middle position, which has been held down by Ward. It is likely that Reiffenstein will line out in that position on Saturday. Craig and Scott were both played on the senior half line to-day, and it is a toss-up as to who will catch the left position. The Montreal team is light, but Chaucer Elliott says he never handled a squad that played with more snap and dash. They are up in the game all the time and never let up.

Dr. Hendry and Harry Griffith, of Toronto, who were to have refereed the Montreal-Ottawa game at Montreal Saturday, sent word to the Ottawas last evening that they would not be able to act. The Ottawas have suggested Messrs. Robbins and Hayes, of Hamilton; Pud Kent, Dr. Wright, and Russell Britton instead.

The Montreal reply has not been received, but it is not likely that the clubs will have any difficulty in agreeing on officials.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The football season at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute was brought to a sudden close yesterday, when President Palmer C. Ricketts forbade students to take part in any inter-collegiate contest under penalty of expulsion. Not only are they forbidden to take part in inter-collegiate sports, but are also excluded from the alumni athletic field, which was recently completed at great cost.

This action was taken as the result of the painting of some of the new institute buildings, which have been given by Andrew Carnegie and Mrs. Russell Sage. The painting was done at the celebration of the victory of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute football team over St. Stephen's College, which was beaten on Saturday here by the score of 80 to 0.

In the senior City League two games will be played on Saturday, one at the Cricket Grounds, starting at 1.30, between Dundas II. and the Y. M. C. A.; the other between Tigers III. and the Alerts at the Britannia Park at 3 o'clock. The small admission of fifteen cents will be charged at the Britannia Park to defray the expenses of the grounds and officials. All the teams have been practising very hard, and as they are all evenly matched there is no doubt the spectators will be treated to good football.

In the junior Church League the Y. M. C. A. will play Knox Mission at the north end park at 3 o'clock. Sheridan and Little will be the officials. The St. Andrew's will play the Eskines at Victoria Park. Thornton and Hamburg will be the officials. The two teams are trying to start the game at 2 o'clock, so as to get through in time to see the big game at the Cricket Grounds. At the executive meeting last evening it was unanimously decided that no team could use any players of another team senior to their own. This is a very wise move and should be productive of developing lots of new material.

McCann, right half of the Rough Riders, hurt his knee in practice some weeks ago. It was given another wrench in the game with Montreal, and on Saturday against the Tigers it was badly twisted again. McCann may not be able to play against Montreal to-morrow.

The Argos will bring a strong team with them to Hamilton to-morrow. The second team will accompany the seniors as far as Hamilton, where they will take the cars to Dundas to play an intermediate League game there.

Eddie Phillips, who will play outside wing for the Ottawa team to-morrow, was on the all-Canadian team which toured England.

In order to keep up in front, the Rough Riders must beat Montreal in the latter city on Saturday. It will be a big order for Ottawa.

The Varsity-McGill game to-morrow will almost decide the intercollegiate championship.

POLO

London, Oct. 15.—The Hurlingham Polo Committee, at a meeting yesterday decided against the project of sending a polo team to the United States next season to try and regain the International Polo Cup, won this summer by the Meadowbrook team of Long Island.

The secretary was instructed not to give out any information regarding the action of the committee for the present, but it is understood the difficulty of obtaining ponies was the main obstacle to their action. It was the opinion of the committee that plans for recapturing the cup should have matured earlier in the year, and that probably the project would be revived in 1910 in time to send a team across the Atlantic in 1911.

"IT IS LUCK THAT WINS THE SERIES"

Says the Mighty Honus Wagner—Everybody Does His Best, But Luck Decides It.

"It's heads I win, tails you lose in this game of baseball."

That is the opinion of Honus Wagner, the noblest Roman of them all.

The mighty German is naturally a taciturn fellow when somebody starts the talk on the subject of the great American game. Not that he is not talkative when you once gain his confidence and he feels free to loose his tongue, but he carries the subject to everything else except the diamond with special reference to automobiles.

Yesterday Wagner was in a happy frame of mind, and he unbosomed himself to the extent of making a prediction as to the outcome of the championship struggle, says a writer in the Detroit News.

"The team that has the luck is the team that wins the series," said Wagner. "The average fan who sits in the grandstand does not realize what a big difference luck, or good breaks, as the players call it, makes, but every player who ever broke into the major league game knows that it is half the battle. With everything else equal, luck decides every ball game. If you stop to consider that you will agree with me that it is true. Take, for instance, two teams that are evenly matched. If they both play perfect ball, and the element of luck does not favor either side, those two teams will play forever and the score will remain a tie. No one needs to be a ball player to understand that. Common, everyday reasoning proves it to be true."

"All of which goes to show that Wagner is as good at philosophy as he is at baseball."

"Baseball," he said, "is a business with me, and I attend to it with all the ability I have, the same as every man attends to his business. If I win, all right, that is what I am trying to do, and if I lose I am sorry, but I can't be helped, for I have done the best I can. That is the way every ball player looks at it. They are trying to win all the time, and if they don't, why, it is not their fault. Both teams can't win. There has to be a loser, and I repeat, in the long run, it is the team that has the bad breaks that loses the game."

Here Wagner, with a solemn, Tontonic wink, said: "Forgetting everything else, and leaving out all the dope, I think we will put it on Detroit in this series."

"You wouldn't give Johnson another fight in this town, would you, Tom?"

"No, indeed!" said McCarey.

"Never?" asked Burns.

TOMMY BURNS ONCE PUT NEAT ONE ON JOHNSON.

Tommy Burns once whipped over a neat one on Johnson. This was shortly after the 20-round draw with Jack O'Brien, and the men met in McCarey's office at Los Angeles to talk over the business arrangements for the second fight. Jack Johnson, on his way to Australia, dropped off the trains to see old friends and incidentally try to talk McCarey into giving him a pork and bean match. Los Angeles has been closed to Johnson for some years; he was persona non grata with the fight fans. (Hey? Oh, that's Latin for "in Dutch.")

In the private office were McCarey, O'Brien and Burns, and they were talking money and gold belts and other nonsense. In the outer office was Mitch Johnson, sitting on a sofa and looking at his feet. He was a very humble Senegambian. Anybody could walk right up and talk to him.

Tommy Burns, always foxy in a certain slow-witted way, wished to make a dash before the newspaper men present, so he went to McCarey.

"You wouldn't give Johnson another fight in this town, would you, Tom?"

"No, indeed!" said McCarey.

"Never?" asked Burns.

"I should say not!" said McCarey.

"That's ab-so-lute!"

"All right," said Burns. "Remember that."

As soon as O'Brien and Burns came out of the inner room, Johnson pounced on them. He was going to make them declare themselves, he said.

"I want to fight the winner of this battle," said Johnson. "ow 'bout you, Mist' O'Brien?"

O'Brien ducked and sidestepped. He didn't think the fight would draw any money, etc.

"And you, Mist' Burns?" asked Johnson.

"If I win I'll fight you," said Burns. Johnson leaped over and offered his hand.

"You heard him say it, gentlemen!" said he, delightedly. "Mist' Burns, I al-he knew you was game. Why can't we make some arrangements now?"

"I don't want any arrangements," said Tommy, slowly. "The only thing I ask is that Tom McCarey shall have the match."

Johnson's jaw fell, and he looked over at the fight promoter. McCarey shook his head.

Is it any wonder that Johnson should enjoy his season as dictator?
