porters, who, from the great reports they had neard of the Canadian, were, at one a little disposed to fear for the result. Now, however, they are very sanguine. Hawdon is working with the greatest determina-tion, and evidently will not succumb without a tough struggle. He says very little, but appears calmly confident. There can be no doubt but that he is very fast, and can stay over a long stretch, but still con bisseurs outside his immediate friends do not fancy him very much for this race. he requires time for develop ment, and that in another year or two h. will row behind no sculler living. But, at present, they seem to be of the opinion that Hanlan bas him well in hand. Canadian, who is now under the personal supervision of Messrs. Ward and Davis, of the Toronto Hanlan club, also shows some improvement, but Cynesiders are still somewhat dissatisfied with his leisurely method of moving, and think that if he is to be ranked in the first-class his stroke should be more rapid. Though even with the present rate he makes his shell travel quickly through the water. His use of the slide and the way in which he balances his boat are greatly admired. The one defect in the eyes of Englishmen is his slow movement. On Monday he tried the new shell received last week from Judge Elliott, of Greenpoint. He expressed himself pleased with her, but did not seem altogether satisfied. To-morrow he will have another new boat aunched from the yard of Messrs. Swaddle & Winship at Scotswood, and next week the craft Mr. Robert Jewett is building will probably be ready.
