

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo. The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

A DESCRIPTION OF CORONETS

Many of Those Used at the Edward Coronation in 1902 will be Worn in June

"Numbers of persons," declared a London jeweler and silversmith, "imagine coronets to be composed of 24-point gold, and studded with priceless jewels."
"Well, the fact is, we often supply pieces of peresses with beautifully finished, light-weight coronets in silver gilt for less than twenty pounds. A peer's coronet must fit him like a hat, but those for peresses are half the size. Peresses, thus having plenty of room on their heads—happily for us—wear tiaras as well as coronets. In this way:

The tiara, high in front, sloping down each side, is placed well forward on the noble brow. With hair bunched on top of the head, puffed out at the sides, the coronet rests on top of the hair, behind the tiara. Plenty of work there will be at the last moment, of course, altering tiaras for the coronation, so that they may be worn in this way, for many of them are of the 'old round' pattern.

"Most of the coronets donned in June next will be those used for the last coronation. I estimate that two thousand new coronets were then turned out, at an average of $30 apiece—$150,000 in all.

"One user told me of the rescue of his coronet for the 1902 ceremony. His lordship's plate-chest was crammed. To make room, odds and ends were cleared out. Sorting these, he encountered his coronet. The butler, fairly staggered, said he had been pushing it into one odd corner and another for years past, till he could come across the other part of 'the old crew.'

"The most gorgeous coronation item, though that comes the way of workers in precious metals, is the pallium, or royal mantle of the king. It is of English cloth of gold—remember the Field of it in history?—woven in a most gold thread as pure as will stand the strain of being used, almost without alloy.

"There are very few skilled weavers capable of making cloth of gold. It is exceedingly slow work, and as each inch of the material is formed, it is carefully stretched up, so that it shall retain its glorious flood of color. Such new, absolutely unsoiled cloth of gold looks more like a blaze of brilliant sunshine than anything you ever saw.

"Many of the State robes will have Indian embroidery—gold and silver thread on silk.
"An ounce of the pure metal is drawn out into a thread half a mile long for the embroiderers to use. The pattern is always original, the embroiderers, trained from childhood, making it up as they go along. Thus no two existing patterns are alike, and one robe can always be distinguished from another which saves marking. The work is usually done in India, but for the Coronation some of the most expert craftsmen in Delhi, where the best come from, are being brought over here.

"The famous crimson velvet, with which Westminster Abbey will be ablaze, I find on inquiry costs about a pound a yard, bought by the piece. A piece measures some forty yards and though the velvet is quite plain, without any pattern, such a length takes four months to make.
"British-made pure silk linings are used, and proper lining for the crimson—really almost purple—velvet being white corded silk, costing about eight shillings a yard.

"So, although coronets themselves are not exactly pure gold jewelry, one day and another the little bill tops 'em."

THE DUBAR AT DELHI.

The King Will be Crowned in India on December 12.

King George, on Wednesday, March 22, officially gave his approval of the details for his Coronation. The King conferred with the Privy Council when the plans were gone over and ratified. It was decided that the Coronation Dubar at Delhi, India, should be held December 12 next, when King George and Queen Mary will be present. Both will sail for India about the middle of November.

New George V. Six The Secretary to the Treasury printed a question, it is proposed to issue the new V. stamps at the time of the coronation. ### WILKINSON-CAMERON (Campbellton Graphic.)

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening when Rev. T. P. Drummond united in marriage Jean Fair, daughter of John Cameron to William Stuart Wilkison. The bride who was given away by her father was gowned in cream silk crepe-duchene over duchesse satin with applique and pearl trimming, and carried White Roses and Lily of the Valley. Miss Isa Cameron was bridesmaid and was attired in pale blue silk and carried pink roses. Mr. F. E. Shepherd was groomsmen. The parlors were very prettily decorated with cut flowers in a green bower.

A large number of beautiful presents were received showing the esteem in which the young people were held. The groom's gift to the bride were a Ruby and Emerald filigree pendant and a gold bangle set with pearls and sapphires. The groom also gave the bridesmaid a gold pendant set with pearls and to Miss Ruth Cameron who played the wedding march a gold brooch set with pearls. The brides going away dress was of fawn broad-cloth with Tuscan hat trimmed with black velvet.

Mrs. Allen Adams was in town visiting friends.

There is no question at all about the popularity of the E. M. F. "30" in Battleford, Sask., if the enthusiasm displayed by Mr. Chas. Angle over his 1910 model E. M. F. "30" is any indication. The factory was favored with a visit from this gentleman a few days ago.

A great engineering work has just been completed in Arizona. It is called the Roosevelt dam; and, with the exception of the great dam at Assouan, in Egypt, it is the largest work of the kind in the world. It dams the waters of the salt River, making an enormous storage basin for irrigation. The dam is one thousand and eighty feet wide, and forms a reservoir twenty-five miles long and more than two hundred feet deep.
