NEWS ABOUT HOME.

"A chief's among ye, takin' notes, An' faith he'll print it."

TOWN TOPICS.

Many of our townfolks enjoyed a Merry Christmas, and E. Sallows, the photographer, takes this opportunity of wishing all "A Happy New Year," and many happy returns to his stock.

For the gay and festive season, the choicest and best brands of wine, brandies, whiskies, claret, and other liquors, to be had, in addition, can be found at W. L. Horton's, South-st. and Square.

I hope to satisfy the public in general that I intend to reduce my stock of ties and Handkerchiefs, by selling at the lowest remunerative prices. And don't you forget to bring your Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Yours truly, G. M. BAYNE.

"One of the best photographs I ever saw," was the remark made with reference to a picture lately taken out of Johnson's Gallery. The same remark would also apply admirably to some very fine frames just received, at the first price gallery, Geo. H. Robson, Manager "Fire and Sword."

Engines Willard is again in winter quarters.

Miss Aggie Young, of this town, is visiting relatives at Kintail.

The Misses Pillar, of Kingston, are the guests of their cousin, Miss Alice Smeath.

Neil A. McGillivray, principal of Cooksville School, is home for vacation.

B. McDonald, of Yaston, is visiting relatives and friends in Goderich and Colborne.

Harry Holmes, of the G. T. R., visited the "old folks" at Christmas. He looks well.

We are pleased to learn that John McGillivray is improving, and is gaining in strength daily.

"Fire and Sword." This thrilling story will shortly appear in THE SIGNAL. Don't fail to read it.

Miss Polly Bonamy returned home on Saturday, accompanied by her cousin, Ernest Jones, of London.

Dr. McDonald, we understand, if meeting with success in Auburn. He spent Christmas in the county metropolis.

Our thanks are tendered to the friends who so kindly and so promptly sent us needed copies of THE SIGNAL of the 15th inst.

John Dutton, druggist, of Stratford, spent a few days at Christmas, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. T. McGillivray.

Alec Saunders wears his arm in a sling "those merrie Xmas times." The trade must have exhausted his muscle.

D. H. Allan, of Toronto, at his Christmas fowl with his relatives at the residence of his brother A. McD. Allan, in town.

Henry Tennant, of West Lynn, the Conservative candidate in northern Manitoba, is visiting his family in Goderich township.

Albert Gooding and James Gordon arrived home from Winnipeg last week, and have been having a merry time with relatives and friends.

Miss Mary Macara, who has been pursuing her studies in Toronto, is home for the holidays. She will return to the Queen's City on January 10th.

D. McGillivray, B.A., classical master, Bradford Collegiate Institute, is home for the holidays. He occupied the pulpit of the Gaelic church on Sunday evening, preaching instead of his father.

The Carrier Boys of THE SIGNAL are still on their rounds. A number of their patrons have given them generous treatment, and those who have overlooked them will receive a visit on New Year's Day.

Rev. R. Hicks, assistant rector of St. George's Church, has received a call to Winnipeg, and, we understand, has accepted it. On Tuesday morning he left for a visit to his home at Chatham, and at an early day will leave for the Manitoba capital.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICES.—The good old custom of "praying the old year out and the new year in," will be observed at the North Street Methodist church on Sunday evening next. The evening service will not begin until 10 o'clock; and will be continued until after midnight.

Miss Oliver is spending her holidays at her home in St. Marys.

J. Edwards, shipped a quantity of fowl to Buffalo for Christmas.

Mrs. John Kirkpatrick and daughter, are the guests of Mrs. M. G. Cameron.

Mrs. McBride, of the "Albion," spent Christmas at her old home near Parkhill.

Mr. John Breckenridge, jr., came home ill on Christmas day, from Manitoba.

J. Kay, of Guelph, and his sister, Mrs. Chillas, spent Christmas with their parents.

The year that is passing away began on Sunday and ends on Sunday, making 53 Sundays in the year.

The list of promotions in the Public Schools has been crowded out this week. The names will appear in our next.

Miss Maud Marston accompanied Mr. Frank Dorsey, from Winnipeg, and will remain with Mrs. Oswald Carey.

Miss Dickson, from Exeter, and her sister, Aggie, from Toronto, daughters of George Dickson, are home for the holidays.

The Clinton New Era has entered its 18th year. It is one of our most welcome exchanges, and is a first-class local newspaper.

The nomination of trustees for the R. C. Separate School on Wednesday last, resulted in the re-election of J. A. McIntosh and D. Currie, and the election of B. McCormack and Peter O'Rourke.

Miss Ida Straubel, accompanied by Mrs. McIntyre, of Toronto, returned home on Saturday, for the holidays. Miss Straubel is most enthusiastic over the Kindergarten System for teaching children.

GAOL SUPPLIES.—The tenders of the following parties were accepted for the coal supplies for the ensuing year: O. A. Nairn, for groceries; S. Andrews, for beef, at 60c per lb.; James Watson, for bread, at 3c. per lb.; Archibald Sands, for wood, at $2.50 a cord.

NORTH-WEST NEWS.—Two very interesting letters from the North-west, one from Cayley Hamilton on Regina and the county therabouts, and the other describing life in the Turtle mountain region as seen by G. W. Stevens, are crowded out, but will appear next week, together with other interesting matter.

QUOTAS.—Charlie Walkinshaw, formerly of this county, writes to the Toronto Mail as follows from Brandon, Manitoba: "Sir.—Having seen in your paper that Mr. Jas. Dobson, of Walkerville, is desirous of meeting the champion of Scotland or any other, I am writing to you many receipts, possibly in return for the nominal amount of our subscription price. We hope to have our capacity strictly tested during the next few weeks.—[E.]

A Very Good Thing to have in every home by everybody, old and young, in country or village, and in cities as well. A marvel of condensed information, both useful and trustworthy, with a Thousand or more Engravings, illustrating labor-saving methods and devices in the Field, in the Garden, and in the Household, Animals, Plants, &c.—with many large beautiful Pictures; Illustrated Stories for and Instructive Talks with Boys and Girls; Plans of Houses, Barns, and Out-Buildings, with Specifications. All these, and much more, will be found in the 42d volume of the American Agriculturist, now beginning, and at less cost than any other else in the world. Its exposures of Humbug, a most valuable feature, is to be pushed with increased vigour. To the previous staff of editors and contributors many additions are now made, including the best writers all over the country. In its prime, this journal enters its 42d volume, more vigorous than ever, with new writers, new artists, new dress, etc. Though prepared at larger expense than most $3 and $4 magazines, it is, owing to its immense circulation, supplied, post-paid, for $1.50 a year, and less to clubs—either English or German edition. Single numbers, 15 cents. One specimen, post-paid, 6 cents. A plate copy of Dupre's last great painting, "IN THE MEADOW," is presented to each yearly subscriber. Address Publishers of American Agriculturist, 751 Broadway, New York.

A GREAT RELIGIOUS MASS MEETING was lately held in the Corn Exchange, Edinburgh, the immediate purpose of which was to bring the upper and middle classes into contact with the lower classes. The meeting was held on a Sabbath day and lasted from half-past nine in the morning till eight in the evening; a change of chairman was made every hour. All day long the exercises went on speech and hymn and recitation alternating with each other, and people of all classes freely moving out of the building and into it. The main topic of discussion was how to reach the lapsed masses, or non-church goers.

A Cairo newspaper says: "The Bedouins were greatly puzzled by the carb of the Highlanders who, they came to the soldiers of the aiders. Distance, of course, encouraged this delusion, as bare legs were obviously more discernible than the men's faces, covered as they were, with veils. The Bedouins noticed that the soldiers' women came by themselves, and they resolved to go down and spoil the infidel soldiers of their wives, and a body of them actually went, with a result which must have added to the wonderment of both, for the British harem turned out with rifle and bayonet, and very speedily thirty or forty of the amorous Bedouins made up the finest set of high art ever brought out by American publishers. Adorn your homes with really meritorious pictures.

FUNERAL SERMON.

On Sunday morning next the funeral sermon of the late Ruth C. Cox will be preached in the North Street Methodist church by Rev. J. Wakefield, her pastor.

"NOT" SOCIAL.—This entertainment, held in the North street Methodist church, lecture room on Friday evening, was fairly attended. The nuts, already cracked, were served in saucers, and many a joke was also cracked as the company stowed away the kernels. Rev. John Wakefield occupied the chair, and introduced a programme consisting of readings by Miss Henderson and E. L. Strang; a quintette by Misses Weston, Wakefield, W. Armstrong and Tweedie; and solos by Miss Weston, Alice Smeeth, S. P. Halls, A. B. Henderson, and the popular vocalist, T. Joslin. Mr. J. M. G. gave a short address near the close.

CHRISTMAS BOATS.—Notwithstanding counter attractions, there was a good attendance at the Christmas entertainment of the M. E. Sunday School, held in the church on Friday evening last. The proceedings began in the basement, and were opened by prayer from the Rev. J. A. Turnbull. A number of the children acquitted themselves very creditably in recitations, dialogues and choruses, the closing dialogue bringing out nearly the full strength of the company. A two masted boat, called the "Dove," was bedecked with presents up stairs, and thither the audience repaired to witness the degarishing of the trim little craft. This was performed in a very interesting manner, and the young folks of the school (and some old folks, too) went home happy with their presents. Rev. J. W. Sutton and his assistants deserve credit for the manner in which the entertainment was got up.

ALWAYS TAKE RECEIPTS.—At this time of the year all persons are making more or less payment of money. In many cases the amounts are small, and they consider it derogatory to their dignity or honesty to take a receipt. This is a wrong principle, and only recently we have observed several disputes over settlements which might have been avoided if all transactions, however small, had been conducted on a proper business basis. The more intimate you are with the more reason is there to have every transaction thoroughly understood. Nothing preserves friendship better than correct settlements. It is very little trouble for anyone receiving money to give a receipt for it. So far as we are concerned we shall only be too glad to elucidate our accounts as being as many receipts as possible in return for the nominal amount of our subscription price. We hope to have our capacity strictly tested during the next few weeks.—[E.]

A Cairo newspaper says: "The Bedouins were greatly puzzled by the carb of the Highlanders who, they came to the soldiers of the aiders. Distance, of course, encouraged this delusion, as bare legs were obviously more discernible than the men's faces, covered as they were, with veils. The Bedouins noticed that the soldiers' women came by themselves, and they resolved to go down and spoil the infidel soldiers of their wives, and a body of them actually went, with a result which must have added to the wonderment of both, for the British harem turned out with rifle and bayonet, and very speedily thirty or forty of the amorous Bedouins made up the finest set of high art ever brought out by American publishers. Adorn your homes with really meritorious pictures.

A Great Religious Mass Meeting was lately held in the Corn Exchange, Edinburgh, the immediate purpose of which was to bring the upper and middle classes into contact with the lower classes. The meeting was held on a Sabbath day and lasted from half-past nine in the morning till eight in the evening; a change of chairman was made every hour. All day long the exercises went on speech and hymn and recitation alternating with each other, and people of all classes freely moving out of the building and into it. The main topic of discussion was how to reach the lapsed masses, or non-church goers.
