The Mudania Conference.

The Allies obviously are clearly not going to yield to the demands of the Kemalists for an immediate military evacuation of Constantinople, nor yet for the offensive order of the Nationalists that they must—must if you please—salute the flag of the Ankara Government. The further demand of the enforcement of the status quo ante that warships of all nations must ask permission of the new Turk Government for permits before being allowed to proceed through the Dardanelles is as insulting as it is impossible. The Turk evidently imagines that he is in a position to dictate to Europe and impose his wishes on the Allies, just because he happened to inflict a defeat upon the Greeks, and because international relations between the Allies had become somewhat strained over certain matters relating to their own agreements and affairs. It would be too great a surrender of principle if the Turkish Nationalists, headed by Mustafa Kemal, were given their head in such matters and granted a loose riding rein, and quite unexpectedly Britain and France have served notice on them that the Mudania Convention must be respected. These two nations are not willing to permit the agreement made at that place to become a mere scrap of paper to be torn up at the Turk's sweet will and pleasure. The conditions laid down at the Mudania Conference, between the Allies, Greeks and Turks, numbered thirteen, which may be summarized briefly. The Greeks were to evacuate all Turkish territory within fifteen days, their places to be taken by Allied troops progressively. The Greek civil authorities, including the Gendarmerie, were to be withdrawn as soon as possible, their powers to be handed over to the Allied authorities, who would transfer them to the Turkish authorities on the same day; the transfer was to be complete within thirty days of the Greek evacuation. The Turkish civil authorities were to be accompanied by a force of 8000 Turkish gendarmes—the strength deemed strictly necessary to maintain order. Internal missions located in the principal centres were to supervise the evacuation and transfer of authority; in addition allied contingents, amounting to seven battalions, were to ensure public order and support the missions. These missions and contingents were to be withdrawn in thirty days following the Greek evacuation, and earlier if the Allied Governments were convinced that the non-Turkish population would be adequately protected. The Ankara Government was to withdraw all Turkish troops from the zone of Allied occupation, and new neutral zones in the Chanak and Ismid areas were to be defined by mixed commissions. The zone of Allied occupation was—carried about thirty miles west of the Tchatalja line, and the allied Gallipoli zone was to include all territory south of the Bakla and Bulair line. The Allies would bring in no new forces and would not construct fortifications on the Straits. The Turks agreed to respect the neutral zones until the Allied withdrawal. The Ankara Government bound itself not to transport troops into Eastern Thrace nor to raise and maintain an army there until the final ratification of peace. The Allies have strictly adhered to their part of the agreement. Not so the Turks, hence the creation of a new and perilous situation.

Reserve Your Judgment.

Until all the conditions of the Humber Deal are known and carefully considered, it is, of course, untimely and unseemly to either praise or blame it. The Advocate, for instance, has, from the outset, shown its determination to support the deal regardless of cost. Mr. Coaker wires an eulogium from Port Union, though he, very likely, has no clear conception of the details. The political motive actuating both the Advocate and Mr. Coaker is obvious. It would, however, be just as wrong and foolish to disparage as it is to exaggeratedly praise, until the facts are known. A British guarantee for half the promotion money has been given, which, superficially looks well, but is that guarantee a first charge on the property, and is this Colony to give a further and equal guarantee, which shall rank only as a second charge? Is the money from the British guarantee to be spent in Great Britain for machinery, and is the money to be spent in Newfoundland to be raised entirely on the guarantee of the Colony? Then, what price is to be paid the Reids, by the Colony, for the Railway and Dry Dock? This is a fishing colony, and the fisheries must pay all charges. It will not do to crush the life out of our fishermen even to give labor to a few amidst the snows of winter and the flies of summer.

Jubilate (?)

The Advocate's cup of joy is filled to overflowing if the Jubilate which it sang yesterday in bold headlines and heavy black type may be taken as evidence of its exultation over the long winded message from the big chief at Port Union, announcing that the British end of the Humber Deal has been signed. But the one note of fear is contained in the expression "the Government feeling confident of our Legislature living up to its part of the agreement." There has been no promise of agreement on the part of the Legislature of this Colony, nor has it any part to live up to, within the limits placed upon the alleged passage of the agreement for a guarantee by the British Government. The proposed employment of five thousand men immediately narrowed down to a period of five years, during which, according to Mr. Coaker, the Humber Valley will become a hive of industry and the scene of unlimited employment and prosperity. But until something more than the mere idle drift of the President of the F.P.U. is known, our advice to the country at large is of the Aquilian type "wait and see." There is many a slip twixt the Humber and a Colonial guarantee of millions, to be wrung from the already overburdened taxpayers.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 8.
We have had several enquiries of late for Kruschen Salts, an English preparation which has lately come prominently to the front, as very valuable for rheumatism, gout, liver troubles and certain forms of skin disease. We are glad to be able to announce that we are now in a position to supply the demand for these salts. Those who have used Kruschen Salts on the other side speak so highly of them that it would appear that all that is necessary for them to become popular, is that they should be known. To those suffering from rheumatic and gouty affections, we strongly suggest a trial of Kruschen Salts. Price 90c. a pkz.

Express Passengers.

S.S. Kyle arrived at Port aux Basques at 8.50 a.m., bringing the following passengers: J. E. Mulligan, W. P. and Max Kent, O. and Mrs. Erickson, J. F. Welch, G. A. Cooper, Jas. Sweet, Mrs. F. F. Lucas, Miss E. Lucas, Miss A. Duke, T. J. Benham, W. James, L. Chafe, G. Penney.

West Joins North In Support of Resolutions.

DETERMINATION STRONGER THAN EVER.

The following message from the Chairman of the Northern United Fishermen was received yesterday afternoon by Mr. A. B. Morine K.C.

WESLEYVILLE, Nov. 7.

A. B. Morine, St. John's.
"Mass meeting of Greenspond and Wesleyville fishermen held here last night showed stronger determination than ever to see the resolutions through. All will be ready to leave after one fine day. Much indignation is aroused over the abominable lies in the Advocate of October 31st. We have wired the Advocate demanding denial of same or the signature to the message. We are still solid."

UNITED FISHERMEN,
JESSE WINSOR,
Chairman.

The fishermen of other parts of the coast are heart and soul with the United Fishermen of the north as is evidenced by the following special message from Placentia Bay to the Daily News:

"Hail United Fishermen of the North! Remember its no idle word to say we of the West are with you heart and soul. Your manly efforts to better conditions for all of us are truly and fully appreciated. The clouds of desolation and despair in which we are enveloped at the present time, let us hope will be continued united effort, be rent in twain and the sun of prosperity be given a chance to again cast its rays upon poor Newfoundland. Drive it now, boys. Force reduction of taxation. Drive to the wall—yes and under it all over-paid officials and worse than all the totally unnecessary ones. Make the business of the country be done by only the number of officials that did the work ten years ago—and did it better too. Then United Fishermen—no till then, we say, will four and five dollars a quintal for fish enable us to live independently. Then and not till then will this Dominion be in a position to be regarded other than as a poverty stricken land. Drive it, Northern Brothers. Every fisherman west of Cape Race not with you in person is loyal to you heart and mind and anxiously awaiting the outcome. UNITED WESTERN FISHERMEN." Placentia Bay, Oct. 31st, 1922.

Masonic Card Tournament.

The weekly auction forty-five tournament, which is one of the features of the Masonic Club entertainment for members during the fall and winter months, was played last night in the spacious banquet room of the Temple. The fortunate winner of the first prize, with the highest score, was Bro. F. Hamlin, while Bro. A. Diamond fell the honor of carrying off the reward for the lowest number of points made.

Ping Pong Tournament.

MANY EXCITING GAMES.
The members of the Ping Pong League have to-date played a most excellent series of games up to the end of the first round. The last two remaining games of the opening round fixtures proved very interesting, while excitement reigned supreme for many minutes in the dying stages of the games. The C.E.I. defeated the Feldmans two sets to one. Mr. R. H. Tait deserves special mention for some difficult shots played. L. Munn's team won out from St. Andrews' also by two sets to one in a game that was bristling with many clever shots and smart plays. The second round of the series will be continued tonight when the Dundfield Club clashes with L. Munn's team, and R. B. Job's team with that of the C.E.I.

Gower Street Mission Circle.

HAD SUCCESSFUL SALE AND TEA.

The Gower Street Mission Circle held a most successful sale of work and tea last evening in the lecture room of Gower Street. The sale was opened at 3 o'clock by Mrs. Hammond Johnson and from then to the close the young ladies attending the circle had a busy time. From 5 to 7 o'clock delicious high teas were served, and the tables were largely patronized. This was followed by a concert of which the following is the programme:—
Piano solos by Miss Elsie Tait and Mr. Gordon Christian; vocal solos by Mesdames Harvey, Small and Gordon Christian and Mr. H. Courtenay; reading by Mrs. H. Outerbridge and Mrs. G. Garland and Miss Maund.

Seaman Reported Drowned.

GEN. IRONSIDES LOSES MATE.
A message was received by the Deputy Minister of Customs to-day from the sub-collector at Change Islands stating that the schooner General Ironsides reported the loss of Mate Grady on Nov. 3rd, whilst about 115 miles East of Cape St. Francis. The General Ironsides with a load of salt from Setubal met with very stormy weather, the passage occupying 33 days. The unfortunate seaman was not married.

Sealing Steamers On Dock.

The steamers Neptune and Ranger, which have been undergoing extensive repairs at the dry dock for the past four weeks, will come off the slips in a few days. The Neptune has received a thorough overhauling on the exterior of her hull, whilst a new keel has also been placed in position. A staff of men is at present busy engaged placing a new propeller shaft in the Ranger.

Pupils Granted Holiday.

IN HONOR OF FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

The pupils of St. Bonaventures College were granted a half holiday yesterday in honor of their football team winning the Inter-Collegiate Championship for the season of 1922. The winning of the much coveted trophy this year is all the more creditable, in that St. Bon's has been successful for the past ten years, thus establishing a record which will go down in the annals of college football history for some years to come. The friends and supporters of their Alma Mater intend to dine the footballers at a later date, when they will be right royally entertained.

Gravel Analyzed.

GOLD IN LABRADORITE.

A box of gravel brought recently from Labrador, and taken from the vicinity of the new gold discovery, has been subjected to analysis, and shows to be high in contents of the precious metal. Specks of the mineral can be seen without the aid of magnifying glasses in some of the pebbles. The latter are said to be pieces of Labradorite.

Meigle Not Reported.

The Reid Nfld. Co. has not received word from S.S. Meigle since Monday morning. Leaving port the ship steered in a N.E. direction. The distance to the disabled S.S. Canadian Seigneur from where the ship first wirelessed is some 500 miles off the coast. It is quite probable that the Meigle is making good progress towards her, and is now out of all wireless communication with land.

More Galena Discoveries

PAINT VEIN LEASED.

Two discoveries of galena ore have been made recently at Fox Harbor, some short distance across the Sound from Argentea. Mining leases covering the property have been granted to the Silver Cliff Mining Co. This company has also secured a lease of claim No. 9 which adjoins their property at Argentea. No. 9 has been known for scores of years as the paint vein and large quantities of oxide of lead have been taken out by the residents from time to time and used.

Sued for Wrongful Dismissal.

PLAINTIFF GETS JUDGMENT.

Judgment in the matter of John Mitchell vs. Ellis & Co. Ltd., was handed down yesterday by Judge Morris in the Magistrate's Court, the plaintiff being awarded the sum of $150. The action was taken for wrongful dismissal arising out of a three years' agreement between the plaintiff, who is a native of Scotland, and the defendant, who conducts a well known delicatessen store. The agreement was terminable at 6 months notice on either side, but the plaintiff could be dismissed if he did anything that under law would justify the action. No evidence that anything unlawful had been done was produced by the defendant, and judgment was given for $150 with a $5 brief fee for counsel, it being his first case. Mr. W. J. Browne, B.A., B.Sc., appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. H. A. Winter, B.A., appeared for Ellis & Co. Ltd.

Bowling League Meets.

The meeting of the Commercial Bowling League will be held in the recreation hall of the Grenfell Institute to-night at 8 o'clock. Business to transact will be the drawing of the schedule for the proposed games and compilation of rules and regulations governing same. Mr. C. R. Ayre, the President, will be in the chair.

Rotary Club Luncheon.

MR. C. E. HUNT ADDRESSES MEETING.

The Rotary Club met at the Green Lantern yesterday at 1 p.m., the weekly luncheon being presided over by Rotarian William A. Tucker. Included in the number present was Rotarian Alex. Montgomery of the Halifax Club, Messrs. H. J. Crowe, F. W. Bradshaw and Dr. J. Murphy. The Committee, who for the past two weeks have been engaged making a house to house canvass on a Boy's Life Survey, reported that excellent progress had been made, some thirty-one hundred cards having already been filled to date. Rotarian H. E. Cowan, introduced to the Club Mr. Wm. Barker, who received the hand of good fellowship by all present.

The speaker of the day was the President, Rotarian C. E. Hunt, who outlined the programme of International Rotary on Business methods. Throughout the world all Rotary Clubs have a programme which deals with the application of the principles of the Club to business and professional life, which is held chiefly in November of each year. The speaker, for some minutes traced the growth of the work performed by the International Committee, and dealt with the plans outlined by them for the present month.

The local club, after having had such an address as delivered by Mr. Hunt, decided to take its part in the world-wide movement, and at each of the meetings during the present month, selected speakers will address the members on the ethical standards to be encouraged and fostered in business and professional life. The speaker for next week will be Mr. Leonard Outerbridge, and on the following Tuesday Mr. H. A. Winter.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker of the day, on motion of Rotarian Tucker, by acclamation.

Obituary.

MR. JAMES LYON.

It is with feelings of regret that the Telegram records the passing of the prominent and well-known person of Mr. James Lyons Noonan, who breathed his last at 7 o'clock. Mr. Noonan was in his 72nd year, but for some years had been suffering from serious illness which necessitated his removal to the General Hospital. Some days under the treatment of the hospital staff, Mr. Noonan had made considerable improvement, but on Saturday afternoon he was removed from the hospital to his home, where he died at 7 o'clock. The deceased was the Secretary of the St. John's branch of the St. John's Ambulance Association, which position he held continuously for many years, his genial and helpful efforts being the successful result of his important annual report of the privileges of the organization. Mr. Noonan was a member of the St. John's branch of the St. John's Ambulance Association, and he had been a member of the association for many years. The late Mr. Noonan was an enthusiastic member of the association, and his efforts were the successful result of his important annual report of the privileges of the organization.
