We understand that the intervie yesterday, between the Provincial Treasurer, and the Mayor, the Clerk and Mr. Massie, in regard to the pay-ment of our indebtedness to the Muni-cipal Loan Fund, was of a very satis-factory character; also that the whole ion is in a fair way of being

The accident was undoubtedly caused by the spreading out of the wing rail of the frog, at which the cars went off. There were no broken rails or uxles, which makes it evident that the spreading of the rails was the only cause. The track at this point is in excellent condition, and what force was brought to bear on the wing rail to make it spread has not transpired. Mr. Furness, conductor of the train, received scrious injury, causing concussion of the brain; he is at the station-master's house, and on Wedores day afternoon was reported to be somewhat letter, though still lying in a precarious condition. Most of the other passengers injured were Americans going west. Their injuries are not of a scrious character, and most of them will be able to resume their jurney in a day or two. Within an hour after a telegram was sent, a train with six medical men, supplies for wounded, and men to repair the track arrived. Medical men from Grimsby and St. Catharines rendered prompt assistance.

An American View of Manitoba.

From the St. Paul Dispatch.

Last evening a number of weather-beaten citizens of St. Paul returned from a trip to the Red River country and Manitoba. The party consisted of Capts. Hawkins and C. S. Bunker, Geo. S Acker, Col. Remmy, of New York, and others whose names have not been ascertained.

The St Paul delegation report themselves as pleased and surprised at the magnificence and fertility of the Red River country, and the trip has been a thoroughly enjoyable one in every respect.

Work on the St Vincent extention of the St Paul and Pacific road has been suspended for the season, the last mem-ber of the engineer's corps returning with the party to St Paul. The track has been laid twenty miles north west of Cooksville or Red Lake Crossing, but trains are not to be run further north than the crossing where they connect been laid twenty miles north west of Cooksville or Red Lake Crossing, but trains are not to be run further north than the crossing where they connect with the steamers to Fort Garry. The people are surprised and disappointed at the suspension of work on the line, but take courage from the fact that the suspension is only temporary.

Captain Hawkins, from whom these particulars have been obtained, states an immerse quantity of freight is being forwarded by rail and river to the merchants of the Red River and Winnipeg, there being now stored and awaiting transportation at the Crossing, 200 tons of freight, the major portion of it being bonded goods from the English markets.

The boats make the round trip from the Crossing to Fort Garry and return in about twelve days, but their capacity being limited, they are unable to move the freight as fast as it arrives by rail.

There is a great tide of emigration to the Red River Valley and Manitoba, and it is confidently predicted that they will soon become two of the garden spots of the continent.

As an indication of the productiveness of the soil, the fact may be mentioned that \(\theta\) fifty bushels of wheat per arce have been raised in Manitoba this year, and the grain of the best quality.

The party speak in highest terms of the hospitality of the old settlers of Manitoba—many of whom left Sociand long years ago, and have itwed continuously at their homes in the north, without bothering themselves with the turnoils of the outer world, Among those living in Manitoba since 1842, is John Inkster, an hale and hospitable Soci, who has dug $200,000 out of his farm, and seems able to add to his pile in his days to come on earth. He is a model in his demeanor and hospitable Soci, who has dug $200,000 out of his farm, and seems able to add to his pile in his days to come on earth. After leaving Inkster's hospitable hearth, the party had occasion to cross the Assimboine River, and, in doing so, Capt Hawkins accidently fell in. The Capt speaks positively, but with a vein of salness, when he saw that Capt Bunker and George Acker were prompt to save the wine first, and then devote a little attention to himself.

The gentlemen return greatly pleased with the country visited and the people, and hope to repeat the experiment at some future day.

The Proposed new General Hospital.
To the Editor of the Mercury.
Sur,—In to-day's Herald I notice that the Editor asks for information relative to the Guelph/General Hospital. This Hospital was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1861, but the act of incorporation has never been carried out. The act of incorporation appoints the clergy of the different denominations, with other citizers, as provisional directors, who are different denominations, with other citizens, as provisional directors, who are empowered to act until such time as directors are appointed and the institution got into working order. The Directors, twelve in number, are to be chosen by ballot of subscribers and donors within

The death of Mrs Horace Greely, wife of the Liberal candidate for the Presidency, which is announced in to-day's telegram, will be read, at the present juncture with special regret, occurring, as it it did, almost on the eve of the Presidential election, which may result in placing her husband in the highest office in the gift of the American people. The blow must fall upon Mr Greeley himself with special force under the circum stances.

The Accident on the Great Western. Further particulars are received of the accident on the Great Western Railway, at Beamsville, on Tuesday. There is no don's that the passengers owe their safety to the great strength of the Pulman and Wagner cars; for had they broken ion.
