Dr. Potts here came to Dr. Burwash's denfense, declaring that Canadian Methodism from ocean to ocean never had a finer man than Chancellor Burwash. "There is not today," said he, 'a man in Queen's Park who commands the influence educationally that Dr. Burwash commands. He is a man whose brilliant scholarship is com-manding the attention of the university authorities more than any other man in Queen's Park today. Dr. Potts concluded with the assertion that h personally, was one of the ancier Methodists who retain tradition efs, which have made Methodism

Then a number of Dr. Burwash's friends found their voices. "We have confidence in Dr. Burwash," said Rev. E. M. Baker. "It is unfortunate that this discussion should have been misunderstood as representing a feeling of hostility to Dr. Burwash." Mr. McDonagh was on his feet in a moment protesting against the last speaker's remarks, and declaring that | this conference would not be browbeaten by the name of "scholarship."
"Dr. Burwash is all right, and Dr. Workman's book is a good one,"

clared Rev. A. Cunningham, and the THE EXAMINING BOARD. The following resolution was then adopted: Moved by E. N.
