Mr. Peter Elson, Conservative candidate for East Middlesex, held a campaign meeting in the village of Thorndale last evening. The magnificent hall, had horses were allowed to come in of which the village and township are proud, had not many occupants at 7:30, the time scheduled for the meeting, but by 8:15 a comfortable-sized crowd had gathered. In addition to the candidate three "lawyers from London" dressed the meeting, namely Messrs. Ew Meredith, E. T. Essery and P. H. Bartlett, secretary of the East Middle-Sex Conservative Association. Mr. Meredith, who spoke first, devoted most of his time to discussing election scandals, chiefly in connection with the given an attentive, although not enthusiastic, hearing.
