Fire in Rubbish Heap.

The fire department had a run about 9:30 last evening to the rear of Sansone & Catalano's store on Dundas street, a pile of rubbish having caught fire in some manner. There are many frame buildings, including Ferguson & McAdam's livery near the spot, and it might have been very serious had it got a good start.

Oke, two of the largest breeders in this section, have many entries, while Ald. J. H. Saunders, Mr. John Pringle, Bert Adams, M. Kylie, Hughes & Taylor, and a score or more other breeders have sent large shipments. A number of dog fanciers have also sent exhibits to the fair.

Runaway Hits Pole.

A horse belonging to Mr. Chancey Smith, on the market, caused a few thrills yesterday afternoon. The animal was standing in front of the store, and becoming frightened at an automobile, cut across the market, through the butcher stalls, and headed straight for a shop on south King street. Fortunately, the animal swerved a bit, and struck a telephone pole instead. The horse and rig were piled up in a heap on the walk. The rig was badly smashed, but the horse was only slightly injured.

CITY TO VOTE ON NEW BRIDGE

Board of Works Recommends That It Be Brought Before Voters.

At a meeting of the board of works last night it was decided to instruct City Engineer Wright to prepare estimates of the cost of a bridge at the Wharncliffe road, connecting South and West London, and the council was recommended to submit a bylaw to the people next January to raise funds for this purpose.

A number of petitions were presented asking that a bridge be built, and the committee thought it better to allow the people to vote on the question.

CYCLISTS COLLIDE

One Painfully Hurt and the Other Decamps in a Panic.

Mr. Ed Hyatt, Egerton street, was painfully injured in a bicycle collision yesterday afternoon, several stitches being necessary to close a wound in his head. He was riding along Wellington street, when a cyclist from the other direction, becoming confused, ran into him, throwing him from his wheel. Hyatt struck on the back of his head, and was rendered unconscious. The man who caused the accident jumped on his wheel and made off. Hyatt was taken to a drug store, and a physician called. He was able to go to his residence in an hour or two.

KHIVA'S KHAN DEAD.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—The Russian governor-general of Turkestan telegraphs that the Khan of Khiva, Seid Mohammed Kakhim Bahadur, died on Aug. 29 from paralysis of the heart.

Roman Catholic International Eucharistic Congress, Montreal, Sept. 6 to 11, 1910.

For this event the low rate of single first-class fare, plus 25 cents, for the round trip has been made by the Grand Trunk Railway, the only double-track line, and the route of Canada's fastest and best train, the "International Limited." Tickets will be good going Sept. 3 to 10, valid returning until Sept. 15, and apply from all stations in Canada west of Kingston, also from Buffalo and Detroit. This makes the round trip rate to Montreal from London $13.20. Remember that a double track line contributes to safety, that the excellence of the Grand Trunk roadbed is conceded, that its dining-car service is unrivalled, and that the ride along Lake Ontario shore and in view of the St. Lawrence makes the trip a delight. Early application in sleeping or parlor cars should be made to Grand Trunk agents, or address J. D. McDonald, district passenger agent, Toronto, Ont.

CURTISS WINS DASH WITH TRAIN

He Flies From Cedar Point to Cleveland Despite Bad Winds.

BEATS A FAST EXPRESS

Aviator Starts in Rain That He May Race With Cars Carrying Mrs. Curtiss.

Cleveland, Sept. 1.—Racing with a fast Lake Shore mail train, Glenn H. Curtiss, the Hammondsport, N. Y., aviator, today drove his bi-plane over the water from Cedar Point to Euclid Beach, an airline distance of 60 miles, completing a 120-mile round trip flight begun yesterday and establishing an unquestioned world's record for over-the-water flights. Incidentally, he beat the train into Cleveland a full 17 minutes.

Encountering contrary air currents, Mr. Curtiss was unable to maintain a high rate of speed, taking 1 hour and 42 minutes for the flight. The actual distance traversed, estimated at the United States hydrograph office, was 64¾ miles.

At 2:47 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Curtiss ascended over Lake Erie from the sandy beach of Cedar Point.

At 4:12 p.m. the aeroplane, after fighting a 19-mile breeze all the way, passed the centre of Cleveland and reached Euclid Beach at exactly 4:29 p.m.

Police Save Him From Crowd.

A great crowd of 50,000 people gathered on the beach, surrounded him and insisted on shaking his hands, but police rescued him and took him to a telephone over which he greeted Mrs. Curtiss, who had just arrived at her hotel. She was on the train which Mr. Curtiss distanced.

A drizzling rain was falling when Mr. Curtiss gave the order for the starting of his motor. All morning weather conditions had been unpropitious and thousands of excursionists who had gathered at the point had almost given up hope of seeing the flight. At noon, however, the aviator announced that he would make a trial flight, which he did, reaching an altitude of 500 feet, which he maintained for eight minutes. He then determined to start on his 60-mile journey at 3:15 p.m., but when it was found that the train bearing Mrs. Curtiss would leave Sandusky earlier he changed his mind and set out, despite the rain.

Breeze Necessitates Manoeuvres.

He encountered considerable difficulty in navigating the treacherous currents above Lake Erie. The first 10 miles were covered in 13 minutes, but after that the breeze, which had been steady, grew gusty, necessitating many dips and manoeuvres that the aviator might maintain his balance.

Off Cleveland harbor the velocity of the breeze had diminished to 12 miles an hour, but it was unsteady, and the 100,000 people lining the lake front and perched on the top of every available building had an opportunity of judging the difficulty of air navigation under unfavorable conditions.

Tonight the aviator, his wife and the members of his party were entertained at a banquet given by the Cleveland Aero Club. They will leave for the east in the morning.

LOUISA STREET FOLK CLASH OVER SIDEWALK

North and South Side Residents Differ as to How It Should Be Constructed.

A deputation, consisting of Messrs. North and McDougall, of Louisa street, appeared before the board of words last night, and asked that the sidewalk to be constructed on the south side of Louisa street be not built nine feet from the street line as proposed, but placed within two feet, as on the north side. The proposed location of the walk was an injustice to them, they claimed. On the other hand, Messrs. Fullerton, Kennedy and Knox, residents of the south side of the street, declared that the change would be of considerable advantage to them.

After a long discussion, the committee decided to leave the matter in abeyance, and in the meantime, the residents will come to some agreement as to the location of the walk.

Mr. George A. Burdick appeared before the committee and stated that it would be impossible to finish the decorating of the East End Hall, according to the specifications, and make it a satisfactory job. Mr. Burdick was instructed to send a communication to the council to that effect, as the committee had not power to change the specifications without instructions.

City Engineer Wright recommended some changes in the grade of the Dundas street hill, and suggested that a cedar block pavement be laid. The recommendation was sent to the council.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Tancock (chairman), Ald. Saunders, Ald. Morgan, Ald. Pocock, City Engineer Wright, and Secretary S. Baker.

LEADING MERCHANT DEAD

Mr. Andrew Darling, of Toronto, Expires Very Suddenly.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Mr. Andrew Darling, head of the Andrew Darling Company, and one of Toronto's most prominent wholesalers, dropped dead this morning at his home on Sussex street. Apoplexy is believed to have been the cause of death.

Mr. Darling was for many years associated with the old wholesale firm of Wyld & Darling, and when this firm, after the big fire of five or six years ago, sold its assets and goodwill and retired, he went into the wholesale cloth and clothing business.

Mr. Darling, who was of Scotch descent, was born in Montreal in 1853. He leaves a widow, but no family. A brother, William Darling, lives in Montreal.

PLUCKY ENGINEER KILLS HIGHWAYMAN

Foils Bold Attempt to Rifle Express Car and Passengers of His Train.

[Associated Press.]

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 2. — In a desperate attempt to hold up the westbound Colorado Midland train, No. 3, four miles west of Divide, early this morning, an unknown bandit was instantly killed by a rock thrown by Engineer Frank Stewart, after he had shot the engineer in the leg. Sterling and Charles Martin, two young men, who were found near the scene of the hold-up, are held for investigation as to their complicity in the robbery. Sterling Martin was wounded slightly in the head by a bullet.

The highwayman crawled over the tender as the train slowed up at a siding to meet the eastbound train. As he stopped the train, Stewart turned to see his fireman, Paul Bachman, standing with his hands above his head, and heard the robber say:

"Put up your hands or I'll blow your head off."

The robber then forced both men to leave the engine and marched before him to the express car.

According to the story told by Stewart, who was brought to a hospital here, the robber ordered them to tell the express messenger that they were in peril of their lives, that the train had been held up and that the robbers were determined to have the money in the express car. Stewart states that the robber fired several shots at the heads of passengers who looked out to see what was happening.

Hit Him With Rock.

"When we got to the express car," said Stewart, "my fireman dashed under the car and crawled to the other side. The robber leaned under the car to shoot at him, and when he took his eyes off me I struck him with all my strength with a rock I had picked up as I jumped off the tender.

"Before the rock hit him he whirled around and shot at me. I must have fainted then, for the next I knew the conductor and express messenger and a group of excited passengers were standing over me."

When the remainder of the train crew heard the shot they seized weapons and rushed to the head of the train, firing as they came.

Stewart was given immediate attention by physicians who were on board the train and was brought to Colorado Springs. His condition is not serious.

Shortly after the hold-up Sheriff Von Puhl and a posse scoured the country near the scene of the attempted hold-up, and discovered the Martin brothers hiding in the bush.

Sterling Martin was dazed by a bullet wound in the head. He is out on parole from the state reformatory. The Martins claim they were riding the "blind baggage" and were beating their way to Grand Junction. They said Sterling Martin was struck by a stray bullet from the bandit's gun. They are held for investigation.

The dead robber wore a cloth mask and a gunnysack tied about his neck. He was armed with two revolvers, which had evidently been unused for some time. The engineer and fireman say he spoke with a Swedish accent.

There was nothing on his person to identify him. His body was left at the scene of the hold-up until the arrival of the coroner from Cripple Creek.

There was no unusual shipment of money in the express car, but the bandit told the fireman as they marched along the train that he intended to rifle the passengers as well as the Wells-Fargo express.

NO QUORUM FOR FINANCE COMMITTEE

There was no quorum at the finance committee last night, Ald. Richter and Mayor Beattie being the only members who turned up. There were several communications read, but no action taken.

A bylaw to grant $5,000 to the Western University was sent on to the city council.

A couple of yards of accounts were checked over by his worship and Ald. Richter.
