Conservative Chieftain Declares Time Will Be Ample For Irish Legislation.

ILLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS

Tells Crowd At St. Pancras Station He Is Prepared For Fight.

LONDON, Oct. 20 .- (By the Associated Press).-In the still highly speculative political situation tonight only two facts stood out as definite-that there will be almost immediately a general election, and that par- drift back into the regular Unionist liamentary ratification of the Irish constitution is safely assured.

which will take the place of that There was a general agreement that advise King George immediately to dissolve Parliament, and Either plan would be practicable, the only point being that ratification of the Irish treaty must be effected Whichever course is adopted. Irish legislation is quite safe from any attempt to frustrate an Irish settlement.

Mr. Lloyd George, in a message sent to William Cosgrave, president! of the Dail Eireann, has removed any fear of opposition from him in his new position as leader of the opposition in Parliament. The Marquis of Salisbury, on behalf of the "diehards," has made a similar promise, so there is no party in the House of Commons that is likely to offer any hindrance to the carying of the rish treaty into effect.

Will Reveal Plans Today. The retiring premier left today for Leeds "with his sword in his hand," as he asserted in a short address at the St. Pancras station prior to his departure. Although he delivered five addresses from the near of his car on the way to Leeds, he has left revelation of what his tactics will be. Nov. 10. There is intense curiosity everywhere as to what line his speed will take-whether he has any new domestic reforms or legislative plans to propose as a new election battletry. There have been rumors that he has some new plan for unemployment insurance, with a view to detaching the Labor vote from the Four Parties Now. Mr. Lloyd George, who during the sections, has now done the same thing by the Unionist party. Thus, instead of the two original parties there are now four, with the Labor party making the fifth. There will no longer be an Irish party, which for so many years, during the great home rule agitation, was able to dominate the Westminster parliament by throwing its 70 members to whichever side it chose. With the five separate parties, it is clear that no single party can form a big enough loc to carry on a government not aided by further alliances. It has to the organization that won the war. be remembered that the whole of the election machinery and the funds of the Conservative party, belong to the rebellious Younger section of that

Mr. Lloyd George is credited with intentions to create a center party. This would necessitate the creation also of new party ma ainery and party funds, for the former premier has no such funds or machinery at resent at his disposal

No general election for many years has presented problems whose solution is so difficult to forecast. One of the weekly political reviews declares that it will turn upon the simple question, for or against Lloyd George, and therefore will be a purely personal matter. There is no great question now before the country for the electorate to decide, and from the slight indication already offered, the ex-premier, who is in a great fighting mood, seems to turn the whole contest on the personal equation.

Political circles consider that it will be interesting to watch and see how far the Conservative electorate will follow the Bonar Law ministry in throwing off allegiance to Lloyd George, and whether his personal lieutenants, Lord Balfour, Lord Birkenhead, Austen Chamberlain, Sir Robert Horne and others who followed their chief into the wilderness, will he able to maintain the somewhat anomalous position as Conservative advertising, and findeth in the Want

WALL STREET REVIEW

New York, Oct. 21.—Prices of stocks moved with an erratic trend in this week's market because of the heavy speculation in high-priced shares based on deciaration of stock dividends and rumors of the same. Bond prices also were shaded, selling being attributed to large institutions desiring to provide for more funds to meet the increasing demands for commercial credit, and to a switching from standard lines to the new government 4½ per cent bonds. Industrial stocks reached a new high average for the year on Monday, but the rapidity of the advance at that time convinced professional traders that it had gone too far, and consequently the trend of the next three days was a reactionary one, recovery setting in on Friday morning. Violent fluctuations of such stocks as Mexican Petroleum and Standard Oil of New Jersey, and the fall of the Lloyd George ministry undoubtedly kept many small traders away from the market.

There was little change in the domestic business situation. A slight decrease in car loadings was not regarded as particularly significant. Weekly trade reviews predicted that the pres-
