the value of the landlout of their own pockets, as the cost of making the drive will exceed the value of the land.

Another feature in the case to be considered is this: The eastern boundary of the park is densely wooded and stables and outhouses are erected close to the park line; the forest is thus hable at any moment to fire. If an open space were made like the proposed "road" it would afford more protection from that danger. It becomes the council to take a prospective view of what this park will be in ten years from now, land selling to-day as $20 per foot yvill then, in all human probability, fetch $100 per foot facing the eastern portion of the park. Who would like to see the folly of repeating the Queen-street College-avenue over again, where nearly all the outhouses and water closets front on one of the most beautiful avenues in America. If this improvement is made costly residences will be built on the line of the drive superior to those in the Queen's Park north of the Parlament Buildings, producing an immense revenue to the city exchequer.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of direction and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected. Cocon, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy dostors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up nutil strong enough to resist overy tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maindies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a wenk point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by seeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Sorvice Gazette.
