

Is the Sunday School Library What it Ought to be?

Are NEW BOOKS added from time to time? * * * * *
Have you thought what your DUTY, in this respect, is to the School?

IF NOT

Think of what good can be done by adding the new books, and keeping up the interest. Don't wait until the library has fallen into disuse. You can get the new books as they come to hand, and pay for them in the usual way. Make arrangements for new books to be sent you as we receive them, with the privilege of returning what are not wanted. We are willing to make these arrangements for the benefit of our schools, that they may be up-to-date and of interest to all from the youngest to the oldest. A trial of the above plan of renewing the library will increase the desire of all to read and become more useful in Sunday School work. Give this your careful attention.

THE many friends of Mr. Lancelley, whose death in the prime of his vigorous manhood came as a shock and a great sorrow wherever he was known, will be glad to know that some of his most popular lectures, and two of his best sermons are to be published in book form at a popular price. His originality, wit and the striking way he had of presenting his thought, gave Mr. Lancelley wide popularity as preacher and lecturer.

In his introduction, Dr. Parker writes:—"In him we had found a character of great depth, and a mind of unusual brightness. . . . To be with Mr. Lancelley was like living on the banks of a flowing river clad on both sides with luxuriant foliage. . . . If there is such a thing as genial intuition, intuition inspired by humor, that was one of the highest qualities of the intellectual life of my brilliant and beloved friend."

THE chapters which make up this book were, all of them, originally delivered in a series of Saturday Morning Talks to a large audience of boys in the Y.M.C.A., of Cleveland, Ohio. "They were prepared," writes the author, "with that bright-faced, sparkling-eyed audience of live boys of from twelve to sixteen years of age in mind."
Dr. Banks' name is too well-known in Canada to need any word of commendation. We are delighted to have this, his newest book, issue through our presses. Here are some of the topics presented:—Vim—Push—Pluck—Stick-to-it—iveness—Fuss—Don't Brag—Don't Loaf—"Laugh and Grow Fat"—A Woodpecker at the Heart—Side-tracked—Obedience—Parasites—Politeness—Polish—The Fortress of the Heart—A Boy's Religion: Why? When? Where? How? There are in all 36 topics and 144 pages in this little volume, which every boy should be given the chance to read.
