Massey, Philadelphia, Pa.; for two years, Drs. A. D. Rockwell and Wm. J. Morton, New York; for one year, Drs. C. R. Dickson, Toronto, Ont., and F. Schavoir, Stamford, Conn. The next meeting will be at Washington, D.C., September 19th to 21st, 1899.

A resolution was passed urging colleges and medical schools to establish chairs on electro-therapeutics, or devote more time and attention to teaching this branch, and it was decided to call the attention of the Association of Medical Colleges to the necessity for such a step. The University of Buffalo was congratulated upon having a chair of electro-therapeutics in its medical department.

An excellent exhibition of electrical apparatus was held in the lecture-hall next the room of meeting, and proved a very attractive feature.

The arrangements throughout were of the best; no effort seemed to have been spared to ensure the comfort and enjoyment of members and their guests. The chief fault found with the programme of entertainment was that it was simply impossible to get through it all. There were tally-ho and trolley excursions, visits to Art Gallery and various historical and other interesting collections of different societies: visit to Buffalo R.R. power-house, whose storage batteries, the Mayor assured, were the largest in the world, and other visits innumerable: a public reception at the University of Buffalo, where some excellent addresses, and one especially humorous were heard; a smoker at the residence of Dr. Lucien Howe, to meet the Faculty of the University and the officers of various medical societies; and, to crown all, a most delightful excursion on the yacht Huntress down the Niagara River, with dinner at the Island Club, Grand Island, which brought to a close an exceedingly well-planned and well-carried-out meeting. The local arrangements were in charge of Dr. Ernest Wende, Commissioner of Public Health, Buffalo, who deserves great praise for the admirable manner in which everything was managed. Three most hearty cheers were given for him as the members stepped off the yacht and bade him good bye on Thursday evening before leaving for Niagaara Falls, N.Y., where Friday was spent in sight-seeing under the direction of the president, the complete tour being made by the electric roads on both sides of the river, the wonderful power-house visited, and the Maid of the Mist for a farewell view of the Falls.
