"SWEET" EATERS

Way to Correct Children's Taste.

Sometimes children become wilful and refuse nourishing food, demanding sweets, candy, ice cream, etc., much to their detriment. It is a great help in such cases to have a food that is naturally sweet and attractive, and yet easily digested and high in the phosphates and body and brain-building elements. A case in Philadelphia will illustrate.

The daughter of Mrs. M. E. Searles, living at 1330 Mifflin St., was a delicate child from infancy and refused any food but sweets. She gradually got thinner and more fretful daily, finally she contracted whooping cough, which undermined her health to such an extent that her attending physicians agreed that her cough had developed into bronchial catarrh, and that only a short time would ensue before consumption would relieve her sufferings.

This was owing to her lack of vitality because of improper food.

In despair, the child's aunt was sent for, and knowing the wonderful nutritive value and peculiar sweet taste of Grape-Nuts food, she prepared some and induced the little one to eat it. At the first taste she said: "Oh, auntie, this is so nice I want some more." From that time the child acquired an appetite and began to improve. She was fed on Grape-Nuts steadily until now, she is a perfectly healthy, and is attending the Girls' Grammar School, strong child, bright and apt pupil.
