

year, when the Treasurer will submit his accounts, when the annual subscription of members will be decided on, and when the office-bearers and Committee shall be elected, the form of such election, whether by nomination or by ballot will be decided by the majority of those present.

V.—The President shall preside at all meetings; when it shall be his duty to enforce the By Laws, and his privilege to give the casting vote in case of a tie. He shall have power to call, or request the Secretary to call, a General or Committee meeting, whenever it may seem to him expedient in the interest of the Club to do so.

VI.—The Vice President in the absence of the President, shall perform, and in him shall be vested all the powers of the President.

VII.—Over any meeting, from which both the President and Vice-President shall be absent, the members present may elect one of their number to preside.

VIII —The Secretary shall write in detail an account of the proceedings at every meeting to which he shall obtain the signature of the Chairman, he shall keep a record of all correspondence passing through his hands, and of all actions of whatsoever nature instituted by or at the instigation of the Club ; he shall from time to time issue such notices for the gathering together of members as he may see fit, or which he may be directed by the