Sir George Ross was the son of th nes Ross, who, with his wif Ellen McKinnon, both natives of Ross shire, Scotland, came to Canada 1832. Sir George was born near Naim. County Middlesex. Ont. in 1841, and received his early education in the received his early education in the public schools. After receiving a firstclass county board certificate empower-ing him to teach, he took a course at Presbyterian Conference, held that the Normal School, Toronto, and left year in Glasgow, it with a first-class provincial certificate. At a later period he matriculated in law at Albert University, graduated LL.B., 1883, and was called

School Inspector. In 1871 he was appointed inspector of public schools for the County of Lambton and acted subsequently in a similar capacity for the Towns of Petrolea and Strathroy. When the establishment of additional normal schools was agitated in Ontario he took a leading part in the creation of the county model school system. After their organization he prepared a syllabus of lectures for their direction and filled the position of inspector. From 1876 to 1880 he was a member of the central committee of examin-ers. He steadily contended for the uniformity of text books and favored the limiting of normal schools to pro-fessional work. A Liberal in politics, he was elected in that interest to the house of commons for West Middlesex at the general election in 1872, and at the general election if that continued the representative of that riding at Ottawa up to November, 1883, when he entered the administration of Sir Oliver Mowat in Ontario as minis-ter of education. This office he retained under the late Hon. A. S. Hardy, and was also a member for West Middiesex in the legislature. He devoted some years to journalistic work, being at one time editor of The Strathroy Age, and at another time part proprietor of The Huron Expositor. He was also the conductor of The Ontario Teacher, a publication which proved of great service to educationists in all parts of the province.

Allied, With Prohibitionists. years he was prominently identified with the temperance cause. He was elected most worthy patriarch of the Sons of Temperance of North America in 1879: founded the Indiana in 1879: founded th ance Colonization Company in 1882; atterded the British and Colonial I amperance Congress, held in London in 1856; was elected president of the Temperance & General Life Assurance Co., 1885, and was elected a vice-president of the Ontario Prohibition Alliance in 1896. Supported Reciprocity As a legislator and administrator, his record was one of no little activity. In 1882 he introduced a resolution in the house of commons asking for the opening of negotiations for reciprocity in rade between Canada and the United States, which resolution subsequently gave rise to a Liberal campaign in favor of reciprocity. In 1885 he introduced a bill in the Ontario Legislature provid-ing for the consolidation of the Public Schools Act, the Separate Schools Act and the act respecting Mechanics' In-stitutes. In 1887 he introduced a bill authorizing the federation of the Uniof the denominational colleges with that institution. He was also responsible for placing upon the statute book are act respecting truency and compulsory attendance at school.

Was a Writer. He also enjoyed a reputation as a writer. In conjunction with Mr. Wm. Buckingham, be wrote in 1892 a biography of the Hon.
