

RETURN OF UNION CABINET URGED

Canadian Manufacturers' Association Sends Out Important Circular.

CANADA MUST CARRY ON

Employers Are Asked to Give Advice to Workers to Support Government.

A circular to the members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has been sent out today by S. E. Parsons, president, and G. M. Murray, secretary. The statement is as follows:

"Upon the eve of the most momentous decision which the people of Canada have ever been called upon to make, and before the sun rises upon the fateful day which must witness the deliberated choice of the divergent courses that lie before them, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association feels impelled to express to its membership, in all parts of the Dominion, the views it holds upon the duty of the hour.

"At its annual meeting held in Winnipeg last June, the association, without a single dissenting voice, pledged the support of its members for any measure of conservation which the prime minister, with his more intimate knowledge of the needs of the situation, might see fit to introduce, firmly believing that the voluntary system could no longer be depended upon to furnish the reinforcements requisite to maintain the fighting strength of Canada's overseas forces.

"By having parliament pass the Military Service Act, the prime minister has clearly earned the association's active support. For it now to withhold that support would be to make a solemn pledge and to bring down dishonor upon its own head.

"As a logical sequence to the action at Winnipeg, the executive council, at its September meeting held in Toronto, warmly commended the prime minister upon the announcement of his determination to form a Union government, in order that the provisions of the Military Service Act might better be carried out, supplementing this commendation, the full support of the association was again definitely promised.

"At a later meeting of the executive council, held in Montreal in October, after union government had been successfully established, the congratulatory statement of the association was extended to the prime minister coupled with renewed assurances of loyalty and support.

"By these acts, which leave no room for argument, the association is unambiguously pledged to assist the cause of union government in the execution of its mission.

"The association has always striven to maintain itself as a non-partisan organization, its conscientious task being to champion the cause of the Canadian people in any way deserving their attention, and its traditional policy, for the union government, the only being a just and equitable one, is a happy result of this policy. From both political parties, the association has received and will continue to receive the same friendly regard, and it is its duty to maintain this impartial attitude in the future.

"Canada as a nation must carry on. Our enemies at the front, by their magnificent courage, their splendid sacrifices, have won for themselves and for Canada, the admiration of the whole world. To let at this stage in our support of them, to incur even the risk of delaying that support, would be to incur a reputation for which they have paid with their lives blood, to prove ourselves false to the empire and to our allies, and to cover ourselves with disgrace. The enforcement of military service will preserve our national honor and enable us to look our fellow-men in the face, a return to voluntary service, which long since ceased to yield adequate reinforcements, can only be attended by results too shameful to contemplate.

"But apart from such motives of honor and loyalty, which naturally must have our first consideration, there rests upon us a heavy responsibility as employers of labor. The present prosperity of Canada is in a large measure due to war business which Great Britain and her allies have been glad to place with us because of the effective military support we have given them. The foundation for a continuance of that business has just been laid by the success we have made of the Victory Loan. Were Canada now to defeat Union government, and abandon military service, her chance of securing in such business would surely be impaired, just how seriously none of us can tell. One thing we do know, and that is that the United States, upon whom we have already been

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular saters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poisons, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

unintentionally but severely handicapped in the way of export restrictions, could hardly be blamed were she to tighten her embargo against a country that had ceased to be an effective ally. The industrial consequences by which such action might be followed in Canada make it very clear that our duty to those, who, as working people, are dependent upon us, as well as our duty to our soldiers in France, alike impel us to put forth every effort to insure the return of the Union government.

"The executive council of the association therefore appeals to members from the Atlantic to the Pacific to lose no time in bringing their working staffs together, and placing before them in the strongest possible manner the reason why Unionist candidates should be supported."

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

Maudie Adams. In the feelings regarding the engagement of Maudie Adams in Sir James Matthew Barrie's new play, "A Kiss for Cinderella," at the Princess Theatre, opening on Monday night, pleasure and curiosity commingle. The pleasure, or a good part of it, will come from seeing an actress who is always charming in the most new role opportunity has given her in several seasons. Of the play, one is known: London hailed it as a delight and it is now running in the English provinces. In the hands of its American interpreter it ran all last winter in New York to the evident pleasure of those who witnessed it.

"Good gracious, Annabelle!" "Good gracious, Annabelle!" which is announced for presentation at the Lyric, commencing Monday night, day evening, is an occasional dance comedy success recommended by the fact that it enjoyed a long and immensely popular engagement in New York, Chicago and Boston last season. It was hailed as quite an extraordinary entertainment, marked by rare wit and humor, by being one of the part of a high-class cast, and by setting that delighted the eye.

"Lila Time" at the Grand. "Lila Time" the stage story by Jane Cowi, which when produced in New York at the Republic Theatre, was acclaimed "the sweetest play ever written," will be presented for the first time in Toronto at the Grand Opera House next week, with a great cast, headed by the talented Miss actress, Aileen French. The scenes of "Lila Time" are laid in a village just beyond the fringe line somewhere in France, but it is not a war play, but a beautiful love story dealing with the wooing of a charming French girl by Philip Blythe, an officer of the British army.

At Shea's Next Week. "La Roy, Tama and Bosco. Known in vaudeville as 'Slaves of Mystery,' will headline the bill at Shea's Theatre next week in new and strange feats of magic and illusion. George McKay and Otis Ardine have a new offering which they call "All in Fun." "Two Lightning Bugs" is the title of the offering which serves to introduce O'Neal and Walmsey. Bert McLean keeps his audience alternately roaring with laughter and gasping with amazement. Stewart Downing and Company present an artistic offering which they call "Models de Luxe." Morris and Campbell have some bright, laugh-provoking material.

HALIFAX TO-DAY!
and remember that 146
British ships have been sunk "without a trace."

"Lend us a hand, Mate!"

We are deep-sea sailor folk. We are the men who sail and fight His Majesty's battleships. We are the men who go down to the sea in merchant ships. We combat storm-wave-icefog—shipwreck and submarine, that the Empire may not receive its death blow on the High Seas. We do this for little wage. We do it without a thought of our own safety. Nor can we provide for our loved ones if the hungry sea swallow us or a whining shell blast us into the Beyond—and there is none else to look after them.

Help the man who never quits— To-day, Sailors' Day

Time and time again the British and Canadian Sailor is torpedoed but we find him hurrying to ship anew as soon as he reaches Port. The German submarine drowns or shells him when it can—for the German knows that his arch foe, the British Sailor, will beat him in the end.

Dust under the Teuton heel would the Empire be to-day but for the British Navy. And how could our boys at the front be fed and munitioned but for that dauntless, unsung, underpaid, hard-driven hero—the merchant sailor.

You have many demands on you, we know, but the Navy League of Canada asks you to help the sailor, Sailors' Day, December 8th.

Loew's Theatre.

Norma Talmadge in "The Secret of the Storm Country" will be the feature photodrama at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden the coming week. The story is a sequel to "Tras of the Storm Country." The "Phun Friends," a company of eight clever singers and dancers, in "Sens in a Telephone Exchange" will head the vaudeville offerings with Friend and Downing in a joyful mixture of melody and laughter as the added attraction. The Ishikawa Japs and Ross Berry, a dainty comedienne, will offer features out of the ordinary. Other big features and comedy films will complete the bill.

The Hippodrome. Mrs. Vernon Castle, heralded as "the best dressed woman in America," will headline the bill at the Hippodrome next week in one of the most intensely interesting murder stories that has ever been screened, when she will play the leading role in the Pathé picture, "The Mark of Cain." La Rue, the funniest girl in vaudeville, will head the vaudeville bill in the bright little musical comedy, "The Art Studio." Manning, Peasey and Knott smart singing comedians, have some new songs and stories, while Edwin Lynch and Company have an amusing comedy playlet, Cook and Rothert, Libondi, a violinist, and the Flying Geers, daring aerialists, complete the bill.

Gaiety.

With a galaxy of prominent mirth-provokers, a large feminine and masculine chorus and a production which in beauty and splendor cannot be surpassed, "Hello America!" Joe Hurtig's mammoth patriotic musical attraction, comes to the Gaiety. Lewis and Dolly, two comedians of undisputed prominence, have been entrusted with the enacting of the stellar male roles, while Primrose Semon, the delectful of all comedienne, leads the little brigade of feminine laughmakers.

"The Auction Block." Today is the last day to see the picture-play of Rex Beach's famous story, "The Auction Block," in which Ruby De Renier stars, at the Regent Theatre. Next week there will be presented a story of love interest, full of tense dramatic situations, "The Co-respondent," and Elaine Hammerstein will be the central figure.

Gwladys Jones, the Welsh soprano soloist, will be the assisting artist.

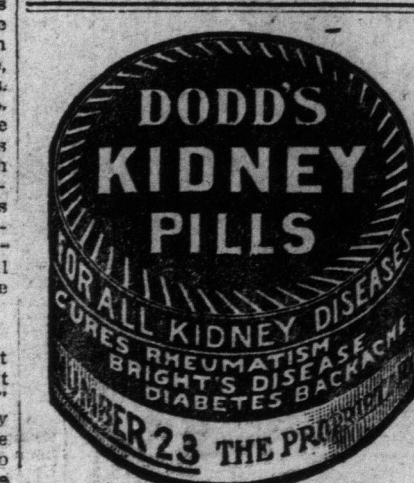

The performance of Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" at the Allen Theatre Saturday afternoon and evening will be the final showings of this popular film. Next week Marjorie Clark will be seen in "Rab's Burglar," which is the second Sub-Job story of Mary Roberts Rinehart to appear at the Allen Theatre.

Pauline Frederick at Strand. A famous story, a famous actress and a magnificent production combine to render "The Hungry Heart," with Pauline Frederick in the leading role, a tremendous and triumphant success. Action, humor, pathos, human nature all are there. In addition, there is one of the "eternal triangle" situations which the gifted actress handles with her noted delicacy and assured success. The climax is as unexpected as it is delightful, and the photoplay provides an ideal vehicle for the beautiful Pauline. "The Hungry Heart" will be the feature at the Strand Theatre for the first half of next week.

Fairbanks at Madison. A great attraction will be offered at the Madison the first half of next week in "The Habit of Happiness," with Douglas Fairbanks, the sunny and athletic screen favorite, in the part of a young man who wants to cure everybody with a "crouch." He is very successful in the case of a millionaire with a beautiful daughter.

"Jack and the Beanstalk." For the week preceding Christmas the Grand Opera House will present for the first time in Toronto the William Fox film production of the famous fairy tale, "Jack and the Beanstalk." This magnificent screen spectacle will be presented twice daily, and appeals not only to the kiddies of tender years, but to the children of the fifties and the sixties.
