

the sum of two thousand five hundred and we want to find out where the seven thousand five hundred is. The people of the band are having a hard time, so please tell me Ditchburns to give this band the money, which he promised to pay for the surrender, we are in bad need of it. Today. Our agent today, Mr. Graham came to distribute our stumpage money on May at the sum of twenty hundred which they paid at 22 per cent and we want to find out the rest which is 55 per cent is missing yet. Maybe you don't know what Ditchburns is doing with the band's money: so kindly look into the matter. We want to get this money as soon as we can. Our good new agent Mr. Graham told us it's a long time before we get the money but only Ditchburns is checking him and also Thomas O'Connell he is also checking our agent. So kindly our Superintendent and warn these two people.
